Meta Data - Merde, et merde encore!

However [strange] and [bizarre] the [climate] will express over [spring], the message that we are getting, and repeatedly, from the accretion patterns of the supporting sets across all of modelspace is that Spring, in spite of [merde/shit] being all over, will be peaceful and calming compared to the [collectively bad summer], and [miserable fall]. Sooo the idea is that [spring], such as it is, should be considered as the [time to absorb] those [energies] on a personal level that will sustain you through [summer and fall].

As we examine the data accretion patterns across all of modelspace, watching the whole of the movements through the rest of 2009, it becomes clear that each of the seasons will bring its own flavor to the [transformation] meta data layer. A meta data layer is a linguistic structure composed of a descriptor/label for a context and the supporting sets which is found in all the entities across the entire system, thus the [meta] appellation to these particular data elements. Being [above/meta] the modelspace, these [meta data layers] can be considered almost as [universe dipping sauces] in which the events of the times are dunked, thus providing a generally dominating 'flavor' over all the diverse activities of omnihumanity.

As modelspace is progressed over [spring], and through the [bad summer], the dominant level of support for the [bad/emotionally negative] sub sets is split into various small sub themes from diverse entities. In other words the [bad] component of [summer] within the data sets derives support from a range that includes the Terra entity, sub sets [oceans and waters (of all kinds)]; and the Populace/USofA entity, sub sets [social breakdown], [food crises], [economic crises], et al; and GlobalPop, sub set [economic crises], [political crises], et al; and Press entity, sub set [whistleblowers], [breakdown of controlling forces]; and TPTB entity, sub set [fear (based) control (dissolution)], [intercine strife], [unknown (energies) from space]; SpaceGoatFarts entity, [unknown energies from space], [2/two loose cannons (problems) (our 2/two 'liberators' of space alien technology)], [solar disease], [solunious (impact on humans)]; and other minor entities and sub sets. However, by the time that modelspace reaches into Fall/2009, and specifically after crossing yet another emotional event horizon on October 26th, the problems sets rapidly coalesce around [loss of currencies], and the resulting [war/(threats of war)]. Yes, the rest of it all is still boiling up in universe stew, but these are the primary chunks that will gain the focus of interest from the planetary (and off-world?) populace.

GlobalPop - Tactics, Strategic Withdrawal, PAC

As the Summer of [mad crowds/uprising] shifts into a more [active] phase, the accretion patterns suggest that [duality] will dominate the TPTB and their approach to the [reporting] of the [many gatherings]. The data would seem to suggest that a stream of [protest = terrorist] will be tried, but also that sometime in early July, beginning in [France], and then going to [Britain], and the [USofA], a [turning point] will be crossed in which the [populace] will [turn against/disbelieve] the [press reports]. This will emerge as a sub set of the breakdown of [cognitive dissonance] as the [people] will start to [participate] in [local activities/events] which then get [twisted] by the [national/international press] and thus slowly the [breakdown spreads]. From the TPTB perspective, the [challenge to authoritarian press] begins in earnest in mid July as the first in a series of [attacks] and [beatings] of [press persons] especially focusing on [teevee personalities] and their [crews]. The imagery includes [tumbled over satellite trucks] and [assaults] which leave the [face people of teevee] in a state of [dishevelment] and [cut and bleeding] in a very [visible] manner. At this point the accretion patterns suggest that TPTB will [recognize] the situation, and alter their [tactics], though the [strategy] of [disenfranchisement], and [separation (from) support], and the move for [discrediting] will continue.

So, for a while, the [officialdom running dog press lackeys] will be instructed to [go silent] on the developing [active stage of rebellion]. But, of course, the state of things these days merely shifts the volume of [reporting] over to the [internet] and the [various free news sources]. This will be an interesting time, as the data suggests that several [courageous individuals] will emerge, from late July onward through early 2010, as [trusted] and [global] sources for [news (in their) region]. These new [trusted sources] will themselves be [under attack], at various different levels by TPTB and [officialdom minions], however the data sets accrue in patterns around [self protection social groups] who will employ [massed video] and [hidden video] to such good effect as to [cause/trip up] a number of [officialdom minions]. We note that the forecast for these individuals is NOT good. The data sets indicate that the label of [courageous] is justified as many will [die] in their attempts to [speak truth (to the) masses].

The TPTB will present their [press minions] with a rather difficult group of choices in that the [ability to not see] the [turmoil] will rapidly diminish, and this is indicated to increase the [cartoon/contrived perception] of the [manufactured news]. As this [summer] merges into [fall] the [new sources] data sets start to [grow] with support rising from [desperation] and [frustration] at the primary level, and [repression] and [oppression] at the secondary level. Hmmmm...probably not a good combination, at least for [local officialdom], and [minions of TPTB]. Kind of like a [pepperoni pizza pig out with pints when past forty]....a whole lot of [burping] of the [indigestible] will be occurring, and as the data suggests, it will hit the TPTB, very [late at night]. The imagery is pointing toward a [night filming] by a major {ed note: likely native english speaker} [video presenter] who will be [accidentally] presenting the [strife] {ed note: in the background?} of [local political/economic unrest]. The data suggests that the 'victim' of this [response to oppression] will provide a whole new meaning (here in the usofa) to the phrase [political action committee].

Populace/USofA - Turvy World

The projections or forecasts that the data provide are based on the arrival of the individual aspect/attribute sets, and then their (if any) subsequent growth over time. The timing issues are many, diverse, and mind numbing, but basically are all taken from the point (in time) at which the data elements emerge from processing. Necessarily therefore, if we were to delay processing, we would be adding to the time projections of any given forecasts. Thus the need for continuous processing of the data sets which feed modelspace. HOWEVER, please note that from the time of 'capture' of a data archetype from the net, it can take up to 18/eighteen days to reach through processing, or longer, given the ratio of immediacy to shorter term to longer term values. Thus there is an in-built error in our timing of at least 18/eighteen days. The interpretation software is aware of this and takes this into account when placing the arriving data elements, and hopefully this compensates in our forecasting. So far, it would seem, mostly this is the case.

There is another side of this inherent delay problem, and that is that very large sets of interlinked data may not be processed together, and thus any supporting sets not yet processed, due to time and computer limitations, may arrive later, and then have to be factored in and fitted into modelspace. This is the situation at hand.

In Part Five the Populace/USofA entity presents [war] as the dominating theme from early November through toabout end of February. Well, with this most recent processing, these data sets have grown consistently, and now the [war/war impacts] theme within the Populace/USofA entity stretches out through to the end of October, 2010. The 'peak' of activity within modelspace is still from early November through late January, but it is quite clear the [ramifications/impacts/effects] of the [war] will [pressure] the [populace] through to the end of [october/2010]. That's when things start to get really strange.

Again we note that twin [disasters] (of dollar collapse and war) will be [quoted/said] by the [running dog press lackeys (of the fascistic capitalists/illuminatists)] to 'befall' the [populace/usofa] in that the [cracking of the american dollar hegemony globally] will also be accompanied by [extreme (social/economic) stress] in [allies]. This will [strain] the already [tense line of support] for [usofa bilderberger government policies] and is indicated to [involve] the [empire of anglo/american corporations] in a [war]. That the actual nature of the [war] is anything but a happenstance and is directly tied to the [dollar death] will not be mentioned by the [press], but nonetheless, the [populace] is also indicated to [crack] over the [war] issues as [tens of millions] decide they don't [believe the bullshit (from officialdom)] and just [wont participate]. The first of the [general strikes] and [mass protests] within the [usofa] are indicated to coincide with similar [demonstrations] through out [europe] and [asia].

As the [war] sub set increases rapidly from very early November (approximately the 5th) onward, large supporting set of [restrictions], and [defeats (in battles)], as well as [bombings], and [crushing defeats] begin to accumulate such that as modelspace is progressed past the end of December, and into 2010, the [war] theme is dominated by [grief] at the [national/empire] level. Thereafter as the [war] sub set progresses through 2010 it becomes dominated by the aspect/attribute set of [ineffectual] with it having supporting sets of [weak], and [constrained], and [incapable]. These are supporting sets describing the [participation] of the [american gov't] in the [war] process.

The data sets describing the [populace] and its [participation] in the [war] are much more diverse, and the spread is quite deep at all the levels investigated. There are several larger themes present within the diversity of expressions arising about the [war] theme and [personal] as well as [national] emotional response. These include [loss], in large levels, and producing both a [national] emotional response, as well as [individual] emotional response. Other supporting aspect/attributes include [grief], [anger], [rage], [despair], [hopelessness], and [confusion].

At the [national] level, the [propaganda machine] is indicated to be out in full force, with a [spewing of shit] that will begin in late October with intensity, and continue through to nearly March before waning as the [masters] of the [voices] realize that it is becoming [counter productive] as each new [spew episode] starts to [incite mob response]. Within the [propaganda] in the early phases, we can expect the [running dog press lackeys] to be [sour] by the [very visible/very apparent] turn of events as the [dollar death] causes a [cautious] approach from the [officialdom] instead of the ['patriot fever'] and [wholehearted/complete commitment] of [resources] (desired by [israel]). The [tepid] nature of the [official response] is indicated to [cause fits] in [visible] ways within the [stooges] of the [masters/bilderbergers] who are [public faces]. Note that at least [1/one heart attack/fatal episode] will be [attributed/blamed] on this ['weak sister'] movement by the [usofa officialdom (non bilderberger level/civil service?)] in response to [israeli demands].

Of course the [impetus] for the [war] meme is the [resources crash] and the [dollar death] which pressures nearly 2/3rds of the [planetary populace] with [starvation]. The 'seeds' for the problem having already been sown over the last decades, are indicated to [germinate] over this [spring], and [mature] into [summer]. The [germination] process is already underway, and will include an excursion into [duality] when it comes to the [dying dollar] and the [systems], [social] and [financial] which it supports. The [dollar death] brings out a [push at resurrection/resuscitation] over [spring] {ed note: witnessing this now}, which does not [reinvigorate] or [give new life] to the [dollar], but merely [postpones] the [next crisis]. The [pressures] of the [dollar death] globally will continue to manifest in [strange fashions] as the various [financial systems] come under increasing [escalation of coagulation]. The [coagulation] sub set has been showing up for a number of years around the [dollar death] meme, and as we are seeing play out in emerging circumstances, the [dollar/financial systems] are indeed in a process not of explosion, nor any hard crash, but rather are slowly, agonizingly [falling back in upon themselves] or [being drained from within] such that the [visible] problems are [coagulating] around a smaller, though more dense mass as the [banking (and other financial systems based on paper dollar debt)] grind themselves (and us) into ruin.

It was always 'in the cards'. NO paper money system has ever existed on this planet longer than 72/seventy two years (without major corruption and re capitalization through war/pillage- and even then that only extends things about 2/two decades (depending on the amount of gold looted)) except for the [usofa federal reserve cabal dollar]. And this only due to its being put into the position of the [global reserve currency] by [military] pressures and then maintained there past its useful lifespan by intense, once-a-generation bombing campaigns as a 'demonstration' by the [anglo american bilderberger empire]. Left to its own natural cycle, the argument can be made that the [dollar/usfoa] should have died in Nixon's time when we went totally off the gold standard. Usually it takes 10/ten years past the point of initial debasement of an empiric currency before it collapses. That would have placed the natural life space of the dollar into the 80's, and as it began in 1913, it would likely have reached its allotted 72/seventy two year life. However, the superior, though at great cost to the populace, military machine of the USofA/Bilderberger Empire has been able to force life-extension into the [dollar], maintaining a decreasing viability so that the [death] is coming slowly by millimeters, as opposed a sudden stroke resulting in global loss of confidence. As emotional attachment by humans is the only real thing about paper currency/debt abstractions, the loss of [confidence] is what kills a currency. The process of this loss of confidence in the [usofa empire] and its [currency] has been manifesting over these last decades of forced life, and now is manifesting by the [rejection by all] that will result in the [repudiation] of [debt relationships]. The data sets are accruing in patterns suggesting that the [last gasp of confidence] in the [american empire], which is what the [paper dollar/debt abstraction] is really based upon, will [erode] rapidly in late [summer] and early [fall]. This [erosion] will come as a result of [failures] by the [empire] at many [different] levels, including the [inability to audit/discover (fiscal) reality], and the [inability (to) restore (confidence/debt taking ability)], and the [inability (to) affect resource allocation]. This last is supported by aspect/attribute sets including [drought], and [floods], and [storms], and in each of these a large amount of the emotional values derive from [disappointment], and [unfulfilled expectations], and these are centered on the [government/usofa]. This aspect/attribute set in its turn is cross linked extensively, both internally to the Populace/USofA entity, and to the GlobalPop entity, where many of the termination points are within the [death of a paradigm/end (of the) american dream] sub sets.

The Populace/USofA entity indicates that the [spring] will bring the [final/last] of the [ability] of the TPTB to [prop up/sustain] the [illusion] of [paper debt viability], and that likely just past mid July yet another [crisis] will develop. Again, the [suddenness] is indicated to [shock] the unaware, especially those who rely on [broadcast media] for their [news]. However, the [emergent crisis] of that time will be quite predictable, and will be bringing the [derivatives nightmare] to the fore front of everyone's attention over late [summer] and into [fall]. The data sets indicate that the [weather/climate] problems manifesting from [mid summer (about July 5th or so actually)] through October will exacerbate an already [pressured system] into [crumbling failure] over September. The [climate/weather] problems and their impact on the [shifting (of the) planetary paradigm] will further [erode confidence]. These aspect/attribute sets are cross linked over to the GlobalPop entity where termination is in sets indicating a [failure (of confidence) in institutions], as well as [failure (of belief/trust) in patriarchal view (of reality)]. It is this last that has the greatest emotional impact, as well as the longest duration value sets.

As the Populace/USofA entity is progressed through the [rising paper debt] problems of Summer, 2009, the accretion patterns continue to grow under the [success] of the [bogslife (Beyond Ordinary/Old Government Systems/Shit)] and SOC's communities. This [success], as has been discussed in ALTA series of the past year, will be [seized upon] by the [mass/broadcast media], and even though they are [propaganda agents] for TPTB, they will nonetheless, [seemingly unknowingly] promote the [opting out] of the [system(s)] as a way of [personal success/growth] simply because their current orders are being [whip enforced], and these are "to produce GOOD news"...primarily to allay the increase in bespoke [fear] among the sheeple. So the [ingenuity] and [progress] being made by those who are [outside the systems] will slowly, but with increasing mass, spread across the teevee world. Examples will include groups that [form/create themselves] amidst the [caravan/RV refugees], as well as [groups] who will be [featured] in the [propaganda/press] for their [reliance]. Noting with irony that several of the [group reliance] stories to be featured later in the year will include [bogslife/SOC's] who organize themselves to [acquire discarded/disused property]. The idea coming across is that [villages spring up] in the unlikeliest places as [bogslife/SOCS] end up obtaining [commercial real estate] which is then re-purposed to create [villages].

Much of the [success] stories sub set, especially later in July and onward will include [food success] as an underlying theme which will also go to [undermine] the [authorities] as the [national] and [international] control over [food distribution systems] comes under increasing [stressors] that begin to [break down] various components of the [international shipping of food supplies].

SpaceGoatFarts - Murfing

A rising aspect/attribute set within the primary support chain for the SpaceGoatFarts entity as a whole appears in late May. This aspect/attribute set is [increase] and is very broadly supported by much of the SpaceGoatFarts entity descriptor set. In other words, the data sets are implying that most of the descriptors within SpaceGoatFarts entity will be [increasing] both in [manifestation] and in [visibility] as the solar system moves through these next 6/six months. Much of the [increase] aspect/attribute set firms up over early June, and then rapidly grows from the June solstice onward. Taking the theme of the days, as the [increase] aspect grows in late June, it, like the [sun] seemingly stops movement. In the case of the [increase] aspect/attribute set, while it is nearly stationary as modelspace moves forward in time, the aspect/attribute set swells up due to very rapid grow and an very complex interweaving of cross links. The impression taken from the movements of the SpaceGoatFarts entity, and the newly rising [increase] aspect/attribute set is that the whole core descriptor set for SpaceGoatFarts will be very [visibly] increased over Summer. The idea is that from [ufo] sightings to [released (once denied officially)] materials, to [whistleblowers], the [waning days of summer] will see an [increase] in [visible] activity within the SpaceGoatFarts entity.

As has been discussed for over a year in the ALTA reports, there is an expectation from the data sets that a [whistleblowers/disgruntled former employee] will [emerge] from the [coagulation] of [officialdom] {ed note: [inability to pay gov't employees]} over [summer] with a very large [presence], and [much success] both in [money], and [publicity] at a global/planetary level. As this [personality] will emerge {ed note: universe directs all} at the [perfect time] in the [economic collapse] to provide a [seeming distraction] such that the TPTB are indicated to [allow], and even [promote] the [personality]. What they fail to realize is that while it serves their interests in the short term, the [crushing economic pressures] on [local (and) state] governments, as well as [lay-offs] within the [contractor corps] for the [military] will produce a [swollen lake] behind a very thin dam as the [legions] of [former (and soon to be former) government workers] who think they [know something] will take the [success] of the [Stellar/Star 'Witness'] personality/whistleblower as an example to be emulated. Then the damn dam breaks, and, from the point of view of TPTB, the damn [flood] begins.

A part of the [flood] indicated to be of some concern to TPTB {ed note: extensive cross links ending in bespoke [fear] sub set}, will be the [rising/growing] number of reports of [people], usually described as [ordinary], and [unenlightened/dense/obtuse (to) psychic/extra-sensory phenomena], who will [suddenly] and [shockingly] be [feeling/experiencing] new, and never before [felt/appreciated] [energy waves]. These [energy waves] are described by the data sets as being [hyper dimensional/ethereal], and yet as [producing physical responses] including many that will be taken as [symptoms] of [disease]. These might include [sudden], and [intense] sessions of [ringing/high pitched tones], or the [impression of gravity waves]. Some of the supporting sets for this last are painting pictures of [people] being [reduced/knocked down] by the [perception of the gravity wave]. A few of the more dramatic supporting sets indicate that [airplane travel] will be affected by [gravity wave sensations] over late 2009 and through 2010. The [perception] of the [waves of (gravity)] are a sub set of the [unknown energies from space] aspect/attribute set and are, within that set, cross linked over to symptoms descriptions including [reeling (in place)/unable to stand], and [collapsing knees]. The range of humans experiencing such problems is indicated to be of all ages, races, and both genders. The linguistics suggest that the perception of the [wave] will result in the [sensitives] learning to [mentally surf (murf)] as the [waves] roll over them. The importance of this within the SpaceGoatFarts entity appears to be as a precursor to a larger, expanding population of [people perceiving gravity/energy waves] to manifest over 2010, and 2011. These linguistic structures around the [murf] phenomenon are participatory within the very much larger structure of [surreal] that grows to dominance within the populace entities over the next 2/two years.

Terra - Blankets, Floats, Chemies

As the [surreal] label descends like a blanket across the planet, first in a gossamer/light fashion in the [sirius days] of [summer], and then with increasing weight as [fall chills] into [harsh winter], the Terra entity is forecasting its own level of participation and support within [surreal]. At first the [duality] will express as ['almost' normal days] with bespoke [almost] and [nearly] becoming very very common when applied to [weather]. The [almost normal days] will be [felt/experienced] as [relief] from the [strain] of the [shifting patterns] induced by [shifting winds], and [rivers (of) moisture] coming up from the [constantly warming oceans]. The complexity of the [new expression of weather] here on Terra will be very [difficult] to [experience] and then to [reintegrate] into the [past perception] of the [planet].

This is a strange context, and concept to occur within the Terra entity, but the idea of a [persons' place (in the) stable universe] will pass this [summer] and [fall] {ed note: in the main...it will take over a year for everyone to get it, after all billions of us out and about}, as the [undeniability] factor sets it. All of the influence from [terra/local space/solar system] will be participating in the [break down] of the [normal paradigm] shared in the past by humans here on earth. The [weather] forecast from the accretion patterns is that [oscillation] will [drive/propel] into [crazy behavior] {ed note: along with animals and insects, et al}, over the course of late Spring and Summer. By the time that [fall] is reached, the data sets predict that [undeniability] will be firmly rooted into about [1/3 (one third)] of the [planetary populace] as they will have [personally experienced] at least [1/one] bout of [daily disruption] due to [abnormal weather conditions]. Along with the [disease] component both in the [sun/solar system/planetary manifestations], and the [rampaging disease (in winter)] through the [populace], and in conjunction with the [currency loss], and [resource reallocation (globally)] over the latter half of 2009, the Terra entity will provide [shifting jet streams], [popping volcanoes], [shaking cities (and islands)], as well as [crumbling ices], and [disturbed oceans] as universe shoves [transformation], especially of [attitude] down [humanity's collective throat].

The Terra entity is presenting a pattern for accretion to concentrate on the [oceanic] parts of the planet over these next 15/fifteen or so months. Yes, there are still indications that awareness of [solar disease] will become a necessary part of life here on earth, but also that some level of general attention will now be focused on the long suffering [oceans]. Not only as a result of the [global coastal phenomena (set includes rising waters, abnormally large tidal surges, sudden coast changes, disappearing islands, new islands/lands, coastal current alterations, new wind patterns, excessive heat (in oceanic layer), oceanic populace die off, excessive water uptake into atmosphere, and other elements)], but also as a result of some [deep ocean] manifestations. The Terra entity gains a considerable, even 'eye catching' amount of support for the [deep ocean manifestation] over late 2009. This may be further examples of [new lands forming], though the data sets are not yet specific enough to suggest that such would be the only interpretation.

As had been forecast within this and previous ALTA series, the [chemtrails] issue has begun percolating up to the [visible] status, with [officialdom] permission over this [spring] with the Obama administration 'discussing' the 'possibility' of using 'atmospheric shielding' as a 'tool' against 'global warming'. As a reminder, the [chemtrails] forecast includes a period in late Summer where the [visibility] of the subject will be a whole lot higher, and where the [officialdom] will be [face to face] with a [climate crisis] that will bring up, at first probably only behind [closed doors], then much later out-and-about in the [press]. Again, the basic idea is that some [climate crisis] conjunct the [rapidly, and upwardly scaling economic global crisis] will produce the idea of [duality] about [continuing] the [chemtrails]. The idea is that the [chemtrails] as a subject will be [floated] as being [made manifest/announced] or [abandoned (as too expensive)]. The idea within the detail sets is that an idea proposed is that the [secrecy] is [excessively costly] and that the [program] might be able to be [continued] if the [expense of hiding it] were to be removed.

The data sets are providing continued support under the larger, primary aspect/attribute set for [chemtrails] which is [sun (hidden) from sight *(by earthly forces)]. In spite of the [officialdom] being [of the opinion/consensus] that [chemtrails] will/can 'work' for their [goals/ends], the accretion patterns suggest that the [program/chemtrails] will be [wounded (in the ability to) transport], and the [wounding (likely economic, though the war may intrude as well)] is indicated to [force] TPTB to [consider IF the chemtrails (can be used) further (in this situation)]. The accretion patterns are focusing this on mid to late August and beyond.

There are several other sets growing under the [volcanoes] sub set that are sliding into conjunction with the [chemtrails] set within the Terra entity. IF we assume that the rate of accretion spread continues as it has these last 2/two runs, then the probability exists that sometime near the vernal equinox of 2010, the [volcano activity] will have put enough [dust/ash] into the [atmosphere] as to affect both [jet planes] in general and perhaps even the [need/reason-for-existence] of the [chemtrails] themselves.

Modelspace continues to throw supporting sets within the conjunction between the Terra entity, sub set [sun/solar system], and the similar set within the SpaceGoatFarts entity. Within the conjunction, the [magnetics] aspect/attribute set is the fastest growing of the 'elemental forces' sub group. The [magnetics] sub set has a sibling relationship to [unknown energies from space]. Within the [magnetics] sub set, the primary supporting aspect/attribute set is [restrained/confined/suppressed], and this in its turn is supported by [sun/solar activities]. The idea coming across is that the [solar system] as a whole is still accelerating into what we are calling here at HPH the BIG SQUEEZE. This effect is showing within modelspace as many differing sets, related by common intersections, are converging on the idea of [unknown energies from space] and [magnetics of unimaginable consequence].

TPTB - Twitchy, Tied Up, Wounded

One (1/one) [handle (of) control] of the [vehicle (of) power] is indicated to [come off the control linkage] over 2009...at least from the perspective of ThePowersThatBe (TPTB) entity. This is a primary supporting layer to the [revolution] meta data layer within the TPTB entity. Remembering that meta data layers are the appearance of the same linguistic structure in most entities (over 80/eighty percent) in more or less the same set size and shape with more or less the same groups of supporting aspect/attribute sets, we note that the [revolution] meta data layer is 'active' across most of the entities later in 2009 and the TPTB entity is no exception.

The data sets are suggesting that the [power control handle] will be [unplugged] later in 2009, and while the [control mechanism] is being [broken (off)], the accretion patterns forecast that [psychosis (among the upper level) minions] will be [visible]. Then other [mechanisms (for) control] will be [implemented] and a small bit of the [psychosis] is indicated to [dampen down]...not to disappear, but merely [back off a bit]. The TPTB entity is showing that as the [bad weather] episodes of [summer] will begin the [breakdown of the control handle] in a [visible] way.

As the [tiger] 'face' of the TPTB is [exposed in a visible manner within global mediastream] by the [sudden/rapid, and shocking loss of large control mechanism], the accretion patterns also are providing details for several 'rabbits' who will also become [visible]. These 'rabbits' from the TPTB point of view may or probably represent [whistleblowers] in the main, though there is to be at least a single instance of an [escaped person]. This last descriptor set does not include [active incarceration], but rather something more akin to being [kidnapped] or [held hostage] by TPTB. This [personality] was/is involved directly in [covert] process, though it would seem more in the [analysis] rather than active side of things. In any event, the 'rabbits' are indicated to [cause fits] for the TPTB by [running chaotically] through [summer], and this really exacerbates the exposure of the [tiger/harsh/deadly] side of the TPTB.

The [running (of the annoying/dangerous) personalities] is indicated to involve the [visible] instance of the [breakdown] of an [officialdom vehicle] and the following of the [story] of the [vehicle pushers/rescuers] as they [prepare] to [go jump start (the broken down transport/vehicle)]. In a strange twist of universe displaying its version of 'meta data layers', the TPTB entity is indicating that they too are bound to [transformation] through these next few years, and that in their case, they will [apply] their [transformation] energies not to themselves, but rather to replacing their [failing control systems] to try to maintain their hold on power into the future. So TPTB are indicated to be very [visible] in their [transformation] of the [old systems (of control)] into [new methods].

While TPTB entity indicates that they are [understanding] of the [dangers] and [risks] of the various [systemic breakdowns] of the moment, they also seemingly must make some [adjustments] given the [visible] in global mediastream [loss of control]. As a result of the [immediacy pressures], once the [crisis of control] occurs, the TPTB entity is forecasting that the [powers that be] will be [leaving routine behind], and [working (without a) long term plan]. This new [reactive] form of TPTB out-and-about monkeying around will be [visible] to the [populace], but likely only the [aware observer] will be viewing the evidence of [power control loss] appropriately.

Of course, the TPTB has this [control procedures/handle loss] within the [revolution] meta data layer. The other major supporting sets for the [revolution] meta data layer within TPTB entity include aspect/attribute sets for [starting/beginning], and [no (universe) sanction], and [reformation (propaganda) efforts fail], and [no blame (for) starting revolution]. These are all tied back over to the GlobalPop and Populace/USfoA entity where the termination areas are mostly within the [revolution] linguistics in those entities. The [revolution], from the perspective of the TPTB, becomes a [function] of the [management] of the various [crises] in play at this time. While trying to [react] to the [revolution] becoming [active] as though it was just a management issue, the data accretion patterns suggest that a [gap] will emerge from which will arise a new [self adapting, self organizing social order]. An out growth of the SOC's, this is, from the [populace] point of view, the [emergence of the planetary populace movement], and, mostly a [natural process]. However, the TPTB will view this as the [eruption] that they have [feared] becoming [manifest] in front of their [slightly disbelieving eyes]. Please note that the inclusion of any human body parts or processes within the archetypes has always been meaningful. Again, there are repeated references to [eyes], and, rather cryptically, pointers to 'tactics' which will be coming from the [insurrectionists/revolutionaries].

As modelspace is progressed through 2009 the [revolution] meta data layer within TPTB entity has its primary emotional sum of [active] that progresses, over the rest of the year and into 2010, into [boiling]. The [international political caldron] is described as going from the current level of [agitated] over Summer into [active revolution] that then emotionally heats up to a [roiling/boiling caldron of turmoil] to flavor 2010.

Markets - Schism, Blindness

Now that the commercial real estate collapse has begun (as forecast in ALTA series in 2007), some of the more [visible] effects over the Summer will include [people] who will first [shelter] in [empty/bankrupt/abandoned] commercial buildings including [strip malls], and [malls], and [storage facilities]. As these [alternative living situations] gain more [visibility], especially within the USofA, they will be able to be used collectively as a long temporal marker for the next very big [downward] step in the [dollar]. This next step will begin in very late Summer, and proceed to grow over October such that the [devaluation], and [repudiation] of the [dollar] as a [means of international trading] will set off a ripple effect through the [derivatives markets], as well as the [commodities markets]. The first will bring a [crushing wave of deflation of 'assets'], while the latter will bring [hyperinflation (of) commodities prices]. PLEASE NOTE: this latter section about [hyper inflation] is very complex and covers from October 2009 all the way through to March of 2011 before being linguistically completely done in its growth patterns. AND as that is pretty much as far as what we laughingly call 'trustworthy' linguistics extends out into time-manifesting...so we may still yet be missing years more of [deflationary/hyperinflation].

The data sets continue to build in a number of entities for the [deflation] of the [dollar] but specifically a [massive deflation] as it is [withdrawn] from its status as [reserve global currency] over the course of late Summer and early Fall. The [great deflation] may still leave the [dollar] as the [currency] (more or less) of 'choice' within the [usofa borders], but it will significantly [deflate] what remains of the [global paper debt trading markets]. As modelspace is moved through into the November/December period, the [market trends] of mid Summer are [repeated] in an [echo fashion]. The real impact is shown as being [currency related] to [vital commodities] such as [foods] and [medicines]. There are indications that [gold/silver] especially in [coin] forms will have already created a [gray market] away from [prying officialdom], though this appears to be mostly because [officialdom] is just too damn busy with [general systemic failures] to be able to [pursue] their interests in [precious metals accumulations]. The data sets are indicating that the [schism] of [summer] in which the [massive paper debts] become [unhinged] from any form of [reality], and the [metals] are [set loose] from their [paper debt] attachments will [grow over Fall] with very [visible] consequences in [international trade].

At this point, that is to say, November/December, the data sets are indicating that the [duality] of [separated] and [competing] systems will become apparent to more of the [populace], and the [transformative shift] will begin as [tens of millions] are indicated to [follow the trail blazers (socs/bogslife folks)]. As [winter (2009/2010)] sets in, the data indicates that [new industries], and [new connections] begin to form as a [new global economy (ideas/creativity based)] firms up and becomes 'slightly' more [visible]. Again, most of the [populace] will NOT be aware enough to either catch the trends as they emerge, nor to grasp the profundity/gravitas of what is emerging. This will also apply to some of TPTB and to most of the [officialdom/minion classes]. They will just fail to grasp the obvious.

Conclusion: ALTA 1309 - Part Six (last report of series):- Privilege, Saddle Up!

A unique privilege is knowing several years in advance of what is likely to happen, and (close to) when. It sharpens the thinking remarkably, and sooooo much crapola accumulated in life just falls off the shoulders.

This is the last report in the ALTA 1309 series, and this series is the last in our work in this form. We have come to the conclusion that the pressures of production relate to racing against time in processing the immediacy value sets. This pressure and our delivery formats have produced the maintenance both of code and hardware situation that we have faced these last couple of years. Soooo...our approach, given the number of subscribers who are beating us about the head to keep going, is to pretty much dump the immediacy value processing, and instead to produce a longer range report with a 3/three to 6/six month floor for the forecast and to extend that forecast out over the length of the longer term value sets, or about 19/nineteen months out. With this approach, the format for delivery can be after the complete processing of the complete data sweep. Further, as that is the case, we eliminate much of the issues of circuitous references back to our own words. Last, we will then be able to deliver the total interpretation in an ebook form, thus eliminating all the subscription maintenance and cracking issues. Sooo..sounds like a plan to us...especially Igor as he waves good bye on his way out the door and down to sunny California to tend to extended family business.

The lexicon and the server garden (too small to be called a 'server farm'), both need maintenance, and Igor needs his time off, so the first ALTA report in the new format will likely not be available for some months, but we will keep you informed as the schedule progresses.

It has been a unique privilege to have been able to continue this work for these last 12/twelve years, and now we anticipate a much deserved vacation (working, of course), before resuming later with the new, much less pressured format. A large motivator for this is the nature of the times. Please consider that tempus be fugit(ing) really damn fast, and conditions are clearly accelerating into a set of situations that most of us will label as 'not good'. Therefore it makes a whole lot of sense to take precious time for ourselves, to re-create ourselves, and to re-emerge, re-invigorated for the challenges that will be emerging later this Summer and over these remaining few years. And we also need to remember that our stars are in alignments now, and through to later in 2010 in positions which support efforts to escape past patterns and to [transform] or [refine] our true natures.

We part for a while with the traditional Mongolian greeting of Zaaaa....which as a sound is more meaningful to describe the feeling of earth when living on the wind swept plains of central asia, but also as a sound it captures the heart of the 'communicative sigh' that humans employ to provide emotions to contexts when words do not really fit.

Feeling the cold winds blowing down from the mountain heights of universe as we each stand on our particular patch of planet earth, we all can know the truth that the Mongolian horsemen have known as long as the hooves have struck out across the cold dirt,

"one either rides out to meet their destiny, or they are consumed by the stampede of fate".

Zaaaaaaa.
