Meta Arts - Quirky Quarks

Now that we have reached the clustering of temporal markers including the post office noodling about reducing delivery days, and the repeated instances *and* multiple variations on the [grounding of the ship] meme including the 'airship' ditched in the river, the grounding of the global shipping fleet due to demand reduction, and the erroneous reporting of a freighter grounded near the Golden Gate in San Francisco {ed note: actually the vessel just lost power and was only at risk of grounding -reporters screwed up initially}, the next set of [visible] evidence of [transformation] can be expected to begin its manifestation. Note that the temporal marker descriptors now materializing were first forecast in ALTA 109 series which is nearly a year old now. The temporal marker cluster now emerging also contains [visibility] sums indicating some level of coverage in the global mediastream for several quirky days over the next month or so. These will include the initial reports on some [unexpected] and [transformative] problem or [not foreseen side effect] with the LHC (Hadron collider) in CERN; and we should get the first reports of the phenomena that we have labeled the [disappearances]. These will likely be focused on [mid level minions] of ThePowersThatBe, and also will very likely be reported as though the 'cause' of the [disappearance] is both [known] and [evident] in spite of neither being accurate. The inaccuracy of the [disappearance reports] will be a consistent sub thread within the overarching pattern that will emerge over all of 2009. That the other, linked components of the cluster of temporal markers are emerging now suggests that the [disappearance] meme will begin to emerge within the next 2/two months, though as noted, likely as a series of reports of [murders] and [suicides], within the [middle level, and upper level minion class] of TPTB. There are still accruing values in support of at least 1/one instance of a [very rich person] going [missing] with their entire [crew of bodyguards/entourage]. This incident is not indicated until later in the year, perhaps mid [summer], and will follow a series of [disappearances] which will prompt the [increased visibility of groups of bodyguards] around these [key minions] and TPTB members. Several of these incidents of [disappearances] are forecast to involve [yachts] of some size, and in an early report, a case of the [disappearance] of the people, leaving behind the [boat] will be brought forward. This incident has a lower level of [visibility] at the time it occurs, but the [visibility] grows along during the year with the likelihood of it being brought out into the global mediastream near the Fall equinox, though the indicators are that the actual occurrence will take place near the Spring equinox.

Markets - Prohibition [sic], Calorie Restrictions

Reality has a nasty way of intruding on the best planned fantasies of politicians. The forecast influence of the [duality] meta data layer has begun in a noticeable fashion, with the [political class/power elites] and their [minions/civil servants] manifesting predicted behaviors. As long as the [political class] is intent on [rescuing] the [paper debt/currency system], every [effort] that they make from this point forward is being foreshadowed by the Markets entity language as being [more fuel] and [greater confusion] to the [conflagrations] of the [complex (paper debt/currency) systems internationally]. Within the cross links from the Markets entity over to the Populace/USofA entity with a side set of links over to ThePowersThatBe entity, there is a *small* hint that later in 2009, perhaps about mid November, the [obama administration] *just* may begin the [realization process]. These links would then be indicating, albeit in a backwards looking way, that all the efforts from now through November will prove to be [incendiary failures].

These interlinked sets pointing toward some fragment of awareness creeping into the [political elite] in the [usofa] are likely the result of the [hyperinflation] which is forecast for Summer, 2009. There are some linguistics which appear in the September period referencing [hyperinflation] in a bespoke manner, and these *may* be indicators that the [media] is then [voicing] the [hyperinflation] issues.

The whole of the [hyperinflation] sub set is growing rapidly, and has seeming support in reality as the mountains of [paper debt] are being [doubled] and [tripled] by the actions of the [obama administration] as it is desperately trying to [dig its way out of a hole].

The inter connections between the Markets entity and the Populace/USofA entity, sub set [obama administration], and the ThePowersThatBe entity, sub set [obama administration] are accruing new support from the immediacy and shorter term value processing. These short term focused values are arriving in the various supporting positions in strength between the beginning of March and the end of May. There are indications that the Summer of Hell will be preceded by a Spring of [turmoil] as increasing amounts of [panic] and [fear] becomes [visible] within the [power elite], and the [fiscal/paper debt infrastructure]. There has been some concern expressed about the idea of [gold] being [confiscated], though at this point we do not show that as being more than bespoke [fears]. There are no indications of a successful form of [gold] seizure within the [populace/USofA], though there are linguistics suggesting that the idea *will* be [visible] and [considered] within the [obama administration]. HOWEVER, please note that the [conditions] relative to [wealth] are forecast to [rapidly change/evolve] over 2009, with a new appreciation for [non currency/non paper debt] forms of [wealth] to emerge as the [financial power structures] melt down. In linguistic 'opposition' to the aspect/attribute sets within the Markets entity and TPTB entity suggesting [gold confiscation] (with special focus on the USofA), we have large, and increasing sets within the Populace/USofA entity in which [gold and silver coins], and [jewelry/gold_in_other_forms] are specifically in support of [increasing wealth], and [center(s) of new wealth]. Both of these sets increase dramatically as the modelspace is progressed through 2009 and into 2010. The imagery coming into the detail layers of aspect/attributes is of [multitudes/many] instances of [small groups/individuals] who will [become (newly/suddenly/rapidly) wealthy] due directly to [piles of coins/bars (of) precious metals]. These sets gain their first 'burst' of supporting aspect/attribute sets as the [hyperinflation] meme rises in early Spring, and then they grow considerably over [summer/2009] again, in a manner seemingly correlated to the increase in [hyperinflation] language. These Populace/USofA entity sub sets are extensively cross linked over to both the Markets entity and the TPTB entity. That they exist as they do suggests that if any *serious* effort toward governmental confiscation of precious metals were to be undertaken, it will be pretty much a failure. However, there are indications that [government] within the [usofa] and the [anglo/american empire states], in the form of [edicts] and [taxation], *will* attempt to [control] or [seize control of ] the [interpersonal trading] of [gold/silver] and other [commodities] later in 2009, and especially in 2010. A very good temporal marker for this [attempt at controlling] or the [precious metals prohibition] will be the [collapse] of the [intergovernmental currency transfer system] {ed note: including the US Post Office planetary wire transfer system}.

The aspect/attribute sets accruing to the Markets entity from this most recent processing of the shorter term value sets *may* be interpreted as forecasting [chaos] within the [planetary fiscal/financial systems] over these remaining weeks of [winter]. The data sets indicate that by February 14th, the emotional [high] values associated with the [new administration] within the [populace/usfoa] will begin a waning pattern that will continue to slowly drain support through to [june], in the midst of new [emergency problems] will be coming at such a rapid pace as to create an [increase] in the linguistics around the context of [systemic collapse], or [financial system meltdown]. The increasing [visibility] of the [systemic collapse] language is indicated as a side effect of the turning of the emotional tone of the [populace/usofa] from [marginally hopeful] to [tightlipped fear] over the course of [summer] and into [fall]. Curiously, there appears an emotional rising 'wave' of [idealism] and [hope] that is indicated to [course] through the [global populace], with some spill over into the [populace/usofa] from about mid May through about July 18th. This [wave of idealistic hope] is supported by language indicating that it is based on [unrealizable] and [impossible] [expectations], and that the [emotional tone] will be [rapidly deflated] or [crushed] over just [3/three days] in mid July such that nearly the entire linguistic structure has moved over in support of [disappointment] by July 23rd.

The [summer of hell] for the [populace/usofa] will be paralleled by the [summer of disappointment] for the [global populace], and both are indicated to merge into [profound transformation] as the [furies of fall] settle in across the planet. The aspect/attributes are indicating that as emotionally [straining] as the [unemployment] and [economic malaise] are over [spring] and [summer] on the [populace/usofa], this will not be comparable to the [woes of fall]. Even though in a state of [shock] from the [revelations] coming from the many [whistleblowers] {ed note: especially about the 'iraq war' and the bushies}, the [populace/usofa] is indicated to [cause/precipitate] a state of [abject/absolute panic] in the Markets entity as the modelspace is progressed through Fall until very early November. This [panic] condition *apparently* results directly from the [manifesting transformation] of the [american/usfoa social contract] into the [destruction of the past] phase. The Markets entity has soooo many negative value sets accruing over November and December of 2009 with cross links over to the [obama administration] as to be indicating that the [popularity] and [support] for the [obama administration] drops rapidly due to the [coagulation] of the [currency/paper debt] based [markets].

The dominant aspect/attribute sets for the Markets entity from November 2009 through to the end of November 2010 will include [depression], and [coagulation], and [stressful] and [conflict]. Much of the support for this last aspect comes from attribute sets going to the idea of [resistance (to) core/fundamental change], and rescue (attempts) for the old/former debt based currency/system]. The [depression] linguistics within the Markets entity are mirrored within the Populace/USofA entity both by [depression] in an [economic context], and [depression] in an [emotional context]. The emotional components within the Populace/USofA entity are, in many instances, participating in the [revolution] meta data layer within that entity, and these linguistic sets in their turn are cross linked back over to the Markets entity where they bring [revolution] influences. That the [markets] are indicated to be [controlled (by) ThePowersThatBe], and are shown to be [resistant] to [transformation] in 2009 *seems* to be propelling the [revolution] which will [overturn/up_end] the [markets] throughout 2010 {ed note: actually beginning in 11/2009}. The data sets accruing for November of 2009 have support for the idea of a [collapse] so [deep] as to be [shocking] to the [financial 'industry'] to the extent of [9/nine (out of) 10/ten jobs] being lost. And please remember, this is *after* the [planetary employment collapse] of late Summer and into Fall (September through December). The Markets entity is forecasting a very bad [employment] situation over all of 2009, but with an [acceleration] of [employment shocks] in November and December, as the [paper debt/currency markets] go into [coagulation] {ed note: in a similar pattern to what has already been experienced within the 'credit' markets}.

An interesting set of cross links from the Markets entity over to the Populace/USofA entity indicate that November, and the [paper debt/currency coagulation] period will mark the [end] of [2/two party politics] within the [populace/usfoa]. The [anti establishment (anti Democrats/Republicans)] movement within the [populace/usofa] is shown as so strong as to [impact] what remains of the [global financial systems]. As the modelspace is progressed over November and December 2009, the longer term value sets are pointing to [large scale losses] for the [democrats] *and* the [republicans] in 2010 against a rising [tide/wave] of 3rd parties. These new [political organizations] will be at the more tame end of the influence of [revolution] meme on the [populace/usofa].

The Markets entity is also growing supporting layers under the [famine] sub set of language. With specific references to the [populace/usofa] and the [increasing death rate] sub sets also growing albeit marginally faster. The increase in [death numbers] for the [populace/USofA (including anglo/american empire countries)] is due in part to the [failure] of the [currency] which in turn causes a [health care system failure] that impacts the ability of the [society] at large to [pay for] those humans at the most expensive end of [life sustaining technology]. This [health care system collapse] is showing as a proximate cause for [increases] in [disease deaths], as well as [accidental deaths], and [drug induced deaths]. This last is indicated via cross links over to the populace entities as being a very large level of increase with a notable [visibility] factor in the global media stream by the end of Summer. The growth in [famine] and [social disruption] language over the Summer 2009 is forecasting a [visible] story line in the global mediastream of the [death of the just in time delivery system] especially as it relates to [food items]. This is showing as being more [north american focused] than [european], but even so, there will be [currency crisis impacts] on the [shipment] of [foods from south to north] globally.

Further problems relating to the [social contract dissolution] will also be [visible] by Summer 2009. The Markets entity is forecasting a [great round-up/corralling] to take place either before or over the course of [summer/2009]. The [corralling] will be of [illegal aliens] and will be [federally managed] with the goal being the [deportation] of [tens of millions] of people. This [plan] seems to be [in place], and [under development] currently with the execution of the [effort] starting to show within the [visible] elements of the data some time after mid May. The Markets entity suggests that the [bad winter], and [terrible spring] for all things [paper debt based] and [old economy] based here in the [usofa] will have created huge [social pressures] and [socially sanctioned attitude change] against [illegal aliens]. The [mobs] of [unemployed] and [unemployable] [illegal aliens] and the [riots] of [spring 2009], as well as the [food crisis] globally will produce conditions of [pressures] on both the [social contract] here in the [usofa] as well as in [mexico] where the [mechanisms of statehood] will be under [revolutionary] pressures by Summer.

SpaceGoatFarts - Duality Duels, Antarctic Jewels, Millisecond Fuels, Pie Palaver

The recent processing of longer term values from the 1109 series has produced a not-seen-before cross linking pattern between the immediacy and shorter term value sets from the Terra entity and a significantly large percentage of the longer term linguistics from the SpaceGoatFarts entity. In spite of the large size of the [flood] sub set within the Terra entity, there are still a disproportionate number of the cross links which terminate in some area of support for the [flood] sub set. An obvious, though not necessarily correct, interpretation is that our [unknown(s) from space] will be contributing to [floods] over the course of 2009; again, with special emphasis on [summer floods]. This last is unusual to some extent, especially as it has [northern hemisphere] as a dominant geographic reference. The areas in the Terra entity which are the termination points for the cross links from the SpaceGoatFarts entity are largely within the sub set of [rainwater(s)]. Again, with special emphasis on the concept of plurality within the set as though [distinguishable groups of rainwater] will be involved.

The SpaceGoatFarts entity, in addition to the directly held values for [unknown energies from space], also is now holding a sub set headed by [antarctica], that contains a large sub set of the [unknown] contexts, as well as being directly participatory in the [duality] meta data layer. This sub set is explicitly supporting a directly held aspect/attribute set of [duality] with sub sets of [core], and [opposition/reflection] and [heat]. Further the descriptors go to [encapsulated/entombed] as support for the [heat], and within the supporting aspect/attribute sets here are found [volcano], and [land/ground]. The sub sets in support of the [under ice, land based volcano] are also cross linked back over to the Terra entity where the termination points are found within the [global coastal phenomena] sub sets. The termination points also are showing up in accretion patterns that span nearly 6/six months, and then are followed by a 3/three month hiatus, or as described in the data [stillness/calm of the waters]. The [calm following the oceans storm] is itself followed by [unknown reactions (locally)] in [antarctica] which are indicating a [splitting of land(s)]. This [splitting of lands] is not *only* [antarctic] focused, but contains links back to the Terra entity which indicate that at least [2/two] other [lands/land space/dry land] are involved. These then in their turn are cross linked back to the SpaceGoatFarts entity where they are terminating in [noise/rumbles] and curiously [deep snoring/snorting]. This last is particularly worrisome sub set as it has support arising from [volcanoes], *and* it is referencing, albeit obliquely, a body process. As all body parts and processes represent very deep levels of archetype, these are taken as being of some 'strength' when providing interpretations.

As an aside, the [global coastal phenomena] sub set within Terra entity is now cross linked over to the SpaceGoatFarts entity at 2/two primary supporting points which are the [unknown energies from space], and now the [antarctica] sub sets. The [antarctica] sub set is also gaining a number of directly held supporting sets for [winds], and [clouds (of) steam], and [expelled waters], all of which are derived from a sub set of the [force] aspect/attribute set which is in support of the [encapsulated/covered volcano]. These cross links do not *necessarily* imply any causative relationship, rather only temporal connections are seen. In the interpretation it is sometimes possible to infer a causative relationship between forecast events, but in this instance, it could be that whatever [unknown energies from space] are the cause of the [global coastal event] are also currently causing the [acceleration] of the [entombed volcano] such that it is forecast to [erupt] and [toss out water and steam] as part of the process of the unfolding [global coastal event]. This [under ice volcano] is also linked internally within the SpaceGoatFarts entity to a sub set of [activated/switched-on-process] which then cross links over to the Terra entity where it terminates in [underseas volcanoes] with specific references to the [formation] of [new lands] that are described as [bridging] between [islands].

The SpaceGoatFarts entity, including its many cross links over to the Terra entity, has growing data sets in support of the [transformation] of the [sun] into the [sun disease] state over the course of 2009, with most of the activity occurring over the [summer, 2009 (northern hemisphere, June 21 through to September 21)]. Our data work has had the [sun disease] sub set growing since 1997, and now the data has taken on a distinctly [active] set of linguistics. The [sun/sol] sub set has [active] as both a rising and a growing aspect/attribute set. This is to say that the data sets under [active] are growing while the numeric values of the supporting sets are also growing in value relative to the rest of the sets within the SpaceGoatFarts entity. Make sense? Both the depth and the breadth of the supporting sets are growing in a data base sense.

The [sun disease] data set has been refining over these last 10/ten years and now is very descriptive of [irradiations] that will be [dangerous] to [life]. The [sun disease] is not showing as being [ubiquitous], but it will start this [summer], and will be [visible], which is to say, reported within the global mediastream. There are extensive cross links between the [global coastal phenomena ] within the Terra entity and the [sun disease] sub set of the SpaceGoatFarts entity. In both entities, the supporting layers include very large sub sets of [magnetic/magnetism] and [intrusions] which will [impact/pressuring] the [sun] into a [disease state]. There are [ramifications] of bespoke [dangerous] and [risky], and [bad] for [humans]. Some of the [bad pressures] being referenced include deleterious [degradations] of the [mental states] of the [populace]. This area also cross links over to the Populace/USofA and the GlobalPop entities where the terminating sub sets are in support of a number of [mental illnesses] including the [muckers/amok_ones]. There are other cross links between the [sun disease] set and the many Terra *and* SpaceGoatFarts entity sub sets which go to the [strange flowering] sub sets. Other cross links, indeed enough to appear 'rope like', that go between the [sun disease] and the ThePowersThatBe entity where a number of the links terminate in the bespoke [fear] sub sets. These cross links over to the ThePowersThatBe entity are interesting in a number of ways, but at the moment the most interesting feature is what we call a 'reactionary cohesion pattern' in which there is a spread of termination points that have internal cross links of their own which terminate in yet other sub sets that are also internally cross linked. This 3/three layers (at least) down pattern is not frequently seen and thus usually can be used to forecast temporal echoes around the central archetypes found within the multiple layers as a 'data slice'. This 'reactionary cohesion pattern' contains internal references to [fear] at a very [primal] level which are pointing toward [sun] and [sun disease] as being a very core archetype. Thus the interpretation is that the ThePowersThatBe will be [expressing] bespoke [fear] this year, most likely in [summer] about the [sun disease]. An interesting sub set within the cross link termination sets within ThePowersThatBe entity includes bespoke [fear] about [sun disease] that will [fall upon/cover/blanket] the [populace]. ThePowersThatBe entity is pointing toward explicit [fears] that [large populace numbers] will be [afflicted] by the [sun disease]. The [fear] sub sets within this group includes supporting sets for [surreality], and [other world like], and [mirage], and [delusional]. We need to note that the [mirage] sub set also includes links back over to [psychic] which is supported by [awareness], and [duality] such that the idea coming across is that the TPTB will be [fearing] an onset of [sun disease] that they think may create [dual living humans] within the [populace]. Taking the cross links over to the Populace/USofA entity, the terminating sub sets focus on [change in conscious awareness of reality]. And it must be noted that this sub set cross links back over to the [surreal] sub set of the [sun disease] sub set of the SpaceGoatFarts entity.

Along with the [sun disease] going [active], the SpaceGoatFarts entity is carrying a separate, but interlinked set of linguistics that go to the idea of [massive], and the data base does not minimize words, so the aspect/attribute set is specifically referencing [massive] as a modifier for [chemtrails]. The imagery coming up from the detail layers is describing periods in late Spring, and early Summer (northern hemisphere), in which the [chemtrails] are spread down in [layers] that are described as [near space] all the way down to [ground fogs].

Within the SpaceGoatFarts entity, the [2/two travelers] or [thieves/liberators] sub set has had continuous growth in the areas of [visibility], but now the data sets are also including [crossroads], or [alternate paths]. There are some supporting sets including aspect/attributes sets of [decisions], and [incarcerations], and [calamity], and [wall collapse]. All of which are in their turn supported by [ownership (collapse)] relating to [routes of permissions] which are further described as [international], and including [royalty]. The [royalty] sub set has several sets which are participating in the [secrets revealed] meta data layer within the SpaceGoatFarts entity. The idea coming across from the detail aspect/attribute sets is of a [journey interruption] at the [international] level due to [refusal] of [flight path] requests due in its turn to the [breakdown (of former) relationships]. This sub set is extensively cross linked internally to the [military] sub set within the SpaceGoatFarts entity which has been forecast to [have problems with space energies] in 2009. Now the SpaceGoatFarts entity is accruing values going to the idea that the [military] {ed note: of the planet, not necessarily USofA} will be [impeding air travel] such that the [obstacles] will [impact/divert] the [2/two travelers/liberators] in their [quest for refuge].

According to the accretion pattern changes within this sub set, the previously forecast [use of the alien device in a crowd] situation *has* occurred, or will have occurred in the shorter term future {ed note: out to about the end of 3/three months thus the end of April}. The data sets arriving in support of this set of the [side effects (of the use of alien device) on by-standers/crowd members] are now focusing on the [effects] as though the [incident] has now moved into the past. The interpretation of the data sets such as are found in the SpaceGoatFarts entity frequently get convoluted as they will sometimes include explicit, bespoke references to [time]. So the problem is to use language to discuss the core of the language itself while attempting to provide a temporal position indicator that makes sense relative to the archetypes and situation being described. Clear as navy coffee on the dark side of the moon? We need to use many self-referencing terms, and thus the descriptors have tendency to spiral in on their own meanings. In this particular instance, the descriptors contain bespoke references to the [future] in support of [time] archetypes within the descriptor set at the core of the [incident of unintended side effects from the use of alien device]. NOT THAT THIS MEANS THE DATA OR INTERPRETATION IS CORRECT...merely that the internal consistency *is* cohesive. Soooo...the imagery of the detail layers are going to the idea that the [incident of use of the alien device] has happened (or may soon have happened), and as a side effect of the [release] within the [crowded street], the data sets are describing a [time effect] that will [inter mix/co-mingle/co-exist] with the [consciousness] around the [effect] itself. There is language in support of the [side effect] as though the [effect] is [sentient], if not [self-aware]. The impact on the [life] around the [effect] includes everything down to [plants and insects] as well as up to higher order animals including humans. The [effect] is confusing at best in the descriptor sets, and includes the idea that [non local] forms of [effect propagation] *will* or have occurred as a result of the [inter mixing/inter-acting] between the [effect] and [consciousness] at some level. There are indications that the [visibility] rise for the [incident of the liberated alien artifact/hardware] later in 2009 will be preceded by reports of the [symptoms] of the [side effect] on the [local environment] at the point where the incident of the [accidental use/release] has, or will have happened. The [non local] form of [propagation] is headed by the aspect/attribute set of bespoke [time], with primary support coming from bespoke [future], with that in its turn getting primary support from bespoke [continuous creation] or the [stream of creation], or as the quantum physics fellows label it, the Dirac Sea. The appearance of the [side effect on time/future] within the data sets does not provide much in the way of meaningful descriptors for the [symptoms] of the [side effect], however, those we do have suggest that a [projection] into or from the [future] is part of the process of the [effect]. The [projection] language has bespoke references indicating that we are discussing a [time perception alteration] more probably than an actual [time alteration], and that the [duration] of the [time perception alteration] is *likely* to be measured in [fractional heartbeats] of the [life affected]. So not a big distortion of bespoke [time], but apparently just enough that later in the year some level of [visibility] will arise in the global mediastream stemming from the [symptom] of [time perception distortion]. An additional point to ponder is that the data sets suggest that a [conscious understanding] which would include the ability to [manipulate] the [side effect time perception phenomena] *will* produce [personal power] at levels that cannot now be adequately described, but which can be characterized within the archetype of [heroic/mythic]. Hmmmm. Igor wants to know immediately if any blueberries or perhaps peaches or apple plants will be involved in the [side effect]. The wheels turning in his head are clearly visible. He wants some [mythic] pies....and by that solving the ultimate question of life (in his mind) which is to say, how can you have your pie, and eat it too? Well, never ending [mythic] pies.....maybe. But it has to be pointed out to Igor that just perhaps the [temporal perception side effect] will produce [self aware, time hovering] blueberry plants that will have a telepathic discussion with him *after* he eats the pie....now that has him a bit worried. He's not too sure about 'talking pies'.

Terra - New Lakes, Empty Stages,

As modelspace is progressed into the Summer of Hell (2009 - really from about mid May through to October 10th or so), the Terra entity begins to gain values in support of [odd instances] of the main [flooding] meme. These [odd instances] include references to a [mountain valley] which will become [trapped in debris] or [filled with debris] such that a [new lake] is formed by the [high altitude rains]. These [high altitude rains] are somehow to be qualitatively different than the [flood rains] which are indicated as [hammering/flattening] the [low lands] and [creating (new) rivers/channels]. In this sub set of the [flood] meme, the [high altitude rains] are indicated to be [newly placed] or [new atmospheric rivers] which will [inundate] the [dry valleys (of) very high altitude mountains]. Due to [temperatures], these areas are indicated to get [rain waters] rather than [snow]. These [new high mountain lakes] are problems at several different levels for humans. Not merely the [risks] of being downhill from a [debris dam] which is [naturally created] rather than engineered, but also the somewhat hidden problems of the [diversion] of the [jet streams] and the [droughts] induced elsewhere. These [new drought patterns] are indicated to be in areas previously both [wet and dry]. The redirection of the [summer jet stream patterns] will induce [floods] in areas that have not had such occurrences, as well as create extreme drought conditions in other, less lucky regions. Further problems will develop from the [high altitude rain waters] in that some [snow packs] will be at risk of [avalanches] in the [summer] as well as others where the [rains] will [carve deep valleys] in previously [rigid/tight/dense snow packs]. These [snow pack reduction by odd summer rains] are indicated to have repercussions in 2010 as [reservoirs] will be [depleted], as will [ground sources] in some regions.

The movement of the Terra entity through the [summer, 2009] shows growth from [difficulty] into [duality] as the operative thread for the [weather] in both hemispheres, north and south. The [duality] is supported by [drought] and [floods] in supporting sets that are described as [lost areas], or [former locations]. The idea coming across is that [duality] will create [strange weather transpositions] as a part of the total [transformation] sub set. The idea is that [continuous (risk/threat) of floods] in areas not usually prone to such will be juxtaposed to areas formerly [wet] that will go to sudden [drought]. These [drought] references are supported by aspect/attribute layers including detail layers of [ground cracking], and [separations] of the [layers] of the [ground]. The [separations] are described as so [deep] as to be [causative] of [land slides].

Within the [landslides] supporting sub sets there are detail layers suggesting that [cancellations] of [public performances] and [festivals] will be something of a planetary meme over [summer] and [fall] in both the northern and southern hemispheres. These [public performances] include descriptors for an instance where the [performance] is [interrupted], *then* [cancelled] by a [land slide] which is too damn close for [comfort/surety].

New linguistic structures are building under the Terra entity in support of [confusion] as a rising emotional state relative to the [planetary changes] taking place both here on terra, as well as [across the solar system]. This area is understandably cross linked internally in the Terra entity to the [sun] sub set, and also over to the SpaceGoatFarts entity and the many [sun] sub sets there, including the [sun disease] sub set. This last is a very large archetype that likely will produce [disease] as a thought relative to the [sun] at a number of different levels, including instances of [mental illness] in humans over 2009 and 2010. The new sub sets in support of the [confusion] descriptor are extensively cross linked over to the populace entities, with specific focus on the Populace/USofA. Some of the terminating sets include [nasa] and other bespoke [government] sub sets, that also include explicit references to the [shadow government]. There are multiple instances and layers of the [confusion] set accruing here in the Terra entity as well as in the populace entities. The interpretation is that [pan solar system changes] over 2009 will produce [confusion] at very [visible] levels in all forms of [officialdom], while producing even more, though different forms of [confusion] within the [unaware populace]. The [pan solar system changes] necessarily include both the [sun] and [earth/terra]. Of course the [local to planet earth/terra] version of the [changes] will be the most impacting and are providing the most support for [confusion] within the populace entities. However, and curiously, this is *not* the case with the [officialdom] sub sets which will be more perplexed or [confused] by [changes] elsewhere in the [solar system] than here on [terra]. Much of the support for [confusion] within the Terra entity is going to the idea of [unapproachable occurrences] such as [volcanoes], and some [under ocean seismic events], as well as [ground sounds]. These are further supported by [destruction of the past], and [lack of adequate guidance (from past occurrences)], and [impacts (on) vast forest lands], and [discontinuations/interruptions (of land exploitations/mining/hunting)], and [lost populations], and [painful (populace) retreats (in the past)].

The [confusion] descriptor set within the Terra entity has detail layers which are either internally cross linked, or directly held that go back to the [new lakes (from) high altitude rain waters], and [shifting wind patterns]. There are also directly held sets for [dammed up reservoirs], and [sealed up valleys], and [unable to flow (new rivers)] as points of the problem set that will cause the [confusion states] within the [officialdom] and [general populace] albeit of a differing nature. The [confusion] descriptor set is dominant from late Spring all through the rest of 2009 until late December when it is replaced in its dominant role by [difficulties] aspect/attribute set.

Both the [confusion] and the [difficulties] descriptors have very large [officialdom] components, and in the case of the Populace/USofA entity, the sub sets most dominant within that sub set are [nasa], and [nsa/spies], and [shadow government]. In the Terra entity the cross linked areas include references to [arroyo's], and [rifts] which will be of [special/particular] interest to the [shadowy side of government]. Within the supporting sets of the Terra entity for [confusion], the progression toward [difficulties] over 2009 moves the larger mass of the sub sets over to the [shadow government], and specifically the [obama political face] on the [government usofa]. The implications of the [rising difficulties with weather/climate/earth changes] are that the [obama administration] will be [overwhelmed] in November and December not only by [further crashes (of the dollar/derivatives/government funding)], but also by [infrastructure altering] planetary changes. These Terra entity held sets in support of the [difficulties] are significantly moved into positions of [problems] for the [obama administration] as modelspace is progressed through from the Spring equinox until the Winter solstice. The nature of the [planetary change] induced [political problems] include [resource access alterations], as well as [famine], and [strange weather patterns] which will include [high altitude flooding] that threaten [human habitation]. This is not to say that such problems are not global, nor that the planetary populace is not impacted, but rather that the sums of the emotional tone numerically have the greater level of emotional impact here in the USofA and that this emotional impact summation provides for yet-more-political issues for the [obama admin]. These [political problems] include a late November or early December [forcing] of [international crisis] as a direct result of the [planetary changes].

Conclusion: ALTA 1109 - Part Four:- Whirling Please

Having arrived at the end of the first month of the solar calendar for 2009, it becomes evident from just these few days that [transformation] **is** manifesting at a global level. It has just begun. If thinkers such as Kurzweil, and McKenna are correct, then [transformation] will not end with 2009, but will in fact both continue, and accelerate though to 2012. The fractal nature of time itself is becoming revealed to the aware observer as events emerge from interlocking streams of connected contexts across the dynamic energy field that is omni humanity.

The omni humanity energy field would look, to those beings whose perception includes energetic forms of material beings, as 6/six plus billion whirling tori within the larger whirling torus of planetary energy that is earth. Of course the 'field' viewing space beings would also be able to see all other life here on terra in their energetic forms as well. Such beings would also be able to perceive the interconnections between **all** of the energy fields here on the 'solid earth' beneath our 'solid' feet. They would be aware of the various forms of interactions, and interconnections and could 'see' the impacts that our energy fields have on each other as well as the non human life enveloping all of earth. To such a species of energy/dynamism viewers, the concept of [transformation] would actually be visible at several differing levels from the individual 'life torus' up to the interconnecting biofilm of 'life fields'. Mostly frequently, and most logically, the expression of transformation **must** occur first and last within the spin rates of the tori with likely variants being harmonic to the underlying rotational forces. Such species of energy viewers would see [transformation] spread from tori to tori across the whole of the dynamic life field as a 'radiation' of energy/frequency changes. To such beings, the visibility of the spin rate changes within the mass of whirling individual torus forming the vast aggregate whirling tori that is life here on earth would express [transformation] itself as a dynamic, radiating change with both subtle and grosser pattern effects. This level of 'vision' must present some spectacularly beautiful expressions of universe as energy patterns.

Of course to most humans, [transformation] will have to be [felt] and [experienced] before being visible. Mostly the materially bound minds of humans resist transformation. There will be the [transformations] induced in the giant tori that is the planet continuously manifesting, and some of the planetary transformations will be perceptible even to the more dense of the humans. To the aware observer, the transformation will unfold within omni humanity and the local expression of universe as though the much anticipated flowering of a lotus. First the outer leaves covering the flower bud begin to swell and separate, revealing the first glimpse of the hidden color of the petals. As each layer of petals opens, the whole of the creation is gradually revealed. It is no wonder that the vedic writers compared both 'time' and 'enlightenment' to the opening of the thousand petal lotus. Nor is it any wonder that the TPTB going back to the British monarchy prior to the rise and fall of the greater british empire had slandered those who search for enlightenment as drug addicts, and even worse, revolutionaries. And of course it makes sense that the secret societies going all the way back to the Roman empire, and perhaps even before that, had labeled the 'enlightenment seekers' of the East as the 'lotus eaters', yet they continued to send their own students to seek out the knowledge thought to be hidden in the land of the lotus eaters. The secret societies, in the main, seemed to have failed, gathering to themselves only the rituals, and techniques and theories without grasping that the path of the lotus cannot be bent to the will of power politics. Further while the secret societies have adequately preserved the knowledge and warnings over time for the immediate future (2012 and beyond), by their very nature, that is to say the 'organizational mind' inherent in the secret society itself, the 'secret' has been lost to them. It is experiential, and the experience brings awareness which brings liberation which in its turn brings resistance to return to the old way of power politics. Which kind of defeats the purpose, as they perceive it, of the secret society reason for existence. Soooo....a conundrum has been built into the system all these centuries.

The data sets hold out an image of the [breakdown] of the [perception] that will [reveal] the [inherent failure] of the [power structure (political power of organizations)] over these next 2/two years. The implications are dire, on both sides. If not handled well, this breakdown will lead to pointless, and very violent insurrection and revenge taking by the huge mass of disenfranchised populace. This [breakdown] will begin expressing itself over these next few months, perhaps visibly by mid to late Summer. Parts of the [breakdown of perception] hitting the populace as a whole will be expressed by the [organizational mind] in episodes of surreal behavior as the constraints built in by the patriarchal system since the beginning of the Piscean age fail to accommodate the emerging nature of the reality of the Aquarian age. There are undoubtedly many layers of effective symbolism contained within the Aquarian imagery within the zodiac. It is the only human image representation within the western zodiac, and was initially represented as a female archetype as bearing the [waters of knowledge]. Since universe operates in a fractal manner at all levels, we can likely expect the transition into the waters age of Aquarius to be accompanied by 'water' being expressed at all levels, including knowledge. This will cause all kinds of problems for the organizational mind which was set within the Piscean age and the inherent archetype of [schooling behavior] as seen in schools of fishes.

The challenge for the aware observer over these next 2/two years will be foremost the avoidance of entrapment within the surreal expressions of organizational mind as it collapses under the weight of knowledge. It will help to learn to be sensitive to the spin rate of the tori which surround you, as well those which compose you.
