Meta Arts - t(Witches). Pole Shift (5/2008), Speculator Slices....

As the modelspace is progressed forward, impelled by our assigned numeric values, there occasionally appear clusters of contextually related phrases/words which are spread across entities or among entities, yet do not have the cohesiveness of a meta data layer which is the same aspect/attribute set found in all the entities. In the case of these contextually related phrases, their importance, even existence may be due to the underlying shift within the populace at large within very broad areas that are not so easily described. We think that we have such a situation developing now. In many ways similar to the change of social context a few years back in which the 'illegal alien' context suddenly erupted within the broader social context of the populace of the USofA, the data now seems to be suggesting that yet another, wide social context may be changing. If we are interpreting modelspace correctly.

In the case of the 'illegal alien' movement, this was clearly orchestrated to provide the emotional energy levels where the politicians and media could do as they were told, that is, change the context to 'comprehensive immigration reform'. This effort to alter the context from [illegal alien] over to [amnesty] failed. It did so as the engineering on the part of the TPTB was inadequate to breach the level of emotional resistance found widely dispersed throughout the populace in general. Further issues of the very beginnings of the economic problems starting to squeeze the populace, and the state of the TPTB wars in Afghanistan, and Iraq had also added emotional obstacles which were too much for TPTB emotional engineering to overcome.

The new social context that we are seeing may be a spontaneous occurrence. We are labeling this cloud of contextually related words/phrases the [symbology] context. The [symbology] context in the aggregate relates to the area of the [study and use of symbols]. It appears at this early stage that a generalized interest in the many facets of [symbology] will begin to sweep across the planetary populace over these next 2/two years with increasing momentum until it seemingly will integrate as a general society wide endeavor. The data indicates that the [symbology movement/trend] will be very expansive ranging from formalized study of mind control techniques using symbols/language, all the way over to [reality programming (magic)] using symbology to affect the quanta level manifestations. The whole of the [symbology] trend among the general global populace will cause TPTB some consternation and some [constipation] as they will be unable to [digest] the [competition] in the realm of [magic/effective symbology]. Currently the [reigning masters] in [magic] the TPTB will soon be [buffeted] or [blown about] by the radical [winds of changes] as the [populace] as a whole starts to [intrude] on their [domain].

Here at HPH we have labeled the [illuminati/TPTB] sub set of [sorcerers/magicians] as the t(Witches). The [witches] part is probably self-explanatory, the 't' and the parentheses are to be taken as a unit, in the sense of an mathematical [function] descriptor, which is also very close in nature to the predicate calculus forms used in prolog programming. The 't' then provides the [function filter description] which is to be applied to the word within the parentheses, in this case [witches] which in context is the label of someone who [actively practices magic]. The meaning of the 't' is 'tetrahedral constant' or 19.5 (actually nearer 19.47...but we round up). And so the t(Witches) are those who practice the [magic of the hyperdimensional physics].

So the movement of modelspace over the next 2/two years seems to be suggesting that the t(witches) will start to suffer some competition overload from the [populace] mucking about in what used to be their private preserve, reality shifting via [advanced symbology]. As the meme is moved forward with modelspace over 2009, it goes through several maturation phases, and in particular the shifting [symbolology] use of late Summer suggests that thereafter [advertising] as we know it will be a [failing industry]. There are little in the way of clues as to why this will happen. There are some number of cross links back over to the SpaceGoatFarts entity and the [light emitters/photon controllers] sub set, but this provides little to augment the interpretation.

According to the reluctantly released information now emerging from the closed American space science community, there has been yet another [pole shift] in our solar system in May of this year. This occurrence perhaps is the [marker] for May 2008 that we had in our SpaceGoatFarts entity all through 2006 and 2007. As reported in an interesting article in Pravda

Mysterious phenomena take place on one of its largest moons, Europa, too. Its ice-heavy poles shifted 90 degrees and changed their places with the equator in May of the current year.

This information is reported elsewhere, and is also linked with recent [pole shifts] on Uranus, where the apparent swing has been 98/ninety-eight degrees. Both of these events, as well as other expressions of change within the planetary structures are the result of the alignment, continuing apace, of the hyperdimensional geometry with its counter part in our 3/three dimensional world. We can expect this trend to continue as well as to be amplified at all levels, including the microscopic as the solar system continues our destined meeting with GC (galactic central) at 11:11, December 21, 2012.

We are dropping the Speculator slices component of these reports after this series. No point to continuing. The metamorphosis of the 'global economy' has begun, and that part that is represented by [speculation] and the ['investors'] and [paper currencies] is very-soon-to-be a relic of the past, and our goal here at HPH has always been to focus on the future. See Markets entity discussion below.

GlobalPop - October Release, Untangling, 13/Thirteen Days, Approach

The shifting of GlobalPop through modelspace into our forecast October release language shift, has brought up many references to [russia] and to the area of the [middle caucas mountains]. There are aspect/attribute sets which begin to accrue in November, around the end of the first third of the month, so on or about the 10th, which are headed by [obstacles] and [difficulties]. Both of these aspect/attribute sets are supported by detail layers going to the idea of [russia] also [participating/suffering] within the [pan planetary occupancies]. These [planetary/global troubles] have a large level of support coming from cross links originating in the Terra entity. These [difficulties] are showing up as causing [problems] for the [leadership] of the [country] as they attempt to [cope/respond] to the manifesting [crises]. Many of these linguistic sets participate in the [secrets revealed] meta data layer, and further there are indications that as part of their [response] to the [manifesting circumstances] of November, the [russian leadership] will [prompt] or [promote] a [dispersal of information]. This [dispersal] of [knowledge] over the Winter will cause TPTB many sleepless nights.

Our data sets indicate that the [georgia invasion/situation] will continue to be [active] through to October, but thereafter will be considered [resolved]. Likely this will include the [regime] change sought by Putin as we have emotive tension indicators that the [russians] will be satisfied with the outcome even if the other players in what the British monarchs call the 'great game' are not.

The [revolution] aspect/attribute set within the GlobalPop entity, which is the largest of the participating sub sets for the [revolution] aspect as a meta data layer, has some new supporting values which *may* be indicating that the rise of [planetary populace movement] and the subsequent [9/nine years of strife] may not be actual [war], but rather might be better interpreted as [struggles/over coming obstacles]. The data sets accruing to this supporting sub set are indicating that the [revolution] will happen at a [shocking] and [freezing] fast pace. The aspect set of [freezing] gets support from ThePowersThatBe entity who will be [frozen] by the [swiftness] of the [planetary revolution]. The data sets *could* be indicating that the process is of a [rapid revolution] which is then followed by [9/nine years of work/struggle/effort] to [undo/remove the layers of influence/lies/control]. This [untangling] or [de-weaving] of [generations] of [lies] and [control structures] would seemingly take years to accomplish. The data sets suggest that it takes over [2/two years] just to digitize all the [hidden records] and release these to the [planetary populace movement]. It could easily take another 7/seven years to just get over the main hurdles to rewriting history. The [revolution] sub set within the GlobalPop entity has the [shocking] aspect set going specifically to the idea of a [revolution] which is [so rapid] and so [planetary] in [scope] as to [freeze] the [illuminati/TPTB] in their tracks. Actually the idea is even more complex as it suggests that there is a large scale [abandonment] of TPTB by the [minion class]. This is further supported by the other layers of aspect/attribute support in which the [ravines] of [fear] within the [power structures] are shown to be [lighted] and the response is of a [13/thirteen days] of [unburdening/confessing/exposing] in which [minions] of the TPTB will attempt to 'come clean' about what they know. These [13/thirteen days] are shown as the proximate cause for the nearly [instant success] of the [revolution] a mere [20/twenty days] later when the [action(s) of the planetary populace movement] begins. This area starts to appear within modelspace in 2009 though it doesn't solidify into the [revolution] sub set until early in 2011.

The data sets within GlobalPop seem to be indicating that at least part of the [unraveling] starts with the [chemtrails] issue. The data sets are pointing toward May 2009, as being a period in which an [approach (of a) chemtrail plane] somehow triggers the [tokens of authority] to be placed into [risky positions]. These are then further supported by aspect/attribute sets going to [warning], and [calamity]. These last are heavily cross linked over to the Press entity, as well as to the ThePowersThatBe entity where they are terminating in the [sacred geometry/hyperdimensional physics] sub set *and* where the supporting sets are going to [exposure]. All of these sets in both entities are participating within the still growing [secrets revealed] meta data layer. The idea suggested by the cross links is that [on landing], a [chemtrail plane] will be involved in a very public [approach] such that [revealed knowledge] can no longer be [denied]. There are also supporting aspect/attribute suggesting that part of the [no longer be denied] area will be directly supported by a [mass poisoning] with [dire] though not necessarily [fatal] consequences as the [payloads] of the [chemtrail plane] is [dispelled on approach]. This area also shows that the [poisoning] will be [stomach] and [respiratory] related, and will cause a *huge* [outcry] with actual [battles/fistfights] between [on looking public] and the [restraining minions/security forces]. The descriptors for this set *may be* describing the [poisoning] of the [people] via the vehicle of [poisoning] of a [lake] which is [in line/on-the-path] of the [approach]. In any case, there are also descriptors going to the [public] and its [capturing] of the [incident] on [video] and the [dispersal] of the [video] globally.

The whole of the [chemtrails exposures] social meme is part of a larger sub set which supports the idea of [popular] and [populace] [awakenings]. There are geographic references for the [dutch] and the [Scandinavian] countries which are indicating a *huge*, and increasingly [official] stance on the 2012 meme. The detail layers of the supporting aspect/attribute sets indicate that the [social order] in these areas will be making very large changes with the intended and stated goals of [preparation] for [potentials] and [possibilities]. As these countries increasingly devote their portions of the [global media stream] to the [2012 meme], it can be expected that other parts of the global populace will also be affected. The data supports this, though it shows that 2/two large nations will resist the 2012 meme, as will [religious control organizations].

Populace/USofA - Crowning Confusion, The *New* Bullshit, Bad Shrimp. Twins (again)

Granted that our data sets are forecasting a shift into release language on or about October 7, 2008, and that the sudden and steep shift in the emotional tension sums could be masking all kinds of chaos, we nonetheless are noting that the [elections] sub set within the Populace/USofA entity is not producing any dominant aspect/attributes at this time. The overall impression from the Populace/USofA entity is that of [chaos/indecision/unknowns/realignments/new alliances] and other language going to the idea that perhaps, as in the year 2000, the [election] cycle does not end as expected. Our data would seem to suggest that there will be as much [uncertainty], and [chaos] around the [process of the voting] as there was in 2000. Much of the [chaos] language is external to the [voting process], and may be indicating that some external factors will intrude on the [elections] thus producing the language and levels of emotional release that we see dominating modelspace until about February 19, 2009. Part of the compelling nature of modelspace over the period of October 7th through to mid February is that this time is without any relief in the level of the release language. Such a progression has not been seen before in our modeling.

The [elections] sub sets are always linguistically 'too hot' for much in the way of interpretation from our modeling technique. Since the emotions around elections are always so consistently elevated, there is no gray area from which to derive the subtle shifts upon which we rely for nuance'd forecasts. However, the data sets within the [elections] sub set are totally compliant with the rest of modelspace in the sudden, and steep shift into release language. So a possible interpretation is that the [election] is *not* settled until late in February 2009. While this seems unlikely, we have a continuing dominance of the [elections] sub set by [misfortune]. There are many supporting sets which include [jaws (still) wagging/excessive speech] that continue through to the end of February, 2009. Further there are supporting aspect/attributes including [relationships (turned) upside down], and [eradication], and [glaring], and [adornments]. This last is filled with [masonic imagery], and likely represents the [achievement of the adornment of power (presidential)]. There are repeated instances of [danger] as an aspect/attribute set, and these include supporting aspects of [increased], [alternates], and curiously a 'cautious' aspect/attribute set which specifically advises to [be aware of what (one/self) eats and drinks]. Hmmmm. Now that don't sound good.

As the modelspace is progressed through late Winter and into March of 2009, the accretion patterns suggest that [transformation] will be well underway within the social order of the USofA. The [new new deal] will be highly [visible] as the [political elite] try to [talk] their way out of the staggering array of problems besetting the country. The [transformation] of the [economy] will have begun with yet another round of [dissolution] of the [employment base]. It is not appropriate to label this period as [lay-offs], or even [firings], as the social situation is sooooo much worse that a mere economic downturn that the [stirrings] of the [populace] are just starting to be seen as the [flooding] eases in the [west] and begins to relocate [eastward]. The primary impetus of the Fall/Winter release language period will be abating, but the secondary effects will just be starting in the form of [dramatic social change]. This will include [employment] patterns. The issue for the interpretation is that the data suggests that widespread [shifting] of the [work force] as the [nature/core] of work starts to exhibit very big changes. As an instance, the data suggests that March of 2009 will produce a rising [visibility] about the [death of financials/markets]. Note that this language is speaking to the idea of a [financial 'industry'] in which some people made their living selling [financial abstractions/instruments]. This whole 'industry' of the [selling] of [paper debt] instruments is going away. The data suggests that the crash of the [dollar] and the [paper debt] instrument based 'economy' will very [rapidly] dissolve. This will affect [banks] en masse. These are shown to be [fragile] as the [degradation] of the [system] as a whole is at the root of the problems.

The accrual patterns showing up in modelspace for Spring through Summer of 2009 indicate that large segments of the [populace] will become [unemployed]. The [unemployment] problem will become *the* demon driving the [politician class] from late May 2009, through 2010. The Populace/USofA entity is indicating that the [populace] will not take [idleness] easily, and [rioting] and other signs of [social distress] will occur. The cross links over to the Terra entity indicate that the [intrusions] of [extreme weather/climate circumstances] will also contribute their aggravation to the total emotional energy coming out of the [populace] and mostly focused on the [political elite]. Within our [social change] sub sets we note that [resource gatherers] such as [fishermen], and [harvesters] of a number of different types of 'products' coming from the [planetary biosphere] will also be [unemployed] as their various [resource livelihoods] have [vanished] or [suffered ecologic collapses].

The supporting sub set of the [collapsing fisheries] has been in modelspace for at least 3/three years, and now is indicating that the [visibility] will increase as the [lack of bioresources] causes ripples through the social order in 2009. The data sets are pointing toward [restaurants] and [corporations] which will be [without] their [signatures] as those first to [close/abandon business]. At least 3/three situations involving very large, even [national] levels of [food supplies tainted] will come up about this time. The data indicates that [2/two] of these *may* be [feints] being [used] by TPTB for their own ends, but 1/one of the 3/three will be very scary for all involved...and will not only increase the [diaspora] pressures, but this incident will actually [involve] some [celebrities]. The level of [celebrity] suggests some of the [east coast establishment] types, *likely* to be members of the Council on/for Foreign Relations (CFR). This will cause some real problems as the [fear] of [deliberate poisoning] will surface among the [victims], *and* further the TPTB will *not* be able to determine if it is an [internal power play/grab] via [attempted assassination] with [cover] being provided by a [general incident], or if [luck ran out/precautions failed].

The Populace/USofA entity continues to grow value sets for [rapid], and [sudden] events which, given the cross links to the Terra entity, will involve the [physical/geophysical] USofA in [trauma(s)] and [destruction] and [isolation] from late September though to the very end of March, 2009. In previous ALTA reports of this year, the data sets have indicated that the USofA would be getting [twinned/doubled] disasters. The interpretation for this probably did not go far enough as it continues to grow in the Populace/USofA entity. The [twinning] aspect suggests that when we get [1/one disaster] another will also be occurring. It suggests that such things as [wildfires] will be [twin] occurrences, as well as [storms]. These appear to be temporally proximate to each other, in other words, 2/two storms causing problems at once. Same with [fires], and other [burning] issues. However, the [twin] component is a bit sneakier than we first realized. It also seems to pertain to a deeper meaning of [double]. This includes [twin] earthquakes which will *not* be temporally proximate. The data sets also provide such linguistics as [risk] which is [twinned] and at its primary support layer are [cores] that will be at [twinned] risk. This can be interpreted as a [nuclear plant] whose [core] is placed at [risk] by [twinned] problems such as perhaps both a storm and an earthquake. Or it could also be interpreted as 2/two separate [nuclear plant(s)] which are separately placed at [risk] by [twinned] disasters which are not temporally proximate. While there are *always* some level of indicator for a 'terrorist' attack, especially where the [officialdom] sub set is concerned, the data seems to suggest that Terra intrusions will be the larger of the problems for the period from autumnal to vernal equinox.

The rising linguistic base for the Populace/USofA for all of 2009 derives its base support from the aspect of [poverty], with supporting sets for [girding], [shortages], [rationing], [withdrawals], [restrictions], [loss (of) source], and other language all going to the idea that from Spring of 2009, *THE* linguistic set defining the public mood is based on [deprivation/lack/shortage]. The whole of the set including the supporting sets go to the idea of the Fall/Winter problems, both [economic] and [terra intrusion] have [crushed] any idea of the word 'normal' out of the [populace mind set]. The data suggests that a [dawning new reality] which we have been forecasting under the label of the [transformation] will be well settled in by Spring in at least 2/3 (two-thirds) of the [populace]. The rest will be along later. The whole of the area, as it is progressed to the far end of its effective range shows that this mood of [deprivation/shortage] will prevail for years. It, the mood, will be very very bad for the [political class] in the USofA. Data sets in support of [revolution] in the sense of [politically focused social actions] start to accrue dramatically in late Summer of 2009. Part of the problem for [officialdom] is that the aspects suggest that they are [dupes] and that their own [propaganda system] will be used against them to spread the [first word/initial call] for [national strikes/days of action] against the [ThePowersThatBe]. This [call for action] will send [tremors] down the [backs of the TPTB] and [shit down their pants]. The idea coming across is that a new form of [punishment] which will be proposed in which [generational guilt] will be proposed such that any member of a family convicted of *any* crime while in any form of [officialdom] would cause *all* of their relatives to be forever [banned] from working at any level within [officialdom]. The whole idea of [bloodline transmission of power] will be placed at risk.

Markets - Dollar Trippin', Summer of Hell, Doubled!!#$!, Rot

The Markets entity is growing the aspect/attribute sets in support of [turmoil] and [disaster] with directly held aspect/attribute sets which indicate that the [disaster] which is to befall the [populace/USofA] that concerns this entity will be entirely [economic]. The data sets include supporting sets for [abrupt] and [departure], and [turmoil], and yet again...more supporting layers under [loss of THE currency]. This last has been growing consistently for a number of ALTA series, and continues to almost insist on being interpreted as [loss of THE currency], rather than the [loss of money], or [loss of currency]. The idea coming across clearly is that the [basic social contracts around the USofA dollar] are [disrupted] globally.

The supporting sets under [turmoil] which are also supporting [officialdom] are grouping around a [meltdown] and a [departure]. The [meltdown] will affect the [Federal Reserve Cabal], and the [departure] will affect the [USofA treasury, et al]. The [departure] sub set does *not* indicate any [resignations], but rather is supported such that the complete interpretation is a [departure from reality]. The supporting sets also include a number of cross links over to the [chaos] which will be [prevalent] in the [political] arena which include aspects/attributes for [disruption] and [disorder], and many explicit sets for [disaster]. This last is the result of the [compounding] or [magnifying] of the [disaster] by the [acts/response] of [officialdom].

The [dual/twinned disasters] of the [autumnal equinox] for the Markets entity are indicated to [drive] the [movement] for [reform] which begins to take hold in [Winter] and is seriously accelerated in Spring of 2009, such that by May, the [political class] is also in [turmoil] over the [attacks] on their [institutions] by the [raging populace]. This data set accrues to the Markets entity following the [retirement system] problems of late Winter 2009, in which the [retirement system/monetary support] for the [populace] is also in [turmoil] due to the [autumnal equinox] events. The [summer of hell] economically will beset the USofA, and its [client states] with a [turmoil] and [disruption] not yet seen in a 'global markets system'. The data sets are gaining support from aspect/attribute sets such as [great/giant/colossal] and [contraction] as mutually supporting sets. These are *both* direct primary support for [currency] and [money supply], as well as [credit system], and [debt structures]. The whole of the area gains support from [re-order] and [recalibrating], and [reconstruction] as newly acquired sub sets which have a direct time reference within the [duration] value sets that extends from the [summer of hell /2009] out through....you guessed it...2012. Late September of 2012 to be precise. It will be in the Summer of Hell that the term, [bush bust] will rise to [visibility]. This [label] for the [new depression] will be both apt and deserved. The data sets are indicating that the [secrets revealed] meta data layer is going to be staggering in its [impact] on the [heart of the populace] as the [roll] of [hidden secrets] about the [bushistas] comes out.

The data sets indicating that the [fraud] word will make a huge, Enron-like splash beginning this [november] {ed note: most likely later in the month} as the [lack] of [auditable resources] {ed note: probably gold/silver} will cause the [crash of confidence] in the [abstraction layer businesses (hedge funds/etfs/sivs)]. The data sets are suggesting that on or around September 23, 2008 we will have the first of the major jumps in [visibility] around this subject. This will not be the denouement of the problems, but will provide us with evidence of the coming [shit storm] which the data describes as [gutting/disemboweling] the whole of the [once-removed abstraction market] for [commodities]. This will eventually lead to the [auditing] of many of the larger [holding companies] for [safe storage], and ultimately to the [exposure] of the [central bank] as the [looter] of the [populace/usofa] when the [resistance to audit] is finally over come and Ft. Knox, and Annapolis storage facilities are examined. Much of our data points to this occurrence deep in the midst of the [second american revolution] which begins in earnest late next Summer.

Please note that we are standing by our call of the [doubling] of the *emotional demand* for silver/gold. We have demonstrable evidence in the form of the linguistics from MSM as well as Indymedia referencing the [double] aspect word in many articles about the 'purchasing' of silver/gold. The articles agree with anecdotal evidence of a [doubling] of 'business' year-over-year for the [silver dealers]. We note with irony that while the [price] does *NOT* reflect it, the [demand/desire] *has* more than [doubled] for silver/gold. In that vein we have to report that there is *no* bullion silver available to purchase in all of our county here in Western WA state. In fact, to purchase silver locally, it must come from a major retailer of PM's from Seattle, *and* the delivery time is *estimated* to be 3/three weeks. This particular sales point had 9/nine telephone order takers at the beginning of last August, and today they employ 35/thirty-five in that capacity. So in spite of the falling price, we stick with our projection of yet 2/two more instances of the [doubling of demand]. At some point, probably following the September 15th through 23rd break down in [abstraction layers] within the [markets] and *just* as other issues are surfacing, the [price] changes within the commodities as a whole will begin to seriously accelerate. HOWEVER, please note....it is out opinion, based on our data sets, that soon the risks of being [caught out] as events begin to also accelerate will increase to near certainty for large numbers of speculators. By [caught out] we mean that 'ownership' of either the [paper abstraction], or the [federal reserve notes] will be [at risk (of) non delivery/unobtainable].

The [degradation] of the [markets] into a non functional mass of [putrefying flesh] will be multiply faceted, and very complex. At its core the [markets] are both [corrupt] *and* [unsustainable]. The fundamental flaw is the [growth uber alles, auf immer und ewig]. The linear expression that is the [growth forever] model of [paper abstraction] markets ultimately runs into the [cyclic nature of universe] and implodes into its own, now [rotten core]. We are apparently at such a time period. While we have no candidate yet for the [proximate cause] or [trigger] for the implosion, we can be reasonably assured that this Fall starts off the process. Further we can also be reasonably assured, given both the nature of mass communications, and the nature of how deep-the-rot, that the implosion will be a very short process. While there likely *will* be very long, drawn out, politician-involved, [after math], the actual implosion is indicated to be very short in duration. In fact, [shocking] in how rapidly it [all disintegrates]. While we have no specific date for the inception of the [exposure of the rot], we continue to gain large amounts of emotional value sums around the [loss of the currency], and the largest bulge in the accretion patterns begins on or about October 24 through the 28th. There is yet a larger, though more diverse, accretion pattern for [negative] emotion related [economics] which hits the Markets entity on November 25th. This wave continues through to at least the end of February, 2009. It is this last wave which is the largest contributor to the [secrets revealed] meta data layer.

Conclusion: ALTA 509 - Part Six - Last report of this series:- Woo-Woo SciFi, Found Object Arts, Igor's conundrum

Apparently the [Roswell Rock] was not the *only* thing found in September of 2004. Our previous SpaceGoatFarts entity discussion about the [light emitters] must now include the recent accruals of data indicating that at least some of these [light emitters] are already in the [learning hands] of their [human activators]. The implications are that at least several [years] have already past since the first of the [findings/locatings] of these [devices]. The data sets accruing to the SpaceGoatFarts entity are suggesting that our [light emitters] is a very bad interpretation of the actual linguistics around these pending occupancies. The newly arrived SpaceGoatFarts data sets are pointing toward [coherers] as a 'better', or more meaningful (no, not now, but to the 'us' in the future when these light emitters appear) interpretation. The idea coming across from SpaceGoatFarts is that a whole [group] or [set] of these [somethings-unknown-name-here] will be or have been 'found'. Further the descriptors are that these [found objects] will be [used/employed] to create the [havoc/change/newness in universe] that seems to cause such [fear] in the very very very high levels of ThePowersThatBe.

Either the persons who use these [found objects], or the [found objects] themselves will be labeled by the [global media stream] as the [light emitters]. The data now points to the actual mechanism involved as being a [cohering (of the) fluctuations/flux (of the) vacuum] which causes all the problems. The SpaceGoatFarts entity has repeated references to such things as [dark energy] and [transformation into light] and other [light] specific focus sets that all would seem to be indicating that the [devices] were 'meant' to be [found], and further, were [meant/intended] to cause *just* the effect that will emerge. Yes, in some very strange ways, these [hand held devices] may just be analogs to the [giant monolith] in the 2001 book/movie by A. Clark. Or, they could be interpreted as [amplifiers] of [native/in born] ability. In either case, the [coherers], or [those who do the cohering of space/time] are being forecast as being a real [royal pain in the ass] actually. That is, these [lower class/caste] members of the [humans] are being forecast as [causing/inducing] actual [pain] in the upper echelon of the TPTB. Now of course we note the ambiguity of language and that [induce] could be interpreted in the [non local effect/quantum physics] meaning that the [coherers] actually [cause pain] in the [bodies of the royals]. Either way, metaphorically causing pain to the systems of control, or actual pain, the [coherers] will be the [source of the stink/bad smell] which begins to [hang to the skin] of the [ruling elite].

Along the woo-woo science fiction thread, it is interesting to note that we have not got a clue as to the actual nature of the [light emitter amplifier devices], and only have a small set describing them relative to the sets which describe their impact. Soooo... since it is likely alien technology, it **could** be that such things as the Roswell Rock **are** the devices.....who's to say that universe is not going to provide the [light emitters/amplifiers] as just really really smart rocks. Might want to start having a quick look around....

While Igor is certainly paranoid natively, and is damn good at it....and while the ultimate expression of paranoia in these particular days leads to fears about **anything** post 2012, which is to say, life, universe, and everything, I have to point out to him 1/one essential bit of wisdom gleaned from over half a century of kicking about here on terra. This is that universe **favors** humans. We are a really screwed up bunch of primates with huge amounts of problems, and very poorly trained minds. Hell, some humans are hard pressed to demonstrate any mind at all, and we as a group choose these people as our 'leaders'. Does not say much for our collective smarts. This inescapable fact of the hugely stupid nature of humans just screams out that universe favors us as any other explanation for our continued 'success' as a species misses the central point. Collectively we act as though we have not the intelligence of a muffin.

Left to ourselves, what would we be? We will **never** know as we, as a species, have **NEVER** been 'left to ourselves'. Even now the TPTB and their alien masters are screwing around with humans at all levels from the cellular up through the planetary social matrix. It doesn't feel good, does it?

But, in spite of the continual intrusion into human maturation and collective karma by these outside influences, we are still here. Sort of progressing apace with our destiny. So my advice to Igor as we sit and contemplate the future over peach pie with vanilla ice cream, is to *not* chew his mustache off in frustration and paranoia. The deeper I travel down the rabbit hole of our current consensus reality, the more I am struck by the core thought, 'universe favors humans'. We are valuable. It is obvious that we are valuable to others, including TPTB, and the aliens messing about with our DNA. What is less obvious is that a creeping trend of [personal self worth] is spreading across the planet. Some of the expressions of this [self worth] will be seemingly contradictory in that they will show up as a [willingness to sacrifice (even unto death)] for other humans, but nonetheless the core of the meme is [personal self worth as a human]. Other layers of abstraction as [national] or [religious] identity do not intrude on our data sets clarity that it is [being human], or the [human experience] which is at the core of the [value]. We matter. To universe. Powerful responsibility, being a central part of creation. Best that we, as individuals, get serious about the responsibility. The key thing is that a whole species is changed one individual at a time. So, starting with Igor, I remind him that he is a member of a species that the universe itself favors.

Pretty cool, eh?

This is the last report in the ALTA 509 series. We will have the last of the speculator slices posted by late on Sunday, August 17th. With luck we will have the whole of the ALTA 509 series available to be downloaded as a PDF file by sometime on the 18th. At that time we will likely have the button available for signing up for the next ALTA series which we are labeling as ALTA 709 (Summer of Transformation).
