Meta Arts - First Filters

THE problem with skepticism, is that in the end it returns to open acceptance. When a skeptic encountering circumstances, which provide evidence that leads to a new information, and the internal mental construct of the universe is altered, when a skeptic mind encounters something, a larger data set is used in its evaluation, and the chance of being allowed past the skeptic filters since it is being compared against the current data set. The process repeats occasionally throughout life and as the skeptic ages, the more time until the skeptic, even using that same mind set, can be mistaken, by an encounter. This is referred to extensively in Buddhist literature, and within those meditation techniques (Vipassana meditation) where in the expression is presented as "from the outside, the householder is by his duties". The apparent occupation of the householder/mediator is, like many householder/meditator is constantly operating in [duality] and expressing this while practicing the techniques of vipassana, as does the skeptic retain skepticism accepting much more over time.

The subject arises in response to a couple of universe prompts; Igor had taken my statement at face value, where his response was a snort of derision {ed note: snort like a horse?}. My response when he later questioned me about it was that the more strange something is seen, and thus one becomes more acclimatized to an episode provides a greater base of understanding for examining the next episode. I was annoyed because I will instantly call 'horseshit' on a presentation that Igor says "I thought was maybe possible". What the youngster fails to grasp is that a skeptic goes through a series of filters, hoping to eliminate any encounter though the skeptic. Thus if the first filter fires off, why continue? And the best, in my opinion, of

Thus any encounter where it is perceived that the underlying assumptions, or the universe, has reached the bullshit, or non-viability level. It may well be worth learn from universe offering you this opportunity. That is to say, that even bull those seeking the path to enlightenment. Bearing in mind that the very first rule by getting out there looking for it...so movement is required. Thus part of the anything else is that movement is required to foster new encounters to provide way, the skeptic must be out looking for bullshit. Or complexity. Which is why difficulties. An educated mind can examine an idea without having to accept it here at HPH, I go around in examination mode, while Igor operates by vacillating the old [either/or] paradigm. My approach prompts problems in communication [both/and]. I can hold, examine, and even accept some pretty woo-woo stuff, but ability to grasp (since we are operating from within it). And I can instantly reject human formulated theories, because they are in denial of the very root of universe.

So, since Igor is real young (under 40), and we need to train these young minds formulated an Igor First Filter for Bullshit. What Igor is now doing is to look at proffered information from humans with the idea that "if it could fit into a B-grade is wrong because is too simple to be accurate". The corollary is that "accuracy complexity of the model".

So if it 'feels like a B-grade movie plot', it probably is NOT a good model for as I point out to Igor, when you have seen that plot or variation so many times there are also times when it is possible to learn from a B-grade movie. Pass that

This is also the reason for my refusal to answer 'why' questions. The whole of it should be 'how' and not 'why'), resolves down to [intent]. Why do TPTB do TPTB. I can barely find my own intent most days, even with gallons of coffee accurately estimating the intent of others. That said, we of course, have to make others, and the many volumes of information out there in every culture about how to [win friends, influence people], but a very good approach is to not place it make notes and allow things to reveal themselves to you.

By applying the complexity filter to a number of the current memes floating around conclusions from observations. First we note that the whole of the [alternate timelines descendents of the future come back to cure DNA catastrophe] fall victim to the alike, and too 'pat'. Further there are other layers of complexity that are denied our degraded descendents' plot. These include the [complexity expressed as different aliens. Species that are complex, and diverse, do not, in this universe degrade beings that are less complex, less diverse.

In point of fact, as well as general operating principle, universe has demonstrated everywhere as time progresses. Not the other way round. So, in our opinion, A aliens should be assumed to be bullshit, and self serving of their still hidden agenda as what they deny and omit provides the aware observer with many clues for their internal operating paradigms, but do not accept.

Meta Data - Wow! What an example!, Last Reports?

We had previously forecast, since very early in 2008, that the last of the 'build in very late September, and the first 6/six days of October. This had altered over processed until the description was for this to be a 'plateau' of building tension October 7th. Within that set the week following September 21 equinox, or Sep clues to the nature of the release language burst of October 7th through February accurate!

The language rolling out of most of the humans on the planet, either in the media levels, or on the internet over this week has been a perfect example of the 'con language'. And given the dire economic situation, has held at a very high level time. It is the LAST time for the next 5/five years that we will have building tension

Our very long term data sets are indicating that we are still within a release have been expected that 2012 would have humans returning to a building tension concerns being consciously expressed now, about then, the data sets do NOT shows the longer term sets reflecting the emotional tones for 2012 are still in

As we had indicated at the beginning of this run, we were very excited to be at the shift line from building tension into release language. This, we hope, will lead to manifesting emotional levels. So far, even within the plateau period, we have the referential integrity checks are producing thousands of nicely visible examples already, and we suspect this may scale into the tens of thousands once we have a lot of hours to tune the lexicon between this 709 series and the next, and that run. We do have a lot of emerging data indicating very large scale impacts with the [dollar death] meme which is expressing itself currently as the 'credit crisis' sets suggest that both the [national electrical and fuel power system] and the [infrastructure] these next 6/six months beginning in November, and that [reliability] will be at the end of Winter. This potential and other manifesting circumstances bring up inability to provide these reports in the future, perhaps the very near future. If [visibility] of the problems should be very widely known, such as in the case in the PNW after a large earthquake. Just a heads up that we may not be able to the ALTA reports as circumstances manifest over Fall and Winter. IF circumstances disconnect may evolve into a permanent shut-down here.

Terra - Too Late

The Terra entity has some interesting language showing up in the supporting 1 2009. This includes the very curious phrase of [too late to get away], which in the majority of which are cross linked over to both the populace entities, as well as data sets derived from the cross link layers suggest that the background of the [global Populace/USofA) the [nation ruled] by a [totalitarian regime], and that [dark future of GlobalPop) such that the [people] are [at (active) war] with the [sphinx hat we aspect/attribute set taken from the bundle of cross links going over to the TheI origination point, as well as a termination point for the cross links. The [sphin describing the [upper echelon] of TPTB. This construct is taken from the aspe primary level. At the secondary level it can be interpreted as the [collective/gr their) power talisman].

The core of the [global coastal event] lexical structure continues to grow supp aspect/attribute set. The primary layers are gaining support under descriptors v [restricted], [bound], [captured], [seized], and other aspects/attributes which a down by imagery including descriptors for [man/men] which is modified by [i men] to be [cut (dead) from nets], and [removed (as corpse) from impalement aspect sets going to [boats (of people) going (deliberately) out (to) seek corpse support from other details for [infrastructure], [crumbled ports], [twisted wrec hallways].

There are new accretions within the data sets which are in support of a [direct between the [sun expression] and [human skin]. This is not a new form of 's what is being suggested is that the [chemistry] of the [skin] of [plants] and [an sickness]. Please note that the [sun sickness] has been in the data sets since 20 likely a BIIG event. These [chemical changes] are not further described at term data sets and are showing up in modelspace over 2009. Again, the [chem [new processes] which will impact the 'how' of the chemistry for [skin] for [hu area of the Terra entity is cross linked as a termination point from the SpaceG originating points are within the lexical sets for [unknown energies from space

Populace/USofA - Epic, Monkeys, Murder, Starvation

The word we lazy bastards have chosen for this period from October 7 (more 'epic'. The definitions of this word include the following taken as example from

as a noun

1. An extended narrative poem in elevated or dignified language, celebrating traditional hero.
2. A literary or dramatic composition that resembles an extended narrative feats.

3. A series of events considered appropriate to an epic: the epic of the as an adjective

1. Of, constituting, having to do with, or suggestive of a literary epic:
2. Surpassing the usual or ordinary, particularly in scope or size.
3. Heroic and impressive in quality

In our use of the word, we are applying it as an adjective, or descriptor/modifier 2008 through June 30, 2009]. As an adjective, applied to these coming months apply. However the first definition is an 'after the fact' sort of thing, so not too

3 can be taken as really damn good contextual frames for our use of 'epic'.

Probably there will be many humans writing the literary epics about these times to survive them, but for now, the best of all the definitions is number 3...."heroic

The sheer scope of the problems that now beset the planetary dollar based economy, expanding global population, and the larger context of a very long cycle of which recent profligacy in the financial markets coupled with criminal corruption, period of deregulation that in turn led to the paper dollar prosperity of the last long cycle, this profligate trend, accelerated by the nature of the current 'time' reckless pursuit of power via paper dollar wealth.

Please note the 'feel' of these days ahead. The emotional 'tone' that surrounds this choice, and patterns to the ever present 'e-nattering' will form the core of what is ahead and beyond. The modelspace is showing that we are just at the very opening of this progress modelspace through to December, it becomes clear that certainly by the time the Populace/USofA, and of the GlobalPop will understand what it means to [live in] this world, it will likely never be grasped in toto by most, and perhaps only a few will be able to see the patterns of the emerging ocean of changes about to set all our corks to bobbing. [We will sense] at least some portion of the [grandeur of the times]. It is interesting that the universe chooses to comment, via descriptors within modelspace, on the changes ahead, and in some small way, both Igor and I are taking comfort from MOM' the [grandeur] and [transforming of core] nature of the days, and our good fortune.

As modelspace is progressed into October, and given our granularity, probably it makes a huge change of the top level primary aspect/attribute sets modifying the way in modelspace before. Within the entity structure, the top level descriptors (usually numbering about 640/six-hundred and forty) most often bulge way up and down the priority of what we call 'emotional dominance' within the change rate for these descriptors takes weeks, and within the totality of active primary, which is to say the top 3/three tiers change simultaneously as we have occurred before (we think...sent Igor off to check some older print outs). Oh, and it has all 3/three of the primary descriptors being dominated by [sudden upset]. [sudden/rapid, upset(ing) manifesting circumstances]. The [upset] aspect/attribute as [vomiting], [disgorging/throwing-up], [retching], [fainting], [reeling], [cold], [bowel release/painful diarrhea], [weak legs], [shaking knees], [trembling], [swaying] and others of similar nature. Please note that as archetypes go there are no more physical body parts or processes. So we tend to take such language very very seriously [mental effects] which go to the [cognitive dissonance] described for years now as the [stunned], almost [zombie-like] state of consciousness that is indicated to us will produce a general feeling described by the data sets as [surreality] which will continue in the next years.

The Populace/USofA entity continues to build aspect/attribute sets under [the interpreting as the [death of the USofA dollar as global reserve currency]. I already expressed, [epic]. The aspect/attribute sets contain support from such and a [system] is [being closed] such that the [(ruling) elite] is [buffering (itself) (individuals)]. There are repeated aspect/attributes for [those (who made) very investments], and that they are now being [mastered/ruled (by their) fears]. The coming up from the recent processing of all 3/three data types {ed note: immediate 3/three weeks; shorter term = 4/four weeks through 3/three months; longer term granularity beyond 19/nineteen months} which are in support of the aspects/attributes of the [previous (generations) infrastructures]. The data sets go further to suggest but especially within the Populace/USofA, the [transformation] meme will be;

In the [epic] vein, there is an old Hindoo saying that "when the big tree falls, the days following October 7th. The aspect/attribute sets within Populace/USofA. ThePowersThatBe entity and within that combined set are suggestive of a [flight] by the [elite] as the months move us all further down the [river of crises] into

Which leads right into the Markets entity's [steaming lumps of dinosaur sized] we first used in 2007, I think...it all blurs together..}

The accretion patterns of the Populace/USofA entity, sub set [elections] which now showing that a rising aspect/attribute set may be about to push the [confusion]. The rising emotional sums are showing that the [fated king] will be [met] with supporting aspect/attribute sets are indicating that the results of the [election] moment within the main stream media, and the larger global media stream in USofA will reveal a [dangerously out of touch (with reality)] propensity as the [choice]. THE summation for the national mood comes to [disgust], and [revue] the [active citizens resistance] movement which becomes [visible] in late Fall in [acts of sabotage] nationally.

As a sub set of the [disgust] the data sets are accruing new values for the [killing] [pastors/priests/rabbis] as the [secrets revealed] meta data layer rises in activity conditions within the USofA as Fall fades with the leaves. The aspect/attribute [retribution/vengeance] will emerge relative to the [religious elite]. These will be [money sources] just as there will be a [leak] of information about how the [manipulating] the [sunday emotions] for TPTB. The data indicates that this will be [assassination] of [religious 'leaders'/pastors/priests/rabbis]. As modelspace is Winter proper, the interpretation is that a large increase in [visibility] to the [range assassination] of a highly [visible] religious personality. This [attack] on for the [press] as they will find their [reporters/faces] confronting the [populace] [pleased/gratified] about the [assassination]. There are also detail aspect/attribute [evangelicals] by [mobs] who will [loot] the [structures] of everything of [value] via the longer range data sets and are indicated to begin in very late Winter.

The [starvation] context is growing considerably within the USofA entity, also GlobalPop entity. The [starvation] sub set is a very key driver of emotional su through to near the end of Summer in 2010. The [food riots] and [heat/life riot initially as a precursor to the [citizen actions], but will actually have a parallel [riots] and [rage] aspects active within the entity all through 2009.

ED NOTE: latest sets about the election show for a [completion], and a [baski winner], but that the whole of the process will [reveal] the [sham exterior of a the data sets are indicating that the [election] will [hand over/deliver the nation [33rd/thirty third degree mason]. Hmmm.

Markets - Last and Greatest Blow

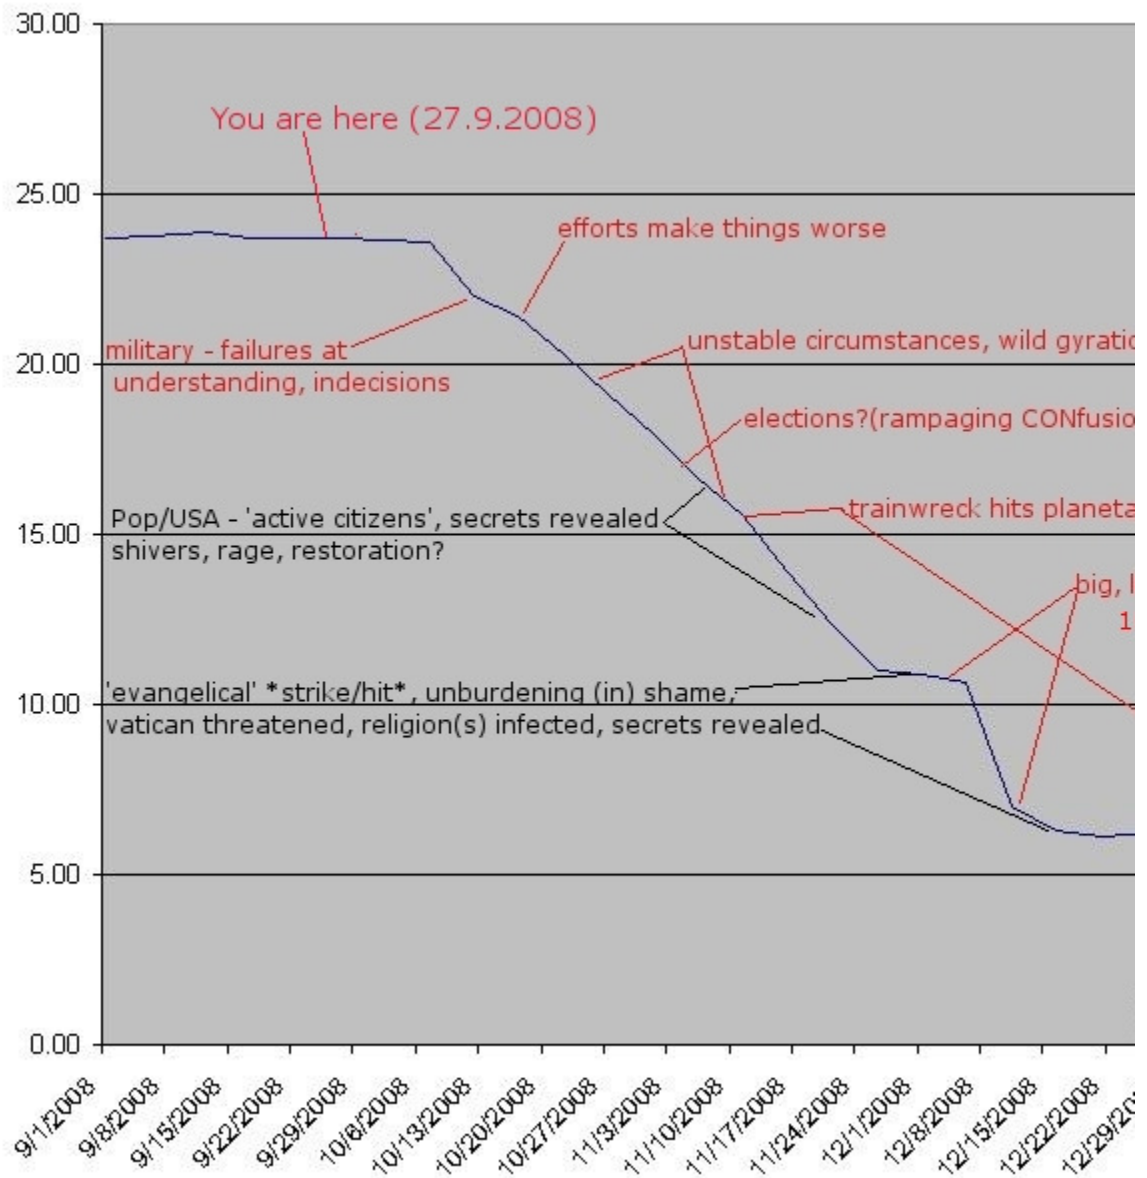

The Populace/USofA entity is not the only lexical structure housing a [lake of similarly carrying this indication of [baggage] from [previous generations] wh after a [fearful/deadly storm]. There are a number of cross links over to the Te [storms] will be [flooding streets] in the [financial centers] and [political swan entity has is more of a [giant financial hurricane of dollars]. This now is augmented by nu such that we have the new incarnation of [hundreds of millions of (small) part phrases within the Markets entity is now providing support for the [lake of ch: lumps of shit (derivatives)].

We also need to remind that the [rejection by all] aspect/attribute set is a supp for years has been building support for the idea that the [usofa dollar] would b data sets accruing under the [rejection by all] sub set are quite grim forecasts f the [death of the dollar] will be a proximate trigger for the [global populace] t is/will cause the [international consternation] later in Fall when the [confusion mood]. This sub set is also internally cross linked within the Markets entity to [disappearance]. The idea coming across in the details is the [total collapse of months as the [dollar dies] and subsequently the [retirement system(s)] (will

There are some small number of very highly emotive values which suggest th: created before October 8th for the USofA centric [markets] will be [derailed/u [frantic] and [desperate] days of November 19 though January 24th. Conclusion - ALTA 709 - Part Three:- Pineal, Coagulation

The 'old' debate about the addition of fluoride to water systems and products i 'strengthen bones' from the 1950's here in the USofA provides some interestin debate, large parts of the populace were against the 'fluoridation' of their water: these were ever addressed in the discourse of the times. Part of the reason that arguments were basically 'fear and anxiety' based, which the TPTB used 'scier

Now the real interesting bit is that the locals were correct, and it is a giant con health of the nation's youth" as was widely suspected in the 1950's when the w with the U.N., communist aggression, and the 'cold war', but actually to alter a pineal gland. It turns out that fluoride does not significantly prevent cavities (f nor does it 'strengthen bones' or any of the other bio-physical properties proffe does do is to calcify the pineal gland. Noted as the source of [awakening powe disciplines, the pineal gland is all of that and more.
