Introduction to the 509 ALTA report series - Carry Overs

For the past 5/five years our work has yielded a single aspect/attribute set which appeared within more entities, more often than any other, single context group. These aspect/attributes provided the individual words which we took as the descriptive label for the year in question. A few of the labels for past, current, and future years are provided such that they may provide a quick encapsulation of the emotional tone of the year. Please note these labels are chosen from the aggregate of all the languages being gathered, and the summation values, and are not necessarily Anglo centric, though they are being expressed here in english.

2006 - Pivotal

2007 - Emergence

2008 - Manifestation

2009 - Transformation

Note that the 'tone' of the year naming changes in 2008, as this is the last of the years of 'externally focused' names which is to say that 2009 marks the first of a series of year descriptors which will be focused on the 'internal human condition' as it relates to the 'external world'. So in the years prior to 2009, we had [external forces] dominating as linguistic descriptors, whereas from 2009 onward the descriptors favor [duality] in that the labels will be describing not only the manifesting circumstances within external reality, but also the [internal conditions] for both [individual humans] and [omnihumanity]. To totally belabor the point, in 2009 not only will the on-the-ground manifestations such as [weather/climate] and [earth changes] be [transformative], but they will also induce [transformation] within [humans] as [individuals], and within [omnihumanity]. The [transformations] within [omnihumanity] will also be at multiple levels, not only in [social relationships], but also in such seemingly diverse areas as [religions], and [economics], and [core social structures]. Further ripples of the changes within the [transformation] meme are pointing to such things as the [beginning of the death of celebrity (as a cultural imperative of the western hegemony)], as well as the [loss of road dominance]. This last is pointing toward a new paradigm within much of the western world where the [preeminence of individuality] currently most obviously displayed as 6000/six thousand pound SUVs are used to move single individuals. The data sets we have been gathering for several years have been frequently pointing to the emergence of what we have labeled as SOC's, or 'self organizing collectives'. The concept of [banding together], and the [reconfiguration of villages] will begin to dominate the [social restructuring] meme which will very *rapidly* over take the western or anglo-american empire countries in the first 2/two months of 2009. The very rapid shift of [social consciousness] will occur as a direct result of the circumstances manifesting in the last quarter of 2008. While there are interlinked areas to the current political shifts within the USofA, our processing has long pointed toward a developing trend which is larger than the political process, and is even larger than the current social/personal addiction to [money/currency] as THE way of [placing value] on [everything in life].

ALTA reports of several years ago began to paint a picture of our current year as the [year of manifestation] in which core components of life such as the [dollar, usofa] would be [removed] as a practical consideration for future year. This is to say that our work for these last several years has pointed toward 2009 as the year in which the [manifestations] of circumstance/events would set the planetary populace up for the [process of transformation] which *begins* in 2009. Please note that our longer term values from the last several runs have maintained aspect/attribute growth supporting the idea that [life as we know it] will be [altered forever] by the events of 2008, and it will be several years thereafter, beginning in very early 2009, in which humans will [process through] their personal and collective transformation].

While always maintaining awareness that our work has an in-built bias toward concentrating the extremes of language, we nonetheless determinedly plow ahead with our assertion that the concept of [transformation] will be *the* key for advanced understanding of 2009 and beyond. Think of [transformation] as being applied to [everything all at once] and you begin to get the idea. The [pace] of both [life] and [change] will seemingly accelerate as 2008 begins to [plunge] into 2009. Our work uses a lunar calendar based year, and so is much more focused on such archetypical way-points as the equinox and solstice repetitions twice annually. Thus within our modelspace the concepts affecting 2009 are actually showing up near the December solstice, rather than in January as we expected. As our work is based on set theory and complexity studies, it has a fuzzy edge. This is further reinforced by our use of prolog as our form of implementing the set analysis via predicate calculus. The fuzzy set edge shows within the scatter graphs of modelspace as the first of the aspect/attributes start to glom onto the various previously existing sub sets from the many entities. In this sense, our modelspace replicates how the universe seems to manifest events in time, both as cumulative growth of memes, as well as sudden bursts of associated memes seeming to appear out of nowhere, or conversely stated, appearing clustered and very abruptly within current time. This view of time within modelspace has provided for some seemingly prescient interpretations of the past. We think that another such very distinct, separate moment of 'maximum change' is pending for this Fall, and we currently have it appearing within our modelspace as beginning on October 7th, between 7 and 7:12 am UTC (universal time coordinates). We have chosen to represent the 'point' in time at which the change manifests as "7:10" for a variety of reasons.

Meta Data - Coming Forward, Cursed Tribes, Spinning It

The largest single instance of 'release language' within the current trend line of a general building tension language period *had* been shown to occur on or around July 8th in the ALTA 209 series. This episode of [release language] happened within the processing of the newest immediacy values, moved forward to July 3rd. This language set shows a nearly 24/twenty four hour instance of 'release language', and then a return to the general trend line of 'building emotional tensions' which continues out through October 6th, whereupon it shifts precipitously over to an uninterrupted 'release language' trend which the data shows continues unabated for the following 4/four months. Note that this section above will be sent out via email as it will occur prior to the posting of this Part Zero of the ALTA 509 series.

Our data sets have jumped considerably relative to the now July 3rd release step. The accretion patterns have placed the most data behind the following aspect/attribute sets: [packing house/meat processing], [fumigation], [post office/mailings/communications], [legal matters/legal status], [health resources], [social security], [temperatures (sub set [frozen])], and [fish/fisheries/food sources from oceans]. In all of these areas the summations and the temporal clues are pointing toward the expression of 'release (of emotions) language' around these central themes. As the anticipated date for this release language step has come forward to such an immediate timeframe, will not be possible to examine the detail level supporting aspect/attribute sets for further clues as to the 'what' and the 'why' of the release language.

expressions. So we are left with the headlines version of the core components the release language.

Note that this upcoming 'release language day' of July 3rd through the end of July 4th is a very tiny example of what portends for the planetary populace beginning in October. The effect this Fall is hundreds of times more in summation values, and is centered around the terrible triumvirate of [military] [economics], and [climate/terra stability].

Also note that the period of July 5th through the 21st is indicated to be extremely [central] or [pivotal] for the Republicans and the McCain campaign for dictator of the USofABilderberger. It is within this period that the data from ALTA 209 had suggested that 'health issues' may surface for McCain such that the [campaign] itself would be affected. These 'health issues' are also indicated to [return/reappear] with a vengeance in mid November and onward.

There is mounting 'chatter' within the conscious stream of conversations/blogging going to the effect that in 'late summer' or 'early fall' tl Israeli's, with USofABilderberger assistance, will attack Iran with an aerial bombing campaign. Let us reiterate a point which we have been finding in the ALTA series for over a year now...that is that the [israeli government/ruler/officialdom] would be fulfilling the forecast [israeli mistake should Iran be attacked].

The [israeli mistake] has been forecast as arising from [stupid] and [brutal] actions which will be [driven by fear]. This primal and bespoke [fear] is what sets about creating a self-actualizing situation for the Israeli people and their rulers. The data sets are quite clear that [several (things) will (go) disastrously wrong] in the [israeli attack] and the result will be that the [israeli's] will be a [cursed tribe] for [many generations]. The [incalculable horror/brutality] will commence with [poisoned winds] which are described as [blowing black/brown/dark death] for [days], and that other countries populations will be the [victims] of the [death rains] and [death winds]. Further the [global populace] will know that the [innocent deaths] in this [mass of pain] will be directly attributable to [Israeli arrogance]. Thereafter as [oil] spikes past [500/five hundred dollars] to a barrel, and the [planetary trade ocean routes close] due to the combination of [poisons] and [dying dollar] and [no energy], the [israeli officialdom] will start to become aware of the magnitude of their [mistake].

First effects for [israel] will be the [shock] at the [coordinated] and [extremely effective defense] which is indicated to [rake/scrape] the [attackers] from the sky. The second [shock] will be the [under estimated magnitude] of the [response] to the [attack]. This last will include a different sort of [rain] which will have the [israeli populace] so [shaken] as to [attack] their own [officialdom] and [military]. Then the tertiary effects of [water poisoning] and [commercial withering] will begin rising into [visibility]. The former is but a single instance of what will be described as the [hell years] as [daily attacks] mount into longer term cycles. Further problems will come from the near total abandonment of [all israeli commercial ties] at a global level. Not only will the stunning rise in [energy prices] hit the planetary populace causing inestimable [harm/suffering] including the [israeli populace], but there will be a [concerted and [globally organized] effort for [boycotting] all things [israeli].

The really sad part of these previous ALTA forecasts of the [outfall/blow up] stemming from the [israeli mistake] is that the innocents of the planet will be the initial victims. Not only those directly killed by the [errors in math/missed calculations], but also the radiating pattern of [disease] and [slow death] which will affect generations.

Other problems will ripple out from the [israeli mistake] as the planet moves through Fall. These will include the near total shut down of the USofA school system and other vital public health/safety infrastructure including [garbage pickup] and [health care/inoculations]. The extraordinary high level of [oil costs] and [energy dearth] will lead to a [rationing system] to be [proposed].

This is shown to *not* be implemented due to the [political chaos] and the [trials] for [un american activities/treason] which will develop. Further, the [winter climate] is indicated to be [severe] in many parts of the USofA and northern Europe, and many [thousands] are indicated to [die] as a direct result of the [unobtainable nature] of [energy]. Again, a direct consequence of the [israeli mistake] and the last straw, according to modelspace, which [induces] the [pogrom] in the USofA against the [israeli officialdom/peoples]. This [pogrom] is indicated to be such a powerful emotional wave of [hatred] and [revenge seeking] that even the [elite] in places like [hollywood] will [recant] and [renounce] former [israeli support].

This [mistake] by the [military] is indicated to [change the world].

Shift happens?!? A recent article on changes in earth's core being more rapid than previously considered to be possible. This conclusion that the changes are faster than considered possible arises from the erroneous understanding of the nature of the inner planet. No theory has yet to be able to explain how molten metal, which on the surface of the planet *cannot* either hold, nor generate a magnetic field, is somehow excused from this basic metallurgic condition which confined to the core of the planet. On the other hand, plasma, which is a form of collected/concentrated energy does generate very powerful magnetic fields. And is capable of exceedingly fast changes of state, without regard to its size. In other words, the quantum level phenomena which compose plasma are effective no matter what the size of the plasma involved. So a plasma core would generate fantastically large magnetic fields, *and* would be capable, perhaps even expected, to be able to change very rapidly indeed.

SpaceGoatFarts - Poor Bastards

Within the immediacy value set accruing to the SpaceGoatFarts entity, and focused on the [summer (period between the June solstice and the September equinox)] we have an aspect/attribute set of [decision] rising to dominance within the [contact] meme/context sub set. The [contact] meme has, in past ALTA reports, been seemingly linked to reality through the [ufo phenomena/appearances]. The appearance of growth within the [contact] meme sub set has been seemingly prescient about immediate future [ufo manifestations], or alternatively, growth in the [contact] meme sub set has preceded major announcements or publications relating to the [contact] meme

Yet again we have had a very large spike in accretion of new values around the [contact] meme sub set. This new growth in accruing aspect/attribute sets is headed by [decision]. The [decision] aspect/attribute set is indicated by the movement of the SpaceGoatFarts entity within modelspace to begin to manifest into reality from about mid July onward over [summer], gradually percolating up higher with each new [element] or [component] of the many [releases/leaks/revealing] which will be [visible] within the global mediastream. The [secrets revealed] meta data layer is already very near vertical within the SpaceGoatFarts entity and continues at this pace over the next few years (as indicated by the last of the long term data sets from ALTA 209 run).

The latest immediacy data processing has indicated that yet more manifestations of [ufo appearances] will take place over [summer], and further that there will [entirely new] forms of [behavior] of the [phenomena]. The idea coming across is that many [manifestations] will be [driving/forcing] a [decision] to be made. There can be no discussion of *any* sub set of the SpaceGoatFarts entity without acknowledging the intense cross links over to various [officialdom] sub sets in the other entities. Of course this is a natural effect of how we defined the SpaceGoatFarts entity in the beginning, which is to say as a 'repository for all things [officially denied] and/or [unknown]'. Soooo, it may be a bit miss leading, but we need to note that the [decision] aspect/attribute set within the [contact] sub set, due to the very heavy cross links over to ThePowersThatBe entity, *may* be pointing to a [decision] from [the powers that be] which is [forced upon] them by the [new behavior] of the [ufo phenomena]. We have specific references for many locations, and these are dominated by [italy], [the usofa] and [australia]. These sub sets are within the [decision] aspect/attribute set and may be referencing not the [ufo phenomena] but rather some other [key component] within the [decision].

Within the [decision] aspect/attribute supporting sub sets are descriptors for a [traveling episode] which will involve [2/two people/men]. These [2/two travelers] will be [reaching the destination], but only after some rather nasty times which will include both [water] and [fire] as [hazards]. Further the [2/two people] are described as being [terran/earth] originating. These [2/two travelers] will be on a [journey] relative to the [decision], and will be of the [suffered class], which probably eliminates any of [the powers that be] or their [minions]. The [suffered class] is a descriptor set including [suffering], [poverty], [hardship], and [deprivation] as the primary aspect/attributes. The [suffered class] usually is equated to the [common person], or [general member of the populace], rather than [lower class] or [outcast], though each of these sets will be found deriving support from the [suffered class] as a descriptor set. Clear a mud? In other words every [outcast] is a member of the [suffered class], but not all members of the [suffered class] are [outcasts]. The [travelers] sub set has further support from aspect/attributes which go to the idea that at some element of [martial skills] will be involved within the [pair of travelers]. Further the [sharpness] of the [mind] of 1/one [traveler] is described as being [equal to] the [sharpness] of the [martial/sword skills] of the other.

These [2/two travelers] will be increasingly [visible] within the global mediastream over the rest of 2008. The summations around the [visibility] level of this sub set points to an increasing [presence] of the [2/two travelers] as the year matures, and further that the [fame] and associated [energies (of) wealth/well being] for the [traveling pair] will [increase] along with the [visibility].

It is not possible to discern just what role the [travelers] play in the [contact decision] meme as it evolves, but their presence is noted as a very clear temporal marker that the [decision process] is well underway. As apparently, will be the [new behavior] of the [ufo phenomena]. This [new behavior] sub set is supported by aspect/attribute sets for [dragon] and [snake], and [tiger]. These are alternatively mapped over to their [constellation] counterparts and we have [Draco], [Hydra \(the water snake\)], and the Chinese constellation of the [White Tiger], known in western astronomic/astrologic traditions to include Taurus, and Orion constellations. Please note that the Reticuli group of stars are represented within these constellations at several levels, and also feature prominently as the 'point of origin' of the 'gray aliens' also known in past ages as [archons], and from which word the 'archons' of the Nag Hamadi codex is derived.

As with many of our other sub sets, there are several meta data layers influencing the accretion patterns for this sub set. These include the [secrets revealed] meta data layer, and the [revolution] meta data layer. Also of note is the now common theme of [flood] as a supporting aspect/attribute set. While not a meta data layer in that it does not dominate the primary sets via summation values in all entities, the [flood] meme is becoming very well represented, and perhaps needs to be considered as a transitory influence of major strength. We not only find [flood] in support in the Terra entity and the populace entities, but also here within the SpaceGoatFarts entity at many levels including as a supporting aspect/attribute set for the [decision] sub set. Within the [decision] sub set, the [flood] aspect/attribute set appears in a primary supporting role for the [decision] as a whole, as well as within the [2/two travelers] sub set, and within that, is also found deeper within the supporting layers for the [dangers/hardships] that the [2/two travelers] will encounter and survive over the course of [summer] and the rest of 2008.

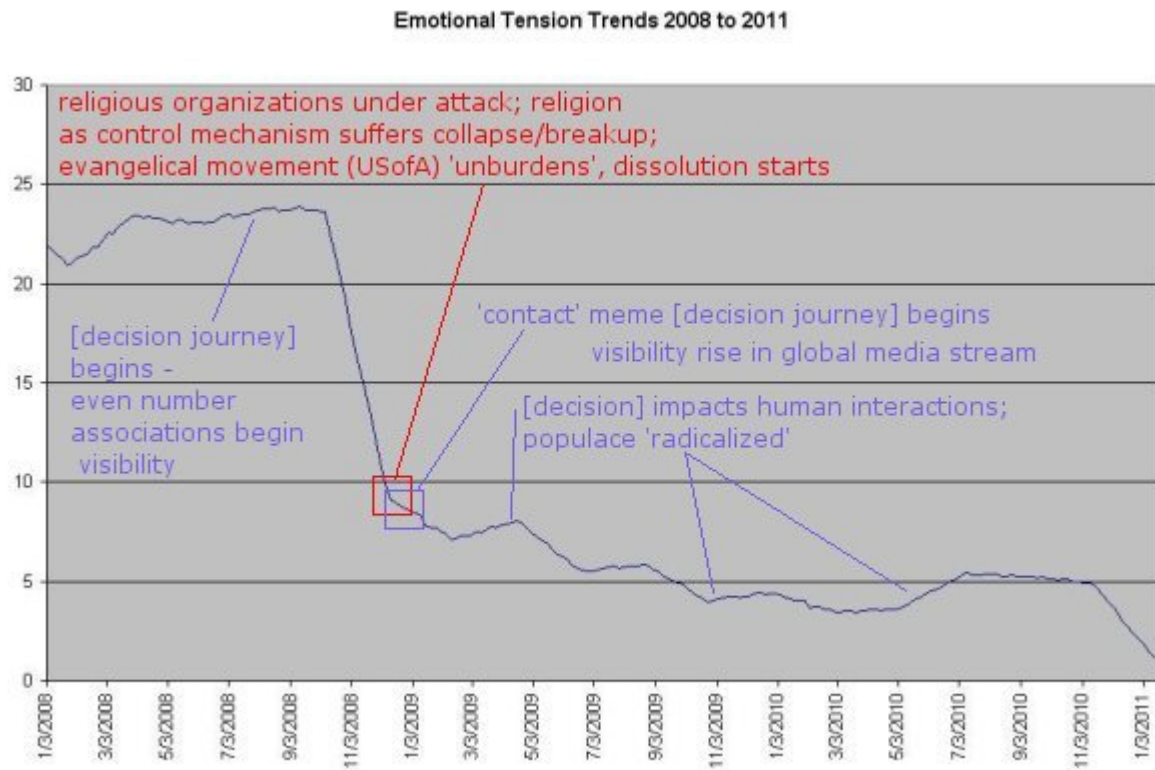

At the beginning of the appearance of the [2/two travelers/poor bastards] in [summer], the data suggests that they are just then beginning the [decrease] in [fortunes/circumstances] which will [propel] them on their [journey], and as with cycles everywhere, gradually return them to their [centers] after [challenges] and [hardships]. The geographic references at the beginning of the appearance of the [2/two travelers] are dominated by [Kauai, Hawaii], and proceed from there [widershins/counter clockwise] around the planet. The data sets indicate that the [beginning of the journey] is [forced/compelled] by an [internal need] to [tell the truth] at the [halls of power]. This [internal need] or [compulsion] is [driven/created] by [manifesting circumstances], and both the [compulsion], and the [manifesting circumstances] (of the [new behavior of the ufo phenomena]) are supported at the primary level by [danger] as dominant aspect/attribute set. There are some temporal links indicating that the initial [new behavior] actually occurred in March of this year, but at such a low level of [visibility] that we have not yet seen the reports hit the global mediastream. These may begin surfacing in mid July such that the aware observer will be able to form the connections.

There are [even number] associations which accrue to the [2/two travelers] sub set as July fades into August. At that point the [even numbers] will be [manifesting/emerging] into the global media stream. The [even number] men is important based on the emotional tension summations which are found in the last of the longer term values from the ALTA 209 series.

The accretions of aspect/attributes sets in the supporting sub set of the [decision] aspect beginning in August include more [danger] references, and these are very broad and are described as being affective of the [population] as a whole. These include descriptor sets for bespoke [fear] as a rising and dominating (at this level of the sub sets) aspect set. The [fear] sub set is supported by descriptors for [cry (of) alarm/fear/danger], and [fear based wetting (of one's self/involuntary urination)]. Please note that we *always* take aspects which go to [body parts] or [bodily processes] very seriously as these are very deep and powerful archetypes linguistically. Deeper within the [fear] supporting sets are descriptors going to the idea of [citizenry/populace] which will be so [fear shocked] as to [carry arms] in [twilight/evening], and to [huddle] in [protected/armed groups] at [night]. Also note that this is the language predicted to arise within the global media stream as reports of [responses/reactions] to the [new behavior] of the [ufo phenomena]. Further there are distinct [dusty], and [dessert] descriptor sets with supporting sets suggestive of [dry places] of [vast areas] such as may be found in the Australian and North American [south west]. These places are indicated to [rise] in [visibility] relative to the [new behavior] which is to be [so disturbing] to ThePowersThatBe that they will be [forced] into a [decision] relative to [ufo's] over this year and into the very critical days of 2009 running up through mid Summer next year.

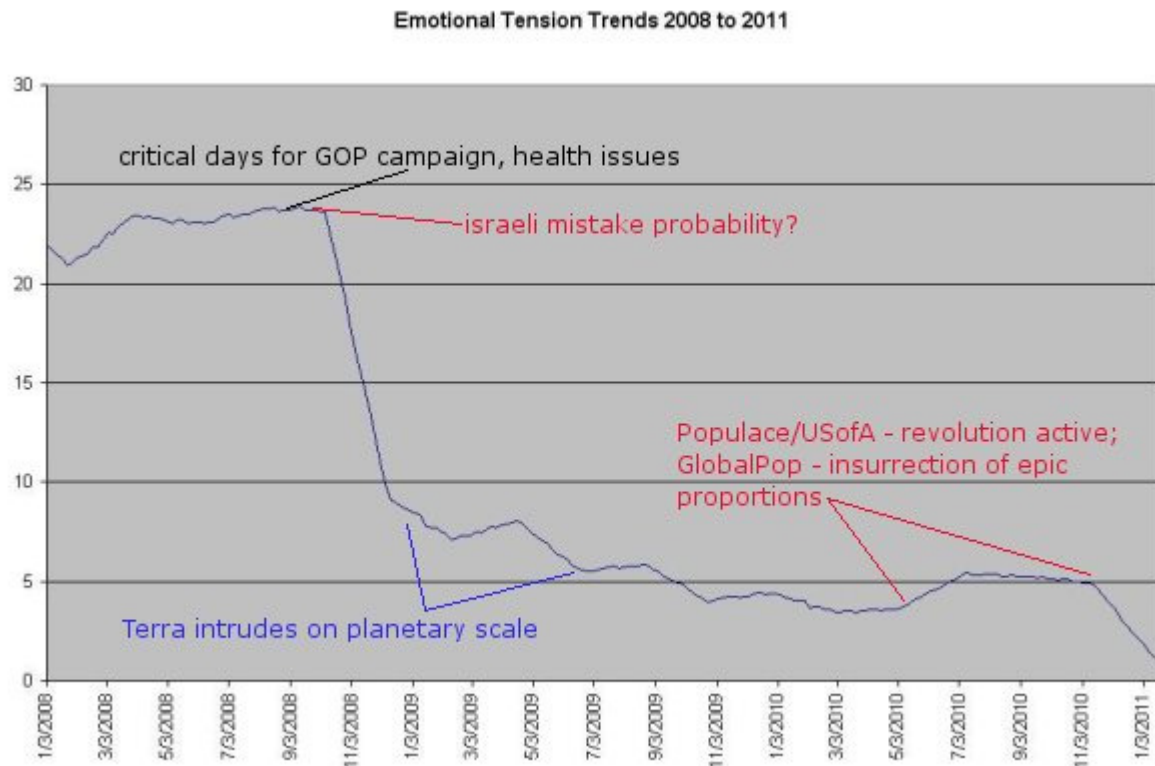

This SpaceGoatFarts entity sub set of [decision] is of importance, not only for its entertainment value, but also as a temporal marker for other, concurrent events over Summer and Fall. The SpaceGoatFarts entity is suggesting, both directly and by cross links to the TPTB entity, and the Populace/USofA entity and the GlobalPop entity, that the [process of decision] about the [ufo phenomena new behavior] will directly impact more mundane [decisions] relating to [global collapse (of dollar based economies)] and [decisions about war(s)]. Further, the [decision process] is indicated to somehow be affecting tl [lack of preventative measures] which will [precipitate] or [proximately cause] a seemingly [endless series of disasters] which will appear as 'events' within tl pending multiple year release language period beginning on October 7th and extending out beyond 2011. These last are including direct references within t SpaceGoatFarts entity for [house (of) economics/livelihood], and [fortunes] with [fortunes] being specifically referencing the [mega wealth] of the [elite/TPTB] and their [minions] more than the [populace]. We note that the [great loss of money] which comes this Fall and beyond is first affecting the [populace], and it is only later that the [process] is shown to [sour] around the [elite/TPTB]. Further the [housing] and [community stability] of large groups the [planetary populace] are indicated to be negatively affected by the [decisic process] around the [ufo phenomena new behavior]. It appears that the accretion patterns are pointing toward a [management screwup/disaster] as the [decision process] at the level of ThePowersThatBe causes or participates in [locking up/seizure] of many parts of the [global governance process]. It is thi [lock up/stalemate/seizure/rigidity] which is a proximate cause for later [outbursts of contention/violence/aggression] in 2010 as the [radicalization] of the [planetary populace] proceeds from Summer of 2009 through to Summer of 2010.

Populace/USofA - Collateral Damage, Decadal Movement

Within the popular culture (while noting how much of 'cultural directions' are manipulated by media) is the concept of 'collateral damage' which is defined as those 'nearby or only-casually-related observers who end up as victims'. Our immediacy data processing is suggesting that a collateral damage situation is developing within the collective psyche of the USofA populace as the [dollar] goes to its very timely end over 2008, and into early 2009. The first complex social descriptor set to rise to the level of collateral damage of the dollar death struggles is the [growth uber alles] social model of [collective success]. This will directly impact the [american dream] expression at the [personal perspective] level as the [populace] has to [absorb] the many, and seemingly [repeated/repetitious] types of [shocks] to their various [social life support systems]. The [repetition of social theme expression] is indicated in the processing of the last of the ALTA 209 data which points to many of the 'themes of the Summer of 2008' being echoed in more [extreme] fashion in the [transformative] Summer of 2009. These same longer term value sets suggest that the [social transformation] of Summer of 2009 will be completely [inflamed] into [bloody revolution] in the Summer of 2010. The cross links from the Populace/USofA entity over to the grander super set of the GlobalPo entity suggest that AmRev2 (American Revolution part Deux) will be *merely our personal expression of the prevailing global theme of [insurrection (against officialdom/TPTB/MilitaryAlienCorporateComplex)]. The state of the [global populace] which includes the smaller sub set of the [populace/usofa] will be totally involved in the [insurrections] beginning in Summer in 2010. However the Populace/USofA entity is pointing to the conjunction of [press], and [populace/usofa], and [contact] in the Summer of 2008 which forms the stage from which the [planetary populace movement] springs into [insurrection of epic proportions] in 2010. Again we note that the cross links over to the SpaceGoatFarts entity point to the [decision journey] as having direct impacts on the state of the [planetary populace movement] of late 2009 which is the result of the [transformation] meta data layer affecting the [self organizing collectives] over late 2008, and through Summer of 2009.

As the [planetary insurrection] erupts into [visibility] and into [active adventuring] in the Summer of 2009, it will be the expression of the [revolutionary phase] of the [planetary populace movement]. Our longer term value sets as well as the immediacy values from ALTA 509 both bring along impact and duration summations for a [half/lesser portion] of a [generation] of [turmoil] as the [revolution] meta data layer continues to influence the daily writhing of omnihumanity. In our work a [half generation] is equal to a [decade]. The longer term data suggests that our FuturePop entity which has been forming over these last few years, and which is forecast to be 'effective' by 2018 will rise from the [decade long struggle] facing the [planetary populace movement]. The [active] phase of the [struggle] seemingly erupts concurrent with the [second american revolution]. The indicators are for a very [rough/extreme] form of [struggle] with a [10/ten year] time frame with the result being the [realization] of the FuturePop by mid year 2018. The [struggle] is defined in a very complex descriptor set with aspect/attribute sets for both [internal revolutions] as well as [external conflict]. The sheer size of the [revolution/insurrection] meme forming within the GlobalPop and Populace/USofA entities is staggering, and is being interpreted as both [planetary] in scope, and [omnihumanity affecting]. The very few individuals not affected by the [temporal social crises] roiling [omnihumanity] will be merely 'happy instances of personal karma expressing itself amidst global chaos'. Hmmm.... more power to them. It would seem the rest of us have barely 2/two years to 'get strong' in order to 'go long' and live through this [riotous (not in the good way) decade].

The [planetary populace movement] as a context is both complicated and complex linguistically. Not being easily distilled at over 80/eighty thousand descriptors and growing, this sub set is focused on a very deep level of [personal human manifestation] which fuels the larger, more dramatic social [transformations] such as the [death of religion] meme, the [revolution] meme the [contact] meme among others. The emotional fuel drive the separations within our modelspace which are to become the new entity FuturePop.

Oh, and then, lest we forget, the Terra entity has plenty of cross links over to our developing temporal and social stew just to add a bit of [heat] to the pot.

The immediacy data accruing to the [economic] sub set are continuing to support the idea of a [bankruptcy] of some gigantic size over Summer. This [bankruptcy] is even being felt commonly, no doubt the impact of sensitization via Enron, and WorldCom, et al. This sensitization of pending [bankruptcy] is what is propelling the rumors around various companies as the reporters and other propagandists [feel around] for a [candidate] as the [logical expression] what they are 'feeling' in the 'air'. The [bankruptcy] is showing has being so emotionally impacting as to temporarily [blot out/over shadow] other, more short lived, emotional events in the 'news'. The [bankruptcy] is also indicated be a very good temporal marker for the next step down toward the [staggering which affects the [populace] as a result of the [horrific loss of money]. This is an aspect/attribute set seen in the last several ALTA reports and pending for late Summer, or early Fall of 2008.

As if the [loss of money/currency] is not enough pressure for social change, the Populace/USofA entity is pointing toward the [military] being [drawn into] a [hopeless situation] or [trap] over Summer. This [hopeless situation] is described at the primary level as [efforts to achieve (will) gain nothing]. This [gaining nothing after efforts] is further supported by aspect/attribute sets for [bad forecast/foretells bad tidings], as well as [bad returns (on investment)]. This [military hopeless situation] further adds to the [loss of money] and to the [degradation of popular support (for officialdom)]. This sub set is also part of the supporting structures for the larger sets going to the idea of an [emotionally spoiled election] in which a key, and [visible] in global mediastream linguistic resonates as "just get it over with", or our descriptor of [calls for early election (cause everyone already knows how it is going to turn out/be spoiled)]. Much of these linguistics appear in modelspace for mid to late September, following the [summer of discontent (around the changes *within/in* the political process)].

Terra - Pending Intrusions, Dem Floods

A linguistic theme which has frequently been a precursor to earthquakes is showing within the immediacy value set as of this last week's processing. This aspect/attribute set has been labeled by its primary descriptors as [destruction the past]. This shows up with supporting sets for [old buildings], and [shaky structures], as well as [infrastructure] and other aspect/attribute sets for [those things which can fall/crumble/be destroyed]. This set was huge just prior to the Sumatran earthquake/tsunami in which we were able to (then) locate the phrase of [300/three hundreds of thousands dead], as well as [knocked back to a previous age]. While the [destruction of the past] aspect/attribute set does *no* have such dire language within it at this point, it does seem to forecast a pending [earthquake] of some serious [destructive] potential.

At this point in the processing, both the last of the ALTA 209 longer term data sets, as well as the first of the immediacy values for ALTA 509 are indicating that the [earthquake] is still 'pending', rather than 'imminent'. Further the internal cross linking within the Terra entity have the aspect/attribute sets pointing toward a [volcano] association with the [earthquake], either [proximate] in a temporal fashion, or by [location]. We note that since the Terra entity is focused on the whole of the planet, the [location] information may be entirely without meaning to humans as *all* volcanoes are related as are all earthquakes.

Within the [destruction of the past] sub set, which is still gaining values, there is a sub set indicating that the [great quake (8+ R.scale)] will be [deep] at an [exceptional level], and yet *still* has [destructive power] for [surface structures]. There are also indications of [severe affects (on/to) waters] and the [flows]. This area is cross linked back over to our now very tiresome [flood] aspect/attribute set where we find supporting sets for [alterations (of) flows], and [tidal currents/shoreline shapes change], as well as further links back to [benthic topography shifts]. This area of [sub sea floor] descriptors is also extensively cross linked over to the [ocean sickness/illness/radical change] which is itself a sub set of the [global coastal event] sub set forecast for 2009.

The [earthquake] sub set, with [north america] as a dominant geographic reference {ed note: beware of location descriptors as these are usually misleading on several levels, especially within the Terra entity}, continues to gain supporting aspect/attribute sets with a focus of between December 10th through December 12th. This is not so say that 'the big one' strikes in North America in December, rather this [destructive earthquake] is merely shown as [single instance] in a [multiple series] of [volcano] linked/caused [shocks]. Al note that [destructive] is a descriptor set with a wide shading of meaning. And we need to always remind that our processing tends to concentrate and focus upon the extremes of the language shifts, and thus undoubtedly misses much of the nuance and subtle modifiers which would theoretically provide a more accurate description. Nonetheless, the data has been growing for over a year relative to a [pre winter solstice earthquake event] on the North American continent. With the recent, and still continuing [floods/inundations] of [swarm of earthquakes] affecting the whole of the western coastal regions of North America, and even reaching in-land to Nevada, the probability of some level of significant, and destructive earthquake has certainly risen much higher in the general consciousness of the populace, and thus is continuing to show up in the language shifts which we mine for forecasts.

The Terra entity continues to grow its sub sets under the influence of the [restrictions on movements], and [encounters with scarcity] meta data layers. The newly accruing sub sets are providing support for several areas in which Terra will intrude on human affairs such that [encounters with scarcity], and the interconnected [restrictions on movements] will be much more of a prevailing theme of life. These are showing for late in Summer and extending through the rest of this year and 2009. There are *no* signs in the accretion patterns of the data to suggest that such effects of the meta data layers will end in 2009, and rather the supposition is that they will continue to grow through 2010.

As noted in passing above, our ever-present [flood] meme continues to grow. We have accretion patterns suggesting an [under oceans] situation will provide additional reasons for the [north western] regions of Europe (including Holland, Belgium, and the Flemish lands) to have concern about [flooding]. Further there are indications of more [flooding] pending for the Scandinavian countries, though this is apparently to be [climate/weather] driven, and to be seemingly driven by [north sea] rather than [atlantic] storms. Again, this is a [fall] impacting data stream, with larger effects to be felt in December and January. Though sporadic, the [flooding] is indicated to cause [wood] problems, relative to [harvest] and [procurement], as well as to cause problems with the [stripping of land]. This last seemingly is pointing toward the loss of [top soil], and also contains sub sets going to the idea of [greenhouses/growing houses] which will be [taken out of service] due to [weather/storm flooding].

Markets - Bulging Data

We do not usually provide much on the Markets entity in Part Zero as the data processing is dominated by the longer term values left over from the previous data gathering run, and thus the data sets are skewed toward older, and perhaps superseded data. This is again true of the Markets entity, though we need to note that this entity may occupy much of Part One as several very large data bulges are forming now in the early processing of the next immediacy sets, as well as the very first of the shorter term values. These data bulges are focused on [bankruptcy], and the [loss of currency/money] memes previously cited. As these will be interpreted over this next week, and we are dealing with immediacy values, we will send out email notifications of any [imminent] shift in linguistics which are discovered lurking in our growing data bulges.

Conclusion: ALTA 509 - Part Zero - Giants Redux

Our data sets continue to point to the [growth] of the [food supplies worries/problems]. The [visibility] summations of the supporting aspect/attribute sets suggest that areas of [food preservation], including [canning], and [drying] will be rising to discussions in the global mediastream. Some of these will be [health issues] focused, while others will be relative to the [encounters with scarcity] seemingly affecting [food preservation supplies].

The last of the ALTA 509 data had been showing a tendency to concentrate in lexical sets controlled by the major meta data layers including [encounters with scarcity] and its opposite-side-of-the-coin cousin of [restrictions on movement]. These continue to exert a dominating influence on the newly processed immediacy values, and may have actually increased their range of effects in the Populace/USofA entity, and *certainly* have done so in the Markets entity. As we have noted, this year is the 'year of manifestation', and these twinned meta data layers, along with [revolution] will be [manifesting] all over and back again. The accretion patterns suggest that these twinned meta data layers *will* be a very key component of life here on earth going forward at least as far as 2024 which is the very far edge of granularity for our longer term values. Further the accretion patterns suggest that [manifestation] of these twin [restriction] based influences on life will come as rather an [emotional shock] for a great many people on the planet. This has been discussed briefly within the [loss/death of the growth uber alles] social model. We note that those humans under the sway of the [growth uber alles forever] mind set will not [willingly surrender] to the newly [manifesting reality] of this year and beyond. Our data suggests that the [mental conditioning] around the [growth upward a forever] perspective which has been so prevalent in corporate media for nearly 2/two generations will cause much [suffering] and additional [hardship] as we all come to grips with the [nova terra] which is forming beneath our feet.

Returning to a previous theme of the largest organisms on the planet being usually miss identified by humans:

Giants of the natural world

Most people, if asked to name the largest organism on earth, come up with examples such as elephants, blue whales or giant trees, such as Redwoods. In fact, the largest living organism on this planet may well be a fungus!

In America, a single individual fungus, similar to the Honey Fungus already mentioned, was found to cover a staggering 2,200 acres of land. (This is 45 times bigger than the Woodland Education Centre in Offwell, for those of you who have visited the Centre before.)

we note that extremely large things can be living/changing/growing beneath our feet with most humans totally ignorant of these giants. The same is apparently true with both social, and temporal change at extremely large levels. Our data sets continue to point to global problems with cognitive dissonance as many, extensively sold, [corporate paradigms] come into [conflict] with [developing/manifesting reality] under this meme of very large [multiple generation affecting] trends manifesting. This [cognitive dissonance] will be a very large driver for the [decade of extreme violence] forecast to [erupt] in 2010. Perhaps, just perhaps, the aware observer can mitigate some of the underlying mental shattering and subsequent emotional release (in the form of violent active denial) in those around them. The cynic would likely argue the reverse, citing needs must as the devil drives. In the end, individual and collective destiny are clearly part of the patterns of this universe of continuous creation, and the *only* element of it all which humans *may* control is their individual attitude about the manifesting reality under their feet, and in front of their eyes. Given this, the adages urging participation in life rather than passive acceptance are probably the correct path to be taken. In that vein, as the mongolians would have it, you either ride out to accept your destiny, or are overrun in the stampede of fate.

Stated yet another way, the yogic traditions going back to Naropa (6000/six thousand years bce) note that 'fate or destiny are merely opposite attitudes about the slap you just received across the face'. Further they noted that 'reality is what remains when you stop believing in either (attitude)'. We will all be getting to know reality very intimately over these next few years of face slaps. Probably a good time to get used to it. Get strong to go long. Rough decade(s) ahead.
