

Asymmetric Linguistic Trend Analysis (ALTA)

Intelligence Report - November 2013

Meta Arts

Recent events have slapped us in the face as some of our subscribers (in several different incidents) have found themselves at “ground zero in one of our forecasts”. This makes the 'pre-porting' (as opposed to 'reporting') of events that much more critical to us as people we know will potentially live through our forecasts as they manifest into our reality. This, of course, includes ourselves, and we are acutely aware of the events pressing in on our abilities to produce reports such as these. Everything from NSA intrusions to weather problems to health issues (caused by chemtrails?) have impacted this past run, to say nothing of DDOS attacks, and other software nasties. It is a real test of art, and perseverance to continue albeit in changed forms. As humanity evolves in its internal relationship to itself, its language that it uses to describe itself to itself also changes. Several instances of what we encounter are within this report. Suffice it to say that 'pre-porting' of future events, as an art, will not tolerate rigidity of thinking, or assumptions.

This 'art' is not grateful to the artists, nor vice-versa. Rather our relationship to our work is like that of the suffering patient to the brutal, but effective, oral surgeon....hated, but necessarily part of the cure.

We here at HPH are hoping that people will remember our participation in the cure part of this future, and not our yanking out their teeth (mental preconceptions).

Meta Data

An unexpected meme that has arisen from the data sets over this past run is labeled (by us here at HPH) as [next level sheeit]. This [next level] aspect is appearing in all the entity groups, and in all of these, it appears at multiple levels, and in diverse association with many linguistic structures that are both contradictory, and competitive (in their participation in making our collective future).

Other new memes include a rising reference to [clouds] in various forms, as well as [underseas/sub-ocean] sub sets.

Please pay close attention to the section on Fukushima as it has linguistic variances that are potentially impacting of the interpretation.

Reconnaissance d'Era

The Global Coastal Event (really missed on that name), is on-going. This is a direct consequence of the [expansion (of) earth/terra]. The effects of the [expansion of the planet] are the cause of some of the many [new planetary features]. These include the [north african rift], the [re-alignment (of) airport runways], the [re-distribution (of) satellites], the [volcanoes], [earthquakes], [new lands], [new mountains (under the oceans)] and various more minor physical change effects.

The [expansion of the planet] is also participating in such things as [new winds (strengths at previously unrecorded levels)]. Most of these [new weather/climate phenomena] are directly attributable to the [energies from space]. Of course, it is also the increased energy from the sun that is causing the [expansion process], but in a more direct way, the [solar output], as well as [unknown energies from space], are the cause of the [extreme weather] manifestations.

We need to note that the new size of earth/terra means that our position relative to the sun will change as we 'drop' back slightly from our former position trailing the sun through space. See DJSadhu's animation (on YouTube) of the helical model of the solar system for greater clarity. This 'dropping back' from the sun will lengthen our year. It will also change many of our 'orbital parameters' that will further add a sense of [un-real-ness] to [life here on terra] over these next 40/forty years. While the [planetary 'orbit' change] will continue to produce alterations in both [earth], and its [weather/climate] for several thousands of years, these next [40/forty] will see much of the [last generation (of 'normal civilization') members perish] and thus from that point forward (forty years out and beyond), the [measurement of normalcy] will not be [live on earth]. The humans and other life here on [earth] from then on will be [judging/ascertaining] their [experience of planetary change] by totally new [metrics (aka = their lives of 'extreme climate shift').

The [populace] of that time, some 40/forty plus years on, will be still coping with [terra/earth changes], and [extreme climate change conditions], but the data indicates that their [mental frame/point-of-view] will be such that there will be [no connection] to [previous concepts of normal]. The data is also indicating that these people will not be living in [civilization] as we know it now, though of course the variance will not be [total], nor [ubiquitous] across humanity. The data sets show that these [far distant (to our generational way of thinking) people] will be [living in cities/towns/villages], but that also there will be [large scale nomadic movements], and an adoption of [nomadic life principles] by most of the [populace] at some point in their lives.

As the [expansion] of Terra proceeds along with its shift in position relative to the sun and other planets, we inhabitants can expect a bit of a [rough ride]. The data sets are indicating that all manner of [physical (planet) changes] will manifest over these next [2/two decades] as we enter into the [peak expansion period].

As we have accumulated long term data sets over a significant period (past 6 months), we have a base that describes some of the future a number of years out. These snippets, when taken together, can be used to analyze the conditions that must be necessary at these times in the future for these specific forecasts to appear. These longer term data sets are, in a strange way, supporting the [mayan calendar 2012] date as having been the [shift of ages].

The [shift of ages] is describing both the [physical planet] as well as the [world of humanity]. This [shift of ages] is far more profound than was ever discussed prior to the 2012 date. This [shift of ages] is the actual, physical shift of planet earth/terra into a [new age] as well as its [new size].

Further aspects of the [expansion] of the planet include [new mineral strikes] as well as [new formations] forecast to [impact food crop production]. These new [land formations] are forecast to include [rifts], [splits], [cracks], and other [tears]. Many of these are described as becoming [new water places/carriers]. So, as well as [new lands rising], as a part of the [expansion of Terra], we will also get some new [waterfront property]. Hmmm...and 'they' say that we are not making any more of the stuff (waterfront).

Terra

Fuk'd and Shimmering

The data accretion patterns have some good and bad news regarding [fukushima diaichi (tepcos epic fail)]. The bad news is that [Fall and Winter (2013/2014)] are being described as [dangerous], and [fearful], as well as [damaging], and [harming]. These trends continue their accrual as modelspace is progressed through the Winter (northern hemisphere). The language continues to center around [fucked up fukushima] and [fucked up Tepco processes], until just about March 2014. Then there are some new language patterns that develop. These are not quite understandable. This may be due to the inadequacy of our current vocabulary. In other words, the data, may, just may, be forecasting a 'new' [something-we-have-no-words-for]. This has arisen within our ALTA reports many times where there were forecasts of [new language] usages appearing. These have, so far, never failed to manifest into our reality. A good example is the recent use of the [city-state name] of "Cyprus" to now indicate, contextually, "being fucked over by banks taking your money out of your account", or a 'bail-in'.....in both cases these new linguistic structures were forecast ahead of their appearance by several months. We think we have such a situation developing now. There is some hesitation always, as the data is never really straight forward in these instances, rather it is a case of forecasting a new word, or phrase, by inference rather than implication. Make sense? We are basically forecasting the lack of particular language as the accretion patterns are placing many disjointed words together in unusual arrangements, along with the rise in the appearance of the [unknown] place-marker within the sets. So, the data sets around the [fukushima disaster] are forecasting a definitive [change], that we merely do not yet have adequate descriptors to effectively communicate.

As modelspace is progressed through into April, the [change of state leading to new words] situation is further forecast as taking yet another [large shift]. Now, please note here that there are repeated references to the situation becoming [better] somehow that are temporally linked to the [big shift]. The lexical structures appearing within the [big shift] set have a predominance of [good], and [beneficial] as modifying attributes. So an interpretation that may make sense within this complex linguistic accretion is that a [newness] appears that may represent a natural, or human induced [change] such that [humans perceive and feel] much more [positive] about the situation]. Now noting the ambiguities, and the natural tendency towards hope in dire situations, nonetheless, the interpretation is clearly stating that the [newness (around April)] will be of a [good] nature. Again, noting a sparsity of details of attributes, though not aspects, that is suggestive of a “new context” forming, the only data sets that have any descriptors are being headed by [shimmering]. This [shimmering] is not, as may be first assumed when dealing with run-away nuclear power cores, a negative consequence, but rather has [good], and [positive], and [beneficial] aspect/attribute sets associated with it.

The [positive] aspect/attributes now appearing within the data sets aside, we have many data points indicating that the [Pacific Ocean impacts] of [the fuku nuclear disaster] will persist for decades. The [pacific ocean clean-up] will be a direct result of the continuation, in spite of the April 2014 [good news], of a [need (for) human intervention] that will [persist (for) 2/two generations].

Links between the [global coastal event], and the [220 millions of people fleeing north] are both now extensively supported by [nuclear reactors gone amok], however the data is ambiguous about indicating that Fuk'ushima will be one of these which motivates the [diaspora]. Also we note here that most of the [220 millions flee north] language is specifically focused on [north america], but does not (excepting [California]) involve the west coast. In point of fact, as we have had to examine code and tune the lexicon, Igor was put to the task of analyzing the geographic references for many of the events forecast as a further adjunct to our interpretation. So we know now that it is not merely a majority of geographic references for the [east coast corridor], but rather is over 87% focused on spaces east of Rocky Mountain range. This would suggest that some form of [general nuclear plant crises] will develop that is described as [propelling] the [diaspora towards the north].

We have hunted for specific details within the data sets that may be of use in considering the [fuk'ushima nuclear disaster]. Some of the data sets are pointing toward specific areas that will be faced with [radiation crisis] more than others, but in the main, the impacts being forecast are also indicated to undergo a [large change] along with the [shift in circumstances] that appears over early Spring (northern hemisphere) such that it is [in progress/visible] by [mid April 2014].

What's up? Doc(uments)?

The data sets accruing to the [sun] sub set are large enough to double the size of attribute sets in a single processing. These sets, though diverse, have a very slight preponderance towards a set that is dominated by [ancient activity]. This set includes supporting values for [whipped], and [asterisk], and [glassene], and [homogenous froth]. These primary supporting sets are supplanted rapidly by the rising secondary sets which go to the idea of [striping (as in tigers' stripes)]. The [striped sun effect] is described as [causing consternation] amongst [officialdom] as they [try to explain] the [unexplainable]. Further data sets suggest that [officialdom] at the highest levels in the [various countries] will be [scrambling] trying to [ascertain] the [effects] of a [striped sun].

Further supporting sets include aspects such as [fluff], and [feathered]. Both of these sets in their turn are supported by the same aspect set that is headed by [striped].

Winds of Change (Destruction)

As we have noted in many ALTA reports, the [expansion of earth] will (must) necessarily cause an increase in the frequency and amplitude (speed) of the [winds] across the planet. This is due to the [larger surface area] that the [sphere of earth/terra] now presents, which facilitates [faster wind speeds]. So the 'theoretical' [maximum wind speeds] are forecast as being [upgraded] over these next few years as the [expansion process] increases the [actual recorded wind speeds].

There are other aspects affecting the [winds] that include [more erratic behavior] as they (the [winds]) are going to be transiting an [adjustment period (of about 90/ninety years)] before settling down into more [regular/predictable patterns]. As an aside, the increased [winds strength/velocity] will see the end of the 'high aspect' sailing rig so common on today's small boats.

Data set growth around the [winds increasing (speed)] sub sets continue to grow, especially within the longer term data type. This trend is arguing for years of [increasing threat (to) humans/life] from [wind pattern] and [wind velocity] changes. While these changes are (here anyway) thought to be a direct result of the [expansion process] both due to the increased size of our planet, as well as the [process of expansion] itself wherein [high energy particles from space] are increasing both in [volume] and [intensity], and this effect is translated to the surface of the earth where it is manifesting in our [winds of death/destruction].

As noted over these last few months processing for this report, data sets about the [winds] as a major [weather/climate] theme have joined the [floods] of last year to produce our next few years of [climate misery].

The [winds] are described as [developing] (first in southern hemisphere as we have recently seen) such that they will be [pushing] new [paths] for the [jet streams] across the [upper atmosphere]. Further data sets within the supporting lexical structure point to [new (wind) types] being [labeled/discovered/named], as well as [new weather phenomena] being [observed]. As these sets make their appearance in the first half of 2014, the emphasis is shown as [shifting] to the [northern hemisphere] in a very large way, linguistically speaking. This is to say that the amount of verbiage related to [weather damage], and [new forms of weather phenomena] will be several thousand percent higher in [northern hemisphere] based publications. This is forecast to be due to a [pressure anomaly (new phenomena?)] just below the [equator]. This [new form of persistent/deviant atmospheric pressure phenomena] is described as [propelling/causing] the [new weather patterns] which are also indicated to have [new (trades) winds (across) (around?) the Pacific].

Local Boys Explore the [new territory]

Here on terra/earth, the linguistic structures are suggesting that our [local boys (and girls)] who are [public presenters (for tptb)] will be starting to use [new words] about the [climate] that will include [ice age], and [glaciers], and [magma dome], and [cascade (effect)], and [cross winds (effect)]. These language examples are intended to illustrate the shift in linguistic patterns that are being forecast for the remainder of 2013. As modelspace is progressed into 2014, these patterns of [public discourse language change] within the context of [terra (climate) changes] will be [shifting] into [new territory].

The [new territory] of language about [terra alterations] is forecast as being [wide] and [slippery] as the [msm (lying heads)] attempt to [spin] the various [new language sets] into something that the [minions/officialdom] “think” may be [more controllable]. These [new language sets] coming from the [teevee] are suggested as [causing] a [deep (and severe)] level of [disruption] and [disturbance] within the [(collective) sheeple mind]. The reason for this [disruption effect] would seem to be a poor understanding of the [emotional currents (within the populace – see 'twitchy' below)] and a near total lack of understanding about [linguistic roots].

As the [local boys and girls] attempt to [present (as per instructions)] the [new view] of [planet earth] that is being [dictated] to them by [officialdom], expect to see references that skirt the issue, but also can be understood as [framing (the) expando planet model], linguistically. The data sets are also pointing toward some 'very interesting' [faux pas] being [faux'ed] in [public] just as [unexplained/unexplainable weather (effects)] are being manifest along the [planet].

As modelspace is progressed into Winter 2013/2014, a number of large supporting sets accrue to the [temperature] sub set under the descriptors of [extreme] and [harsh]. These are further supported by [brutal], [wearing], [threatening (life/sustenance)], and other such language going to the idea of [debilitated (worn down) by (extreme) climate conditions].

What is really remarkable within the data sets accruing through this last processing round has been the number of references to [out-of-season weather behaviors]. These events are many, and diverse, but a preponderance are associated with [southern hemisphere] geographic references.

The [harsh (and) debilitating (extreme climate)] is indicated to NOT be restricted to the [northern hemisphere] and its [winter]. The [climate extremes] are also showing as being causal to [confusion] in the [southern hemisphere] as the [extreme climate manifestation] unfolds. The [extreme climate] in the [southern hemisphere] is described as being [duality manifesting] and bringing [confusion] from the [mixed/upside-down climate signals]. The language would have both [seasonally appropriate] weather, but also [extreme (and) out of place/time/season] climate.

Some of the language for the [southern hemisphere (South American continent)] includes [glaciers lost (melted)], while in other areas described as only 1500 kilometers distance away, we have [glaciers forming (in new valleys)]. Both are described as having very large impacts on local and global populations. The local populations will be affected by [floods], and other [extreme weather conditions], while the [global populations] are affected by [trade loss], and much more meaningful, [loss of confidence (in predictable) weather]. The [trade loss] will be [visible] in the [msm] as the [glaciers melting] is described within the details as [ruining] an [industrial plant] which produced a [rare medicinal substance]. This is further forecast as affecting the [planetary supply] of a [high visibility drug (from big pharma)]. The data describes [speculators (in this drug)] who will be [executed (in China most probably)] for [hoarding (for money)]. Ah well, just one of the pitfalls in the [economics of extinction] which even affects classes of humans.

Clouds Descending

The Terra entity data set, along with very extensive cross links over to the SpaceGoatFarts entity, are suggesting that a [cloud] of some form currently [un-named], and [un-acknowledged (by officialdom/academia)], will be video captured as it [descends] in a [manner seemingly under intelligent control]. This [descending cloud] is described as being the cause of a [major freak-out] by [officialdom]. Not only does the data forecast [officialdom] reacting with [military] {ed note: against a cloud? Hmmmm?!?}, but also going into [instant lie (cover-up) speak]. The way the data sets are accruing, and given the small number of geographic references, while uncertain, it appears that this incident of [clouds descending] will be over [north america]. The cross links also contain connections over to TPTB entity, and this would appear to be a temporal marker for a [crisis (of) confidence] within the [body politic (populace and political infrastructure)] over the [people] seen to be [“not in charge”] within [government]. This data set would *seem to be suggesting some form of [coup/counter-measures] being [undertaken] in [deep secret] as a result of the [clouds descending].

Many new [ocean] related linguistic sets have formed. Most of these are extensively cross linked (as may be imagined) to all the other entities from the Terra entity. There is an odd ratio favoring SpaceGoatFarts cross links over the other big entities that has recently become both visible and pronounced as modelspace is progressed into 2014.

Wonky Waters

The Terra entity area of modelspace is indicating a very large increase in total words written about the [oceans] as we move through these next few years. It is very much as though a [new age of planetary exploration] is just beginning (see Local Boys go exploring section for more on the general theme). Within the [oceans] focused sets, there are indicators for [unusual behavior] that will include [land intrusions (form of temporary flooding)], as well as [tidal creep]. This latter is indicated as part of both the [220 millions diaspora fleeing north], as well as the [global coastal event]. Further the [tidal creep] is a core component of many of the long term data sets that are describing our FuturePop as [possessing nomadic values deep (within them/their culture)].

Creepy creeks

There are some sets that indicate that [tidal creep (where the tide creeps in further and slightly deeper each day)] will be affecting [ocean ports], as well as many [inland, river situated, ports] over 2014 through 2036. The more near term sets are extensively cross linked over to the Markets entity area where many are terminating in [capital (facilitates) losses], and [production losses] that will be [near term affective]. Further, at least [2/two] of the [very large re-insurers] are indicated to [ask/seek global-funded bail-out] due to the [extreme levels] of [insured property loss] as a result of [tidal creep] over only the next [2/two years (of 2014 and 2015)]. {ed note: seems a small hiatus in the creep action over 2016 through 2018}.

Another note related to the [tides] is that many areas of the far northern and southern hemispheres will be [having tides] at levels never before experienced. Additionally, other areas further down toward the equator will have their [tidal tables] go [wonky (slightly off)]. This area of [bad tide data] is also indicated to participate in a number of the [losses] that the [re-insurers] will be facing, though the data sets accrue such that it would seem safe to interpret that the [re-insurer companies] will ['not get it'] about the impact of [bad tidal data]. The data shows that these [actuaries] are aware that a [something unknown] is occurring, but will not be able to determine just what is happening to their [marine/oceanic insurance business].

The [ocean] sub sets in both the Terra and the GlobalPopulace sets continue to grow new detail sets in support of the [ocean (underseas) alien wars]. These sets were described in previous ALTA reports and we will not repeat that information here. Noting that the accrual patterns are shifting slightly, we nonetheless have continued growth within the [sneaky war (against) the aquatic aliens] by the [russian/chinese/usa navies] as being [broken out] into [public space] as [certain events] including [land forays (by alien scouting/raiding parties)] begin to be reported. AS MAY BE EXPECTED, the minions WILL be trying like hell to [suppress information] about the [incidents].

Markets

Crumbs and Dust

The data sets are indicating that, while they may be 'too big to fail', the [mega banks] and several [mega international corporations (akin to banks/owned by banks)] will be seen as [crumbling] as Fall (northern hemisphere) moves into [winter/2013]. There are indications that as early as [October] several very large [near-banks/mere-banks] will be [making excuses] for why they are [shedding employees], and [(attempting) to sell off (bits and pieces)]. In [2/two] of these early instances, the [corporations (near to being banks)] will be seen as [twins (book-ends)] at [opposite/either ends] of a [process (fiscal?)] that is [broken]. The language also indicates that the [mainstream media presstitutes] will be [hard pressed/sweating/thrashing] to [explain] the [occurrence] such that the [meaning/signal] is [diffused]. As the [media propagandist whores] are [trying to lie] on teevee about the [breaking news] of the ['disruption of operations' (or similar language)] at these [2/two international corporations], they will be [confronted] by [disruptions] on their [set/stage] as [real people (crew?....gaffers?)] will be [seen reacting] in the [background] of the [broadcast image]. This set also has supporting sets that forecast a [blow-back] episode at the [teevee propaganda show] in which [(future) young whistle blowers] will be [cowed/intimidated] over [normal human reactions].

As modelspace is progressed through the final days of [Fall (northern hemisphere)] and into [Winter 2013/2014] the data brings in a new lexical structure that we have labeled as [clearly]. The [clearly] data set is so labeled as that word will be used extensively, ad nauseum to lead off [alibi's] and [lies] on [propaganda teevee] about the [sudden shift] in [mass social perception]. The data sets accrue large numbers of [alibi's] where the forecast is for the [lying (or confused/controlled) presenters] will lead off their lies with ["clearly"]. This set is more than a linguistic oddity, rather it is significant in that it is forecasting a [turn-around period] in which the [pyramid (power/celebrity/fame/money)] is [up-ended], and the [presenters] are [at a loss to explain (or grasp)] the new [reality].

In this new [emergent reality], the [popular humans] are shown as [poor], [unkempt], [disheveled], [angry], [outraged], [self-actualizing], and many other descriptors that all are going to the reasons as to why the [lying teevee presenters] will be [sucking wind] trying to [cope] with [a new presentation of reality]. Many of the [presenters] are described as [leaving] their positions due to a number of factors, and [inability (to grasp) what is happening] is key among them as they suffer [personal cognitive dissonance]. {ed note: this is likely due to the huge amount of self-delusion that the presenters must practice as well as the constant repetition of the TPTB lies....it affects what is left of their brains...and these people are not known for being able to think and talk at the same time.}

The [presenters dilemma] sets are cross connected to the [revolution] sets. These are indicating that several [significant] and [visible] thresholds will be past as we move from Winter (northern hemisphere) into [Spring]. During the [Winter (of planetary discontent)] the data shows that [order] as is [imposed by TPTB] will [disappear], but [TPTB] will NOT be able to [retrieve] their [rigidity (of thought) = order] during the [shift (into the) chaos (of) creativity renaissance].

The data sets do show that TPTB will try to [label/claim] the [chaos] for their own as they will set about [decrying] the [lawlessness] and [crime], but will soon (at least on teevee) have to [eat their words]. The [mobs] will be actually large numbers of [like minded vigilantes]. These will still be [labeled] as [mobs] by the [lying teevee presenters], but even they will have to [change faces] when the [mobs] are revealed as really [posses] that are led by [duly deputized local peace officers]. Does that make their [imposition] of [local laws] on [banksters] and [corrupt politicians] any more 'legal'? That, and many other [questions] and [points of contention] over [justice range] will be [afflicting] the [populace/USofA] as the [dollar breakdown] is slated to [reveal (terrible/horrific) corruption] that instantly [precipitates/catalyzes] many [flight(s) to avoid prosecution].

The [flights to avoid prosecution], in at least [3/three instances] will have the [bankster/politician/criminals] running smack into their own [karma] as their [minions] are indicated to [smell the flesh frying in the wind], and [turn (their) allegiance around]. One of these instances will bring [tears (of satisfaction)] to the Max Keiser Show....(not saying to whom).

Good ol' (CCCP) days (Stalin's Two Step)

WinterTime and the living is hard.

The accretion patterns of the long term data values show that by late in Winter (northern hemisphere) 2014 the situation globally is that [paper currencies] have [“gone wonky”], and, though some are still in use, are in a state of [hyper uncertainty] at both [regional/local] and [national/international] levels.

This results in a [daily/momentary 'prices' in flux] situation across the globe. In many areas the new [economy] is based on [barter] as the local populations struggle to [develop new systems]. The supporting sets for [planetary paper debt/bankster issued currency chaos] also include sets that describe some areas as being [highly efficient (in their barter systems)], as well as [regions] that will be [exporting] very effectively using [cross border/daily settlement] or [trust-less exchange systems] (Bitcoin/gold/silver). However, in spite of some hints of an emerging [nu system] for [economic activity], the descriptors continue to have growth for [mass social consequences/pain] as the [old central bankster system] dies off. It is encouraging nonetheless that [bright lights (in small pockets)] begin to [enlighten (the) planetary populace].

These descriptors paint a picture of a [planet in depression]. There are sets for [poverty], and [crushing hunger] as well as both [riots] and [multiple day long lines for food]. However, the picture is not ubiquitously [dismal]. In some areas the [food shortages] are shown as being a [pivotal] point that [changes] the [regional activities] into a [concentration (on) new food cultivation] {ed note: need a new word here for something that is not quite agriculture as we know it} techniques that will later lead to exporting both surplus calories as well as [knowledge/skills].

A Promising Romance

The [change state] that occurs along with the [open acknowledgment (of global financial depression)] is also holding out the [promise of romance]. This language is quite odd, considering its placement within the Markets entity, as well as having a corresponding, directly held linguistic structure within the GlobalPopulace entity. Both of the [promise of romance] sets relate to the [Bitcoin] and [precious metals] memes. Within the primary supporting set of [grace (of finding love)] are sets that include [flush (of first romance)], and [discovering (self) through (another being)]. These and many other sets of this same nature are going to the idea that the [planetary populace] is going to [fall in love] with [Bitcoin], and other [alternatives (to bankster oppression)]. This [falling in love] set is also supported at both the primary and secondary levels with [long lasting (love)], and [forever (freed by love)].

Those elements of [romance] which are separate from the [love] sets are going to the idea of the [expression of love (outwardly)] as being the [romance] component. So the data sets are presenting a view of [bitcoin] that goes way beyond mere 'acceptance' to include words that indicate [emotional commitment], and [long lasting love bonds]. Further language includes details for a [wave] of [romance (expression) within (alternative) media] that will be something of a [running stream/thread] for the next [3/three years].

As with all [romances], there needs to be a [villain], and the [officialdom] is described as filling that role]. The data suggests that [officialdom] in a number of [controlled mind countries (USA/Britain/EU)] will [collude] to [force] a [period of contention/lawsuits] on the [Bitcoin romance]. These sets are pointing to an [involved plot] on the part of [israeli agents (for the bankster)] that will [implode] as universe decides to [reveal (the) perfidy]. This [episode] of [entangled israeli (and global cabal) sabotage] will NOT be successful. As modelspace is moved forward into 2014, the [Bitcoin romance] begins amidst the [machinations (of TPTB/officialdom)], and perhaps because of the [contention/difficulty at the beginning] the [Bitcoin romance] becomes that much [stronger].

As modelspace is progressed through 2014, we have language supporting [Bitcoin] that includes [step by step], [advancement/promotion], [progress], [acceptance], [flushing], [rushing], [giddy], [pleased], [satisfaction],

A smaller sub set of this larger [romance (of the new) global (free) currency] is the [precious metals] linguistic set. Both by directly held values as well as through cross links between GlobalPopulace and Markets entities, the [precious metals] sets are also indicating that they will be part of the [romance (of the new) alternatives (to banksters)]. There are supporting sub sets that go to [freedom (from oversight/interference)] as well as [personal responsibility]. These sets are cross linked over to the [lawsuit/contention] sub set from the [Bitcoin romance]. The idea rising from the details here is that a [combined pressure] of [currencies degradation/dilution] as well as the [global derivatives implosion] will [tip the scales (of justice)] such that [precious metals (are) freed (from controls)] as an [unanticipated side effect/consequence] of the [Bitcoin suit/contention debacle].

Familiar Old Faces

Several of the [old guard teevee (financial?) presenters] are indicated to be [checking out/dying] in [unexpected ways]. These will include at least [3/three visible deaths] that will be captured on video. The data sets are indicating that in one instance the [video] was [designed] as an intrinsic part of the [suicide]. Note that not all of these [checking out] {ed note: the language deliberately chosen here so pay attention as we dare not say more.} incidents will be [willing].

GlobalPopulace

The rising supporting sets are dominated by [change] and that is not dominated by a single, easily identified meme. Rather the supporting sets in the descending supporting tree of emotive values are suggesting a period in which [fractured discussion] would best fit. The idea coming across from the data sets can be pictured as a period in which [creativity] seems to [run amok] as [many (divergent) ideas] are [tried/experimented] and frequently [discarded]. This latter will be unique in the lives of most humans as TPTB never [change] any [program] or [effort] once launched. One of the [hallmarks] or [identifiers] of this [new era] in [human creativity] will be the [willingness to discard that which does not work].

Now the grace of this situation is also described as being [magnified] by the [communications networks]. This concept in its turn is highlighted in both the TPTB entity (they don't like it), and the GlobalPop entity (it does like it). The idea is a basic [creativity explosion] that is described, within the longer term data sets which cost Igor so much sweat to retrieve, as being the [catalytic propellant] for the [renaissance era].

Cross Pollination Upgrades your Paradigm

The [creativity explosion] is described as [erupting] on all the [continents] and being rapidly [cross pollinated] by [internet sharing/bragging/competition]. Further the accretion patterns show the most bizarre combinations of [successful/leader culture creators]. These [culture creators] are those individuals who [lead] the [wave/trend] (for that moment) in whatever trend line is under discussion. The [culture creators] cross connections within our geographic references show that very successful [cooperatives] will be seen emerging from [russia/trinidad], [iceland/sudan (and west south africa)] and tens of thousands of other places, many tied to china and india as may be expected. Towards this last, a particular [smelly incident] in [india] is shown as acting as a [catalyst] for some very very fascinating [technologic exploration] on a [technique] to [reverse radiation ionization]. This [smelly incident] is described as [fusing] a very [prominent] Indian family corporation with a (smallish) [Italian village]....note that both are [bound by the sea] and both will share a [blood bond] caused by [bad treatment] on the [ocean].

Blood Bonds better'n glue

There are some small cross links from the [blood bond] language within this section of the Markets entity area over to the GlobalPopulace entity where [blood bond] is a growing, and expanding linguistic structure. This area also includes hints about a [new (type/mindset) of human]. These people are shown as being [dedicated] beyond what would be considered [sane] in today's view of earth. These [humans] will form a [planetary SOC (self organizing collective)] that will [self identify] by the phrase ["i live to serve"]. We are labeling these [kids] as the new [planetary samurai] (note most are not Japanese). The longer term data sets show that these cadres of SOC's will form a totally new kind of organizing principle on our planet that will have multiple generational influence and presence.

Samurai SOC's

These [planetary samurai] are described as [stubborn], [mindful], [considerate], [compassionate], [stubborn], [dedicated], [confident], [self-actualizing], [self-sacrificing], [stubborn], and many other words of similar nature that includes yet more repetition of [stubborn]. There are indeed linguistic elements for [green fascism] within the [SOCS] that will be [thinking themselves] as [planetary saviors]. These [fascistic] linguistic elements are small, less than 6/six per cent of the total, and are not dominant within the lexical structure. Further, the data accrual patterns strongly suggest that something close to [2/two decades] of [intense struggle and failure] by these [developing/evolving SOCS] will [burn out] any [fascistic trends]. Some of the details sets are describing a [hall/public space] within which the [list of (the) names (of the) fallen] will be [enshrined] as part of the [developing relationship (between)] the [general populace] and the [planetary samurai SOC's]. The linguistics accumulate in some strength around a [sacrifice] of [huge proportions (large scale)] some years out (2017/2019?) in which the [first formally trained cadres] will be [devastated] by [circumstances] that will [nearly kill] the nascent [college/collective (house/org?)] of the [planetary samurai] through sheer [number of deaths]. There are large amounts of longer term data around this [situation? circumstances] that curiously point to the [near extinction] of the [SOC's] as being that which would/will [ensure life/strength] for [5/five (more) generations] of [samurai SOC activity]. Apparently the [planetary populace] is [so moved] by these [actions/sacrifice] of the [thousand(s)? of 'earth keepers'] as to respond with a [sympathetic vibration] that is described as [extending (beyond) 100/one-hundred years] into the future.

As modelspace is moved through Fall and into Winter (northern hemisphere), the data sets are forecasting a rise in the conjunction of [military], and [accidents] that will impact the [markets]. This conjunction of set is itself affected by [agitation propaganda (agit-prop)] as the situation 'matures' into 2014. These data sets are focused on late [winter] (northern hemisphere) and do not extend past April. The [changes/shift] forecast for April 2014 in a number of areas also include [military power] such that [globally] a [different (form/type of) paradigm] is shown to [emerge]. {ed note: the [emerge] word is supported by language suggesting it has been [maturing (in) shadows].} The language forecast to arise around the [new military paradigm] is also forecast to [dramatically (affect/change the) financial 'world'] as well.

Whipped Banker Butt

The data sets are showing the [agit-prop] to develop into [whipped frenzy] almost [simultaneous] with the [crumbling (of the) foundations (of corruption)]. The number of links over to the [federal reserve mafia/banksters] is dominating and suggestive of a very severe [crisis of existence] over these first 4/four to 6/six months of 2014.

The [crisis of existence] is described as a [propaganda war] with elements of [sabotage], and [espionage]. Further there are going to be incidents of [assassinations], and [attempted murders (groups?)]. In many ways the linguistics are evanescent of mafia wars.

As the [criminal gang] that is the [FED] fights for its [survival], the data sets are indicating that a great many [banksters] will [not survive]. Not only are there indications of [formal trials (and executions/imprisonments)] in some countries, but also many linguistic sets that are going to [private revenge/settlement (of personal debts (of honor))]. There are also instances, much smaller in number, of [vigilantes mob violence] against [banksters] and [political minions]. Though much more rare, the [vigilantes] acting out will be receiving much more coverage in the medias.

The [bankster wars] are also described as including [political assassinations] that are curiously described as having [deeper meaning(s)] than what appears on the surface. The data sets would seem to be indicating via cross links that the [break-away civilization] will be using the general global financial/political chaos to [fix (its) problems (of skimming minions?)].

Energy 2 Army

The data sets have a clear accretion pattern that shows as modelspace is moved past mid November. In this pattern a set that is headed by [energy], that includes [energy from space], is shown as [shifting power] over to [the army]. This area of the GlobalPopulace entity is focused on north america. These data sets could be interpreted as suggesting an [event] {ed note: false or not} that is [energy focused (grid down?)], and that would lead to [power (social?) (political?)] being [shifted (over to the) Army].

The [energy] sets are supported by [energies from space], and [unrestrained], and [primal]. These sets may be interpreted as suggestive of an actual [event from space], but equally could be pointing toward the [reason] that will be [proffered/sold] by the minions IF they take down the [grid] as a [population control mechanism]. It is important to remember that our process forecasts the LANGUAGE that will be appearing in the future, not the events per se.

It is also quite possible, given the huge amount of discussion about this on the internet that we are getting some degree of conscious language bleed through to our interpretation stage. This possibility is very small, and thus the note above. This report is prepared to be released within days of this potential event so the wait time will be minimal.

Perception Equation

As if this two-way, mostly [hidden war] between the [bankster cartel] and the [break-away civilization] were not quite enough, the data sets are describing yet another [facet] of the [financial battles] that will be also [grabbing/demanding attention]. This component is the [perception equation]. In this linguistic set, the [banksters] are described as [consulting (vast numbers of) wizards]. These [wizards] are [technocrats] who work for the [officialdom/minion classes]. These [wizards], according to the data sets, are going to be [retained/hired (and coerced?)] into [waging war (on the mind of) the populace]. This [mind war] is described as having [casualties] and [bloody battles]. The data sets are also describing this [war against the mind of the peoples] as [lost (before) starting]. The data sets are pointing to a [sophistication boundary] in which the [peoples (sheeple)] are [suddenly] and [violently] subjected to a [rapid escalation] in [advertising (mind control) technology].

This [escalation of technology] is described by the detail sets as being [invasive] to the point of [causing seizures] and [mental disturbances] that will [last/affect] the [victims] for [days/weeks]. The data sets are suggesting that it will take a [short time (mere hours?)] after the [first barrage] of the [mind seizure technology] before the [world (of humans)] is [flooded] with the [knowledge/suspicion] that the [mass seizure episode] was [caused by officialdom]. The data sets indicate some level of the populations exposed to this [technology] will [die] as a result, though the [deaths] will be [spread out] over [months] as the [various systems damages (in the body/brain)] are [revealed]. Again we note that this is a temporal marker for much larger changes that will result from the [spread (of the) knowledge (of the) attack].

The data sets are indicating that the [escalation of mind control technology] is an act of [desperation] by the [minions], and actually will be a very good temporal marker for the [loss of control] by the [political class/officialdom] within the [developed world (USA/EU)]. The data sets are indicating that this [unleashing] of the [aggressive mind control technology] will result in the [executions] of many of the [officialdom] class as the [populace] becomes [aware (of the) crime] against them, and sets about [taking revenge] for [destroyed family members] many of whom are indicated to be [children], and [mentally impaired/damaged (for rest of life)]. As a side effect, this [episode] will bring about the [control] of [television/media] in new ways at the [local] level, and will further [incite communities] to [rampage] and [destroy GWEN (and cell) towers] across [USA] and [EU]. Hmmm....shows a lot of work for fellows with rope and big-ass trucks.

Again the data has presented [flood] language within the [markets] sets, and within the GlobalPopulace entity in areas, seemingly, having nothing to do with water. We note that the [financial system] language sub set of the GlobalPopulace entity is boringly filled with repetition of [flood] language. While this may indeed be indicating a [flood] of [FRN/currency creation], the aspects are also supporting interpretations for a [flood] of [withdrawals], and a [flood of troubles], and a [flood (of people) within bank buildings (run?)], and many other instances of [flood] being in support of the aspect/attribute sets for the financial system language.

Within the [flood] language applied to the [financial system] we find that the descriptors are clustering in support of a change of state into [boiling (frothing/whipped)] that is further supported by [fear shifts (within banksters/officialdom)]. These [officialdom/minions] affected are also described as being [video captured] as they [flee (down halls)] from [angry mobs]. There are many references to [blood (of minions/banksters)] that will be [viewed (on screen)] as it is [let/flowing/released] by the [outraged mobs].

As a prelude to the [outraged humans rampaging], the data builds across late Fall and into Winter (northern hemisphere) with repeated sets for [background] and [hidden/under covers] activities within the [banks] and [government] that will be [revealed] {ed note: not only by Snowden} such that the [revelations] themselves are shown as [contributing] to the [collapse of confidence] in [bank issued money]. These [hidden acts] will be viewed as so [horrific] that [tens of thousands] of people involved are described as [being killed/suicided] over the next few years.

The [revelations (of crimes against the people)] over Fall/Winter (northern hemisphere) are further described as [precipitating] a [taxing crisis] within the (developed world) countries as the [tax payers rebel]. This is further described (within the USA) as causing a situation in which the [officialdom] tries to [split the populace] by [blaming] the [tax protestors] for the [collapse] of the [social security net (includes medicaid et al)]. This is indicated to [fail miserably], but apparently the [minions] are so desperate by that time that they try to [sell (on teevee)] the [lip-stick painted pig of a lie] as [truth]. It is a series of such [lies (blatantly false statements)] over the next [4/four months] that the data describes as the [motivation (to move into)] the [alternative (global) community].

Hornet's Nest

Further [impetus (to become aware/awake)] is indicated to arise from within both the [global populace] itself, and [outer space]. This last is by way of huge ropey mats of cross links over from the SpaceGoatFarts entity where the point of origin is in the very ominously (and hopefully wrongly) named [alien wars] sub set.

Within the [global populace] itself we have data indicating that many [alternative truth efforts] (now underway) will be [staggeringly successful]. Being [created/produced] from a globally diverse [spread (of) humanity], we note similarity of intent within dozens of languages. The data sets are indicating that [officialdom] in all its repressive forms around the planet is going to be [under scrutiny], and [under (verbal/video) attack] from more sources than it (officialdom) could have ever thought possible. The data sets are pointing to 2014 as the [year of sweating (public) figures] as video after video shows [politicians (and other minions)] under [concerted] and [difficult] questioning all of which will share a common 'tone' of [aggressive and informed interrogation].

Go with the Alt-flow

A very significant sub set of the [bankster wars], and [wars against the banksters] is built around the [new (alternative) money system]. These sets include a variety of references to [alternatives] to the [US dollar]. While there are varying emotional weights associated with each of these [new dollar alternatives], the main importance of the set as a whole is greater than the sum of its [new currencies]. The set, in total, is expressing the certainty/certitude of a [rise of (a) replacement system] for the [US dollar] in the [very near term (4 to 6 months?) (before/concurrent with summer solstice?)]. This set has many references to [precious metals], and [bitcoin] (and other cryptocurrencies), and also includes [gold certificates (of exchange)] {ed note: apparently made of gold plated, plastic 'paper'}, [oil reserves], [commodity banks/storehouses], [resource reserves], and [calories (foods/consumables)]. Note that this set is NOT saying that officialdom will announce any form of new currency/financial [reform], rather the depth of the details suggest that the [financial system (crumbles away)], in spite of the [outright denial (of officialdom)]. This set will be proven to be true not by any announcement, but only by our living (and being aware) of the changes as they are occurring. Everyone else will find out about it by reading it as history.

The dominating identified trend within the [alternative currencies/financial system] sets is one of [experimentation]. This set includes support down to the details level for the idea of [“it can't be worse (than the US dollar experience)”]. The data sets have accrual patterns for [international exchange (of trade settlements)] as being a [constraint] upon the [US dollar] and the [US (FED) hegemony] as most of the [nation-states] begin to [decline (to accept) FED dollars].

The [decline (of) FED dominance] is shown as concurrent within modelspace with the [evaporation] of [protection] for [US (minion) politico's/banksters]. The data sets are pointing to a [group/cluster/series] of [assassinations] in early 2014 as a 'sign' of the [breakdown] of the [criminal protection (racket)] that is the [Federal Reserve Bankster system]. According to the data sets, a number (most?) of the [assassinations] will be [sourced] to [disgruntled (former/current) criminal partners] of the [political minions]. In one specific detail item, we look for temporal markers around [revenge (against) Iraqi Dinar scam perpetrators] as annotating a key transition point for [currencies] and [bankster wars]. The data indicates that a [brouhaha (scuffle)] in a [dinar scam office] will [erupt] into the [news media] in such a way as to [highlight] the [confidence component (to paper currencies)]. Also this episode should be interesting to [view] as much of the [bloody fighting (within the office)] is apparently [video captured] and will be available (at that time) on various video outlets on the internet.

Swing your partner, to-and-fro, get the blood a rushin', from head to toe.

From the viewpoint of the regular human here on Terra, this next year promises to be the most exciting in the last several hundreds, if not thousands of years. Noting that [exciting] is not necessarily conducive to either peace or ripe old age, the data nonetheless is explicitly promoting the idea of [personal (felt) excitement] for most humans over 2014. The [excitement] set is supported at the primary and secondary levels by [unknown], and [unknown futures] respectively, which can be 'read' as [most of humanity will feel some level of excitement in 2014 at the breakdown of the existing order/structure and the unknown nature of its replacement].

There are significant emotional sums in support of the [unknown] and [developing (before our eyes absent any preconceive patterns in our minds)] sets that in turn are supporting the [(unknown) view of the future] for the majority of GlobalPopulace entity.

Lower that BMI

Part of the [unknown] sets that are the cause of both [fear] and [hope (for futures not yet visualized)] include data for [starving the beast]. We *think that this will be some form of linguistic 'pass' or 'catch' phrase for a [global movement] at a [populace] level. This [starving the beast] phrase is interesting in that it is also to be associated with [patches], and [tattoos], and [banners], as well as [SOCs] and their [logo/identifiers]. There are, in a strangely similar way to the old [dog poet] references waaay back in the ALTA reports, some references to a [drawing], or [illustration] that will become associated with the [starve the beast] movement. This is a very key temporal marker for large levels of [social upset] as it marks the [shift] of the [populace] across the [chasm (of action/knowledge)] which later provides the [population base] for the [Great Meeting].

As these sets accumulate within modelspace, there are descriptors for [populace sub groups] that indicate that [many peoples (clans/communities)] will be [feeling left behind/caught out unawares] by the seeming [suddenness] of these [very large/significant], and [vast (historical scale) changes]. The data sets are pointing to these [deep sheeple groups] as [acting out] and [behaving badly] as their [highly structured view of reality] runs into [rampaging change]. This phenomena of [group cognitive dissonance] combining with [rapid change] to produce [group hysteria] resulting in [community re-enforced, reality denying, bad behavior] is found across the [human planet] as the [social/financial changes] gain [momentum] in their [multiple passages (around) terra].

The data sets are painting pictures of [isolated groups (of immigrants)] and [enclaves (of socially isolated groups)] who will [wake up] to [discover] that the [infrastructure] that [supported their life (view of (propaganda inspired) reality)] is [gone over-night]. The [riots], and [social confusion] that results is described as both a [cleansing (of social barriers)] phenomena, as well as a [on-going task (at education)] during the [revolution/renaissance].

Twitchy

A new linguistic structure is appearing in the GlobalPop and Populace/USofA entities that we are labeling as [twitchy]. This is a primary supporting set that grows over the last quarter of 2013 and rises very rapidly in the first quarter of 2014 such that it becomes a dominating influence for all of next year. The [twitchy] sets are showing up in many different areas of modelspace, in many of the entities, and are supporting the idea that 'things', aka the 'human world' in a general sense are [shaky] at best. The [twitchy] set is dominant, by late March 2014, in the areas of [global housing], [global fiscal/currencies], [food prices], [earthquakes], [unknown energies from space], [military-entertainment-law enforcement complex], and TPTB entity among a great many other areas. The [twitchy] supporting set, or its subsets are found in nearly all the entities, and in some, such as Markets, GlobalPop, Populace/USofA, TPTB, OfficialdomToadies (the psychopaths who actually do the dirty work for TPTB), and even the Terra entity itself, the set is either a primary supporting set, or leads the secondary supporting sets.

The [twitchy] sub set is supported at the primary level by [unknown energies from space] via the SpaceGoatFarts entity. The [unknown energies] set is itself supported at its primary level by [visible (light) disturbance(s)]. This supporting set is quite intriguing and contains details that reference [frequent] and [upsetting/disturbing] episodes in which the [perception of visible light (will) change].

Further subsets within the [global twitchiness] include descriptions of [shaman revivals] as [peoples (around the) planet] seek [understanding] and [relief (from disturbances of the mind)] as a result of the [twitchy energies].

Here in USA, the [twitchiness] is indicated to bring [confrontation] and [destruction] to the [officialdom/minions] as the [peoples] become so [unsettled] that an [attitude] of [“authority be damned, I'll do it anyway”] takes hold within the [populace]. This set is curious as well in that it shows the [alignment/allegiance] of [generations apart] against the [officialdom] and their [unwillingness], and [inability] to either [understand] or [cope] with the [new energies from space]. These data sets describe the [young (and their grandparents)] as [facing down] (the young people's) [parents] on the [barricades/checkpoints]. These sets include references to a [new (cult of the outlaw) here in the USA that will be [visible] within the first half of 2014 as [government/officialdom] is shown as [trying] to [criminalize] the [expression (of good thoughts)] towards/for the [enemies of officialdom].

Banning SOC's

This [outspoken attempt (to criminalize) thought] is described as a key temporal marker for both the [crumbling (of) authority/officialdom] as well as the [initiation (of the alternative)] . Within the [cabal controlled] countries, aka the 'developed world', the data sets are pointing towards the [rising (of) secessionist SOC's]. The [secessionist SOC's] are described, in 2014, as [moving apart], and [building communities]. These [communities] are further described in the detail layers as being [anti-officialdom], even to the point of a new form of [announced social contract/stance] being evident in USA and EU over 2014 in which [SOC's/groups] will [post bans] on [properties/lands/buildings/cities(blocks)] in which [officialdom] will be [placed on notice] that they are [out of their jurisdiction/bailiwick].

At one level the [secessionist SOC's] and their [posting of bans] will also be a temporal marker for the next phase of this trend, as in late 2014, the SOC's will [come together across the planet] in what is described as [The Great Meeting]. The data on [The Great Meeting] describes a multiple week [effort of work] in which [diverse peoples] across the planet use [technology] to [seek common ground (around officialdom)].

Globally Common Minds

The data sets describe [artists] as the [instigators] of [The Great Meeting]. In a real sense, the data is saying that a [bunch of far edge artists] have a [good idea] that [gets out of hand]. This [out of hand], or [life of its own] quality is a very important component of this upcoming [The Great Meeting] experience. So much so that the data describes many of the participants later using language that expresses a certain [bewilderment] at [their own actions/participation] as it is [self described] as being ['unlike myself'], or ['outside my comfort zone'].

The descriptors for the [The Great Meeting] experience suggest a [participating 'audience'] {ed note: another instance of new word/phrase in process of manifesting...'audience' is best we can do} of [hundreds of millions] at any given moment within the many [days/nights long] event. In a real sense, the data shows that the [The Great Meeting] never really ends thereafter.

Shady Characters, Self Lighting

We 'think' that we have identified 2/two of the [key participants]. These individuals are further described as [changing (their) lives] as a result of their [words] during [The Great Meeting]. This [change (in their) life] is also to be reflected in a [change (of) planetary human life] over the next [3/three years]. Cross links from this area of the [The Great Meeting] suggest it as a instigation of the [planetary samurai] movement, as well as the [ocean healers SOC]. Both of these sets have multiple generational impact on the humans and other species here on earth.

The [personalities of exceptional contribution] that we think we have identified as being seminal during/at the [Great Meeting] are among the [activists] of today, but not as one would imagine. It is difficult to proceed here as we will NOT be revealing who we think these individuals are as pre-knowledge would/could have adverse affects. It is important to note that none of these people are minions or politicians, and that many humans on earth are going to have a “WTF?” episode as a result of viewing several familiar faces in strange places as the [Great Meeting] commences.

(Will) Power Wave

Within the data sets for the GlobalPopulace entity, there exists a set for the [next (level) wave] that is (and will persist in) rippling through the [global social order]. This set is labeled as the [will power wave] set within the data. It is affective now, and has been growing for a number of years in various areas within the social order. We had noted this as far back as 2006, and it likely had begun decades earlier. Indeed, the technology that produces this report may have been born from the very early instances of this wave which likely is also responsible for the whole [awakening (truth) movement]. Without regard to that, the current data sets are describing the next [leg/length] of the [wave] as affecting [will power] such that [individual humans] {ed note: and other species....you'll see} will [demonstrate (to themselves first)] that they have [will power] which allows them to [transform (their) reality]. This [wave] is responsible for much of the [dedication (and lifelong personal sacrifice)] that we will see from the [planet keeper movement]. Some aspects of this [personal will power wave] can be seen in the [extreme calisthenics] movement taking hold as an [anti-position response] to the [destruction (of personal) body health] by the [regime (of TPTB) corporations]. Similar [personal anti-position waves] are forecast for [foods], and [mind development]. {ed note: a 'progression' beyond nootropic stacking}.

A Hard-sighted Woman is good to find.

There are several [key personalities] who will emerge from the [extreme calisthenics wave] into [global visibility]. These personalities are forecast to include one [young woman] who will have a [30/thirty years career] (in some service SOC) that will propel her to reach the [pinnacle] of [leadership] for [her generation]. The data sets are indicating that she is but one of many of the [self-hardened (adamantine hard) personalities] who are going to quite actually [re-shape] the [world of humans]. This [female personality] is further described as [internally disciplined] to a [degree] not [(usually) visible (in public life)]. It will be her [dedication] to [self-actualizing self-discipline] that will [attract] the [immense following] she is forecast to lead. She is being labeled here at HPH as [the hard-sighted woman] as she shares a common trait that will be something of a 'trend' emerging over these next decades. This hard-sightedness has nothing whatsoever to do with her approach to life, or other humans, and rather is a [physical trait (of not blinking very much)]. In spite of the label she is indicated to have [critical insight] into [others], as a result of her [long internal battles]. The data sets indicate that the [hard-sighted woman] will have [familial] associations with Greece.

Some of the other [adamantine hard personalities] are described as coming from various [arts] and [sciences], but all will have [caught (the self discipline) wave], and will be revealed to the aware observer by the [certainty of (not) blinking]. These [personalities] will be [unaware] {ed note: for the most part} that they share this [unblinking/unwavering/piercing look]. It will be seen, and later commented upon, in various on-line video presentations.

Merging Realities

The data of these last few months, especially the longer term sets (affective from 3 months out through 19 months), continue to gain new supporting sets for the [manifestation] into [reality/perception] of [alien wars]. There are many new supporting sets for [ugly ass inter-dimensional space aliens]. These beings are described as having a [visible (on teevee) impact] on our [reality] in some manner that, once again, we have no good descriptors for, and thus we end up with a mish-mash, or concoctions that include such as [quavering air pulses], and [mind visible bursting purples], and [less-than-solid pushing-hands time enfolded]. These are but 3/three of a great many non-sequiters that the data sets are offering up as partial descriptors for this upcoming new variant in the [alien wars] meme.

We can note that what we here at HPH call the “woo-woo” community of [channelers, experiencers, alien contactees, and abductees], and similar fellow travelers are NOT involved in this upcoming [merging of realities], and that a great many of these [individuals] are going to get some [serious sheeit] from their [followers] due to upcoming developments/events which will be not at all like anything ever discussed by the general “woo-woo” community.

The data sets do indicate that [“far look” (no blink?), wizened faced, shamans] will be [instigator y] to some of the [merging of realities], and the subsequent [escalation] of the [alien wars] meme. Some of these [shamanistic personalities (both male and female)] will be [visible (on video)] as the [merging (of) realities] progresses over 2014 and into 2015.

ShameFame

We have some 'solid' descriptors for a few of these [cross-over phenomena] and the [settings]. In some cases, it appears that [masses (of humans and or life)] are [required/necessary] for the [emergence], while in a few others, a [non-visible, commonality] is described as being [present], but not [perceived (by officialdom observers)]. In one instance, the data detail layers are describing what is clearly a [msm media news set] that is ['host' to (or visited by)] an instance of [nearly completely visible reality merging]. The [teevee personalities] are further described as being the [butts (of) butt/diaper jokes] for some days thereafter. The saving grace for the [disgraced, dis-jointed, dis-respected teevee personalities] is that yet another [reality gone wonky] event will overtake their [new shame-fame] in short order.

Conclusion: Nexus Point approaching

Deep within the dark descriptors for our collective near future are many individual shining threads. The effect of these shining threads in modelspace is to cast glowing light on certain emerging 'pre-trends' within the language. Most striking of these weave a tapestry depicting a twisting, shifting, and morphing of the current duality into something new here on earth.

The Mayan calendar hype may have been more accurate than any could have guessed, and the transition phase was merely begun in 2012. Few will deny that 2013 is indeed transitional. How long before the masses of humanity recognize the [shift of ages] has happened is unknown, but what is known is that the spread of awareness to this unfolding of universe is increasing within the global populace. Once awakened, these minds do not go back to sleep. Rather they become catalysts for change in other minds, and so the process of the unveiling of the collective mind grows daily jumping from human to human....even now it may be reaching the [nexus point] at which the [awakening process] will go [exponential]. At that point, the [wave] of emotion you will feel is real, and it will be the first in a number of [humanity signals (to its collective self)]. It will also smear the tongues of the elite with the taste of their [greatest fear]. A glorious day indeed, and perhaps only moments away....that is still in the [unknown].

Something that is known, at least to me, and is proven to be true... universe rewards you when you add value, everything else is theft.

Some arts have it that your greatest enemy is yourself. While truly stated, aikidoka have it as “True Victory is victory over self”. We prefer to work the outcome, not the enemy....a difference with a distinction.

Masa Katsu!

 please note that our interpretation for the Fuk'ushima nuclear disaster cannot but be affected by our personal feelings. Therefore we must note that it may ONLY be our human nature toward the optimistic that makes me center in on the hopeful language within the data sets. Further, the hopeful language itself may be erroneous in that it may be the result of some huge level of social engineering by TPTB, or some other active part of our collective delusion we call reality, and thus may come back to prove to be the opposite of our perceived positive change.
