Meta Arts - Here at HPH

Where to from here? We have pending [food supplies] problems, the absolute [collapse of the dollar/USofA (aka dollar death)] as the global reserve currency, the continued increase in biosphere changes which at a minimum will change life-here-on-terra for ever, and the continuing heliospheric level changes, as well as the various stellar and other alignments all rolling down on us with frightening speed, yet glacial mass. So it is natural that the question of 'where to from here' shall arise in the minds of those humans now functioning as aware observers of their own universe.

Igor is seeking a homestead situation in the more northern regions of the state of Washington. In the mean time he is acquiring books on various skills, as well as tools as they become available. He is interested in quality made hand tools of all kinds, and is now sitting down to learn about electricity production. Igor is currently taking an advanced firearms handling course at a local indoor 'shooting academy'. Besides his advanced degree in the pie eating arts, Igor has begun to attend/audit classes at a couple of local community colleges where he is studying food preservation techniques, botany, and agricultural courses. In addition he is seriously considering taking up apiary husbandry in spite of rampaging phobias about bees.

Clif has already a solar electric, off grid system, and is now putting up a small windmill to augment electric production. The windmill can also be mounted on the boat which he will have completed in early 2009. This boat is heavily electric, and will be able to plug into his home system to both provide continuous recharge, as well as to be able to use the 400+/four hundred plus amp hours of battery in the boat system as part of the home system. He also has an electric motor capable of driving the small boat at 8/eight to 10/ten knots for over 24/twenty-four hours without a recharge. The boat is an american sharpie rigged with fully battened lug sails also known as 'junk sails'. The boat is flat bottomed and can be beached with relative ease anywhere in local waters. The boat is designed to provide transportation and habitat for long periods in the event of global water issues, or local transportation break down. In the event of local civil disturbance the boat can be easily launched very close by, and would then provide the ability to stand away from problems on shore. Further, in the event of mass evacuations, the boat also facilitates the use of very low traffic waterways as an alternative to joining the local populace on clogged or failing roads. Clif has stored fuel in several forms, and is prepared for emergency conditions for at least 2/two years. Clif has an extensive collection of hand tools, and is skilled in their use. Clif is a vegetarian of many decades, and is developing yet more skills in food production and storage. He is now exploring the potentials for 'sprouted grains/seeds' as a Fall/Winter based fresh food source. He has also crafted a steel framed geodesic grow dome of 30/thirty plus feet diameter for season extension in food production. This greenhouse dome is provided energy for fans and heat via a bleed off system from the solar panels (and soon the windmill). The greenhouse provides fruits, vegetables, herbs, and mushroom production space as well as a place to work on the masts and other looooong stuff in the winter.

George Ure is a 'land baroon' in SE Texas where he is crafting his own 'boat on land' approach to weathering the coming storms. His activities include solar electric, as well as goat-power (nope, not giant mutant space goats) systems. He hopes to be able to complete his invention of the goat-powered shortwave radio while patents are still quasi-meaningful. Recent activities include stress testing of materials, and advanced word smithing.

Terra - Flaky crust, Glazed stares, Potable Portage

The data sets associated with [twin earthquakes] continues to grow.

The newly supporting sets are within the aspect/attribute sets of [pulsating (motion)], and [rippling (ground)], and [motion (of) sound (in) ground]. This last is supported by aspect/attributes which suggest that it is related to [waves] of [propagation] within the [surface] of the [earth], as well as being a literal/actual reference to [sound (coming up from the) ground] during the [earthquake(s)]. Further support builds under [mountains] where the newly arrived aspect/attributes include [frail crust], and [broken (open) fertile plain]. Other aspect/attribute sets in the supporting chain include [seed(ed) valley] as being the [focus/nexus] of the [most damage], though note that this is not necessarily the epicenter of the earthquake energy.

The data sets in the deep supporting layers include [stripes] as in [tiger stripes] that are forecast to make a [visible appearance] {ed note: most likely after the earthquake}. We also have [vegetable fields] at many different levels of support indicating an agricultural area will be very central to the [visible] aftermath. Deeper into the detail aspect/attribute layers we have descriptors for [images/views] of [humans looking up] and [humans (with) dropped jaws] and [humans with [fixed/glazed stares].

Part of the data sets are now going to the [visible] problems which will result from the [earthquakes]. A very major problem is showing as an [agricultural area] being [so devastated] as to have [problems with production]. Both this last, and the [rebuilding] are indicated to be a [decade, 10/ten years] activity. Other issues include the [immediate needs (of) food] and [shelter] for the [affected humans]. Much of the supporting language is coming in support of the idea of [needing to feed] some large/significant numbers of people post-earthquake. This is shown as being caused by several factors including the [isolation] brought on by the [disruption/destruction] of the [roads]. Some of the detail layers show that many days later, perhaps even [weeks], there will be a [cadre] of [humans] and [animals?] which will [undertake daily walking] to [bring back supplies] to the [affected regions]. The data sets are presenting the idea that even [large amounts] of [helicopter] delivered [food/aid] will still [require/need] to be [hand carried] to get to the [isolated communities]. The local [systems] for everything from [health care] to [fuel delivery] will be [disrupted] for some time in excess of [3/three years] by the [alterations] in the [ground shapes] and [bridges failing].

The data sets are also indicating that [following] the [earthquakes] and the [dancing mountains], the region (and perhaps the whole of the planet) will have a period of [profound rest/quiet] relative to [earthquakes]. This [period of rest/quiescence] is apparently of an emotional significance as the [lack of activity] is indicated to cause its own level of [stress] in the populace of the planet.

Markets - Critical Mass, Shining Fears, Too-Big-to-Save, Mud, Beggars,

As the modelspace is progressed into and through the last days of January and into early February, the Markets entity appears to be suggesting that the [volatility] of the [global paper debt markets] will [recede], albeit into a more [stable mode/picture] of a very [grim nature]. The accrual patterns of the supporting aspect/attribute sets are seemingly pointing to a [collective understanding] {ed note: probably at a planetary level}, of the [destructive trends] of the [paper debt markets]. It is as though the language is attempting to convey a [turning] of the [minds] of many millions of humans toward maintaining a [resolute response] to [increasingly crushing/catastrophic news]. The data sets are indicating that the [government lies] from the [bilderbergers/TPTB anglo-american] which will be [revealed] over the course of [winter 2008/2009] will come back to [disrupt] the [moods] of the [markets] beginning in late February.

The Markets data set accretion patterns are showing that as we end the first month of 2009, the [secrets revealed] from the [officialdom/TPTB] will begin to [spark/trigger] a [transformation] in [awareness/consciousness] relative to the [currency/USofA dollar] and the role(s) of the [bilderberger/TPTB/monarchists] in the [destruction] of the [economy] at a global level. This [transformation of awareness] is indicated to be [visible] at many different levels, though perhaps none more so than within the [independent media/internet] and reports on the [opting out (of government systems)] at a global level.

The data sets do indicate that TPTB and their [politicians/petty_people] will continue to [hype/promote] the [saving (of the) paper debt system/banksters], but apparently this will be a [failing effort] due to the [transformation process] having been [initiated] with the [secrets revealed of December through [winter 2008/2009]. The Markets entity is not alone in forecasting a 'critical mass' of people becoming [disenchanted] with the [organization/government] promoted life. The Markets entity has several layers of bespoke [fear] involved in the supporting sub sets for the [disemboweling of currencies] and most of these supporting sets are also supporting sets for the [transformation] meta data layer which will come to dominate all of 2009 in a slap-across-the-face manner for the entire planetary populace.

The [financial nightmares] which are pending for the first 12/twelve days of December are shown to contribute a large boost to the emotional sums of the [secrets revealed], and the [transformation] meta data layers. The [secrets revealed] meta data layer is indicating that the [nightmares manifest] within the [financial systems] of December will [provoke] the [questioning/abandoning/rejection] of the [numerals of officialdom] also known as [official government lies] beginning in early January. This trend is indicated to continue, especially with regard to the [transfers of debt] at an [international] level, as well as within the whole of the [american elite/officialdom] and their [minions (aka - civil service)]. The impression coming from the detail layers within this sub set of the Markets entity is that the [numbers/numerals] are so out of bounds from the [government agencies] as to [cause/present problems] in other sections of [government]. This is indicated to start a [compounding] problem in February.

A very large segment, perhaps just ever so slightly over 38/thirty-eight per cent of the new support for the Markets entity which accrues for February and on into March and Spring, is related to [gold/silver]...and not in a good way, at least for the [government/officialdom]. In fact it is sooo not good that the data sets are indicating that it is the [gold/silver revealing] which occurs over [winter], and [blossoms/grows/blooms] in early February that is indicated to actually trigger the [calls/exclamations/demand] from the [populace/usofa] for [revenge], [retribution], and [incarceration] of the [officialdom criminals] later in the year. Note that initially this small side effect of the [revealing (of the) value (of) gold/silver] starts with the [bushies] and that 'crop' of [petty_people/politicians] as [criminals], but the data sets growing as we move modelspace through 2009 show that once the [revolution] meme is let loose, the [hunt (for the) guilty parties] continues and even grows through Spring and Summer, spreading [outward] and going [deeper] into the [hidden/obscured social fabric] than ThePowersThatBe had decided to allow. This [spreading (of the) search for crimes against the people] spreads out precisely due to the [international alliances] and the [international clans] involved at the level of the [elite]. The data sets indicate that there will be [voices of protest] in late Spring and into early Summer which will come from the [new administration/guys/politicians/elites], but these voices will be rising due to their own [fears of culpability] rather than any of the stated reasons. Not that it matters. Once the [hunt for guilt] is unleashed, it is indicated to [rage] for over a year. The primary impact of the [revealing of gold/silver] will be to [flatten] or [crush] the [gov't/officialdom] within the [usofa] through the mechanism of [imprisoning/trapping] the [federal reserve banksters] and [imploding (the myth of) value of the usofa-dollar]. There are indications that the [implosion] of the [usofa-dollar] causes [duality] to express globally as most of the [dollars disappear]. The resulting [repudiation/rejection] of the [dollar] is indicated to bring a brief flurry of [hyper inflation] within the [continental usofa] as well as most of the [usofa controlled provinces/conquered territories], and the [eu zone via britain/germany/france]. However, the [hyperinflation] is not truly global in scope, and abates more rapidly outside the USofA than within it. The spill over effect of the hyper inflation of the [usofa dollar] produces [cross border tensions] with Canada and Mexico.

As the [winter (2008/2009)] moves on from the [damaging days of December], and the [implosions] and [revealings] of late January and early February, the data sets are indicating that the dominant language for both [officialdom/usofa-government], and the Markets entity as a whole will be [confusion]. This [confusion] is indicated to rise from a very basic [lack of understanding] about the [nature/core] of [current events] and [trends]. While the [officialdom] will be [charging] the [problems] being presented at a [daily] and [minute-by-minute] basis, they will fail to grasp that their every [effort] is intent on [saving a system]. Rather, it will never enter their lexicon that the [system] itself is [too big to save]. The whole of the [system] of [paper debt, american empire, dollar hegemony] is [corrupt], and [value-less], and is not capable of being [resurrected]. The end of the mega cycles inherent in the Kondratief wave, as well as the [life cycle] of any paper currency, and the first exposed [life cycle] of [digital currency] have collided to form the manifesting circumstances of the [death of the dollar] as global reserve currency. The [confusion] over the [reality] of the nature of the crisis will be apparent within [government] and [markets] until we near the [vernal equinox] late in March. By that point we should start to see some [accurate discussion] reach [visibility] within the [global mediastream]. Unfortunately for all of us, just as some of the [officialdom] starts to [get it/grasp concept], the whole [implosion] part gets moving, and things go rapidly from bad to worse.

Further amplifying linguistics indicate that circumstances emergent in early 2009 will actively [prevent] much of the [new guys/administration] from doing anything close to what they discuss. The data sets are indicating that for a while in early 2009, it will be almost a running joke with universe that [officialdom] has only to [announce] or [discuss openly] some [plans] before universe provides just the thing that will impede such a plan the most. As the whole of the [planetary crises] increases through Spring and into Summer {ed note: including the [shocking] and [disturbing] [changes in planetary climate]}, the Markets entity is indicating that [officialdom] itself starts to [manifest] the [duality] at several different levels, including [internal fights] within the [banksters (failing) system].

By the time that the planet progresses to September of 2009, the dominating aspect/attribute set for the Markets entity is [mud]. This [mud] aspect/attribute set has a number of supporting layers with diverse meanings. At the primary level the [mud] is supported by [dangerous], and further modified in that supporting set by [sticky/cloying/glue/grasping/mire], and other language for a [dangerous (time attempting) to come unstuck from the mud]. This is further amplified by lower level detail aspect/attribute sets which go to the idea of a [dangerous mud] which [breaks/corrodes/impedes] and in other ways, [clogs up the system]. In point of fact, the number of references to [system], and [systemic breakdown], and [systemic danger], are higher than ever before observed. As the modelspace and the Markets entity is progressed through the [tumultuous days] of August of 2009, the dominating aspect shifts from [drama] to [dangerous mud], and its primary supporting aspect//attribute set with both the highest emotional levels, as well as the highest [visibility] levels is [system]. The [system] sub set is indicating that September, and the onset of Fall in 2009 brings with it the [trapping (of the) system]. This sub set is participating both in the [secrets revealed] and [transformation] meta data layers. Further the [system] sub set is huge relative to the rest of the Markets entity supporting structures. Also this sub set of [system becoming mired in dangerous mud] is itself also supported by other, tangentially supporting sets for [mud/trap/stuck] which go to the idea of [attempting to push (the system) through/over the muddy patch] and these are indicated to produce a [danger (of) becoming fixed/mired]. The [danger] sub set in this supporting instance is in its turn supported by aspect/attributes which include [(system) of wealth (is) so/extremely worn-down/tapped-out/bankrupt/empty] that it will be [impossible] for [greater/continued/further withdrawals] from it. The data then changes as the entity and modelspace are progressed through September and as the supporting layers continue to add further aspects/attributes for [real/serious/manifest] and [trouble]. The data would seem to be suggesting that by Fall, the [system (of previous) wealth creation] is reduced to [begging (from the) piles of coins/jewels (other valuable commodities)].

As the modelspace is progressed into Fall 2009, the data set accretion patterns are providing a picture of [duality] run rampant and highly [visible] within the global media stream. There are indications of a [mass (of) confusion] for very large numbers of people, but those who have already entered into [bogslife (beyond organization/government systems)] will be showing up as being [touted/promoted] within the global mediastream for their [successes]. This is apparently a key time, as the data sets are showing that the [long year of transformation] reaches a [critical mass] of [transforming populace] just as Summer tips over into Fall. This time of [cascading systemic failures] and [changes (within) systems], and [destruction (of old) systems] is also set against the background of [rampaging confusion] within the larger mass of the Populace/USofA, and to a lesser extent, the GlobalPop.

Populace/USofA - Econoquake, Con(servative) fusion, Emigre's, Grand Contact, Cadre de Cognoscenti, Rough Days

The processing of this last week's immediacy value sets are indicating that some very [stressful] conditions will emerge in these first 12/twelve days of December for the [populace/usofa]. The peak of the newly accruing aspect/attribute sets from the immediacy values comes on the morning of the 12th of December, having begun is most rapid rise late in the evening (likely east coast time) on December 7th. The data accretion patterns include a number of cross links over to the GlobalPop entity where a similar [trend/wave] of [tension/stress] had begun on November 26th with the attacks on M'umbai. This [tension/emotional tension wave] is indicated by the cross links to peak in the GlobalPop entity late in the day on December 5th. The late evening of that day (12.5.2008) is indicated to be [yet another round] of [heightened/risen violence], [agitation], [fear], [danger], and [general anxiety]. This wave peaks, and then 'crests' rapidly beginning on the 6th. However, the data sets indicate that the [trend toward tension] shifts over to the Populace/USofA entity as it wanes in the GlobalPop. We do note that [war zones] will be involved in [greatly increased violence] from December 1st through to the 6th as well.

Within the Populace/USofA entity, the December 1 through 6th is showing an increase in [fires] as well as [fiery accidents], and several [largely impacting/significant cargo/carrying accidents] during these days. The modelspace is progressing almost as though the [accident] phase is a build up to the [violence], and [volatility] of the 7th through the 12th. The data accretion patterns are not looking good for [economic news] during these days, and further are indicating a very large [spill over] of [military] impacts into the [economic woes]. There are linguistic sets for a [sector] or [large cohort] of the [populace] to be [personally/directly affected] by the [violence/volatility] of these 5/five days. Noting that the actual trend line continues from the peak on the 12th all the way through to the 14th of January, the interpretation is for a 'setting the stage' series of events from the 8th through the morning of the 12th which will provide the [emotional drivers] that then last the next month at very high levels of intensity.

Much of the newly processed immediacy data, perhaps as much as 67/sixty-seven or so per cent, is participating in support for [transformation], the meta data layer, and this support raises the emotional floor under the [transformation] sub set within the Populace/USofA entity such that the interpretation of the accretion patterns is that a [seriously impacting economic circumstance(s)] will emerge against a background of [military violence], and [international discord] over these 5/five days that will be propelling the discussions within media for the next month. Further, the echoes of the [december economic quake] will be still reverberating within the [transformation] meta data layer late into 2010.

The mid [winter] impact of the [revealing (of dollar) lack of worth] and the impact on the [lying bastards of officialdom] also is indicated to have [large/huge/gigantic] impacts on the [religious right] both as a [political movement], and a self identifying sub set of the [populace]. There are repeated sets which are either directly supporting the [evangelical unburdening], or are internally cross linked to those sets, or are part of a mutually supporting linguistic set. The indications from these linguistic structures are that the [masses] of those who [self identify] as the [religious right] are going to go through some very difficult [weeks/months] in [winter (2008/2009)] as their [former hope/dreams holder archetype (Bush)] 'retires' from [power] and their perceived [nemesis/enemy] moves into the position of [authority]. The sub set of supporting aspect/attribute sets under [authority] is very key to the developing structure forecasting large changes for the [self described religious right] sub set of the [populace/usofa]. This is due to the [mental structures] and the [emotional tones] with which the [religious right] tend to [frame] their relationship with [authority figures]. It will be this [cognitive dissonance] with the [new image] of [authority] which will seemingly [prompt] the [changes in attitude], and the [feelings/emotional reactions] of [active confusion] which is indicated to [overtake] this [religiously conservative] sub set of the [populace/usofa]. The [cognitive dissonance], and the [active denial] of the emerging [political reality], as well as the [self identity/self image] problems which result from the [huge/gigantic impacts] of the [dollar implosion] and the [secrets revealed] wave that further provide [impetus/energy] for the [loosening (of the) political grip] of the [religious right] on the [political system] within the [usofa]. This [loosening] is indicated to be a [self reinforcing feedback loop] as more of the [religiously dominated (mentally)] take the [actions] of their [convictions] and [flee the country], there is a natural erosion of their already failing [grip/hold] on [politicians].

There are indications for a wave of [visible] stories in the global mediastream which will feature [crying religious conservatives] as they are seen [leaving] the [usofa]. This will apparently be something of a [media trend] for a while as lots of [crying] is indicated to be [visible] within the global mediastream from the [populace/usofa]. The data sets are seemingly describing multiple scenes of [small crowds] of [religious refugees] at various [airports] over the months of Spring and into Summer of 2009. Further descriptors are going to scenes of [receptions] at the other end of journeys as the [fears] motivate some very [dramatic] changes in the [social/political order] here in the [populace/usofa]. There are a number of descriptors which are cross linked over to the [israel] sub set of the GlobalPop which indicate that [duality] will express itself in the [relationship] between the [evangelical/religious right] movement] here in the USofA and the [israeli government] as many here will seemingly [attempt (unsuccessfully)] to [emigrate] to [israel]. This will not be an [isolated event], but rather part of a developing trend over 2009 as the [emigration wave] out of the [usofa] will be [exposing] the [lack of acceptance] in many differing [countries] that will be chosen as [refuges/sanctuaries] by those [fleeing] the [new authority] within the [populace/usfoa].

As may be expected the [installation] of the [new political authority] as well as the compounding [social/economic pressures] of the [dollar implosion] will cause a very large [alteration] in the [social order] within the [populace/usofa]. As the [paranoia] of the [religious] sub set of the [populace] causes [relocations], there will necessarily be [power vacuums] created. These [power shifts] at various levels are indicated to cause [meteoric rises] in [social positions] to a very large, and [diverse/eclectic] sub set of the [populace]. This [wave/trend (of) new authority manifesting] is indicated to be a very integral part of the overall [transformation] trend for 2009 as it propels forward a [long suppressed] and [officially oppressed] set of [voices] capable of providing [evidence] for [oppressed knowledge].

The [transformation] meta data layer is further supplied emotional energy in 2009 by the [whistle blowers/disgruntled former employees] who are indicated to be [propelled outward] into the large social order by the circumstances of the [economic collapse] and the [exacerbation (of) circumstances] of early December (2008). Not only does the [dollar/economic implosion] here in the USofA contribute, in fact, [drive/compel] the [unleashing of secrets revealed] through out 2009, but it is also directly responsible for the emergence of both the [flight (from) fear] syndrome within the [religious right], as well as causing the [collapse] of the [moneyed minions (middle level elites)]. This last includes the [dissolution] of the [lobbyist system], as well as the [failure] of large numbers of [evangelical], and [fundamentalist] churches due directly to [economic implosion] of their [donor base]. Other issues, including the [rapidly unfolding] of the [grand contact] meme in 2009, also put [large/huge/great pressures] onto the [religious power structure] globally, but with seeming special emphasis here in the USofA.

The [manifestation] or [emergence] of the [grand contact] meme, while a [pan global/omni-humanity] phenomena of 2009, is clearly, albeit temporarily, centered here in the USofA at least for the first 3/three quarters of 2009. During this time the [secrets revealed] meta data layer is expressing due to the combined [social dynamics] and [economic pressures] on the [cadre (of the) Cognoscenti], also to be referenced as [those who know (about contact evidence)]. The data sets indicate that from December of 2008 through all of 2009 the [pressures], both [personal/social], and [economic] will be [weighing down (upon) those (who have) evidence (of) contact] such that [leaks] and [whistle blowers] will emerge in a very [virtuous cycle] manner. This is to say that in spite of the [fears], both [real] and [implanted], the [relative success] of the [early whistle blowers] will further pressure [those Cognoscenti] remaining to [join the wave]. The data is indicating that this [emotional pressure (for) public redemption] will be an especially [strong influence] some time in early 2009 as the first of [3/three] of the [cadre de Cognoscenti] will [come forward] in a [visible] manner and bring [evidence]. The [sudden propulsion] to [heights of success] for these [first 3/three] of the [whistle blowers] is showing to be both [planetary] in scope, and [personally compelling] or [personally redeeming] in [effect]. Hmm. Can't wait for this. Gotta make sure we have cookies and other treats for this show.

As a further, and compounding pressure on the [government/officialdom], and thus also the [populace/usofa], the [economic disease] of the [financial infrastructure] will become such that it will no longer be possible to [siphon/re-direct] vast amounts of [money/currency/funding] into the [shadow government]. This is indicated to express itself as a meme in several ways. At a primary level we have the [secrets revealed] meta data layer in support, and with extensive cross links over to the [officially denied] sub set of the SpaceGoatFarts entity. This implies the [drain] on [resources] for the [shadow government] increases [exponentially] with [each leak/revealing] just as the [sourcing] for [funding] comes under [scrutiny] like never before due to [dollar death] and [federal government contraction]. We need to note that the [federal government contraction] as a context does not fully form until near the end of [summer 2009], and then only really gains its size and strength late in December 2009 as the [revolution] meme becomes more solidified by manifesting events globally. But, nonetheless, the [shadow government], especially that very large sub set associated with [suppressed knowledge/evidence (of) grand contact] comes under [pressures] described as so [great/huge] as to [crack steel], and [crush (combined) will/efforts]. Also within the [shadow government] sub set are fractal expressions of the [pressures] which will further drive [deep insiders] to [out their knowledge] as the [shadow government] has to [cannibalize/consume] parts of [itself] to try to [save/rescue] the [organization]. These moves are indicated to bring their own problems, and to further increase the [visibility] within the global mediastream of the [systemic rot] within the [core] of the [american elites power structure]. Please note that the data shows it will be later in 2009 before enough of the mainstream media here in the USofA [escapes bondage] enough to start to make some of these [deeper/darker] events [public] at the level of [controlled media]. The data sets indicate that the aware observer will be able to ascertain the behind-the-scenes activities by carefully watching for the [parade of personalities] who will be [refusing] to do [public work]. Many of these will be [Cognoscenti] who have some level of understanding about how the immediate future will develop, and they are attempting to [withdraw] to [places of safety]. A primary supporting set for the [places of safety] for these [middle level minions/tools of the elite] includes the idea of [dropping back into anonymous life].

Please note that these 2009 contexts are emerging within a very complicated background which itself is indicating a very rapid growth in complexity as we proceed further into 2009. Not only will the many [terra intrusions] cause infrastructure problems for the [populace/usofa] as well as the [planetary populace] in general, but the increase in the planetary knowledge base itself is also showing that it is reaching a [self reinforcing feed back loop] level as the [grand contact] meme begins to emerge and spread planet wide. As noted the complexity of the contexts virtually explodes through out 2009 in waves of [new revealings] which are followed by very short periods in which we can [digest] the [new view of universe] before being presented with yet more [perception altering information]. As the [shadow government] sub sets are indicating [stress] and [threats], there are associated linguistic threads which are focusing on a [wave/trend] toward a [renaissance] due to the [release (of) suppressed knowledge]. Hmmm. New and exotic pie recipes in the offing? As the [shadow government] sub sets begin to grow in [visibility] across 2009, so do the initial [visibility] values for the [new electrics] and the [bogslife philosophy]. The cross links back over to the ThePowersThatBe entity are indicating that this will cause no end of [anxiety] and bespoke [fear] for TPTB, and further, that some [leverage] on the [new administration] will be [moved into position] to try to [stem] the continuing [alteration of the social contract] within the [populace/usofa].

Also within the descriptors for the [social order] of the [populace/usofa] in [spring] and [summer] of 2009, and forming part of the background against which the meta data layers will play out, are indications that the [gov't/officialdom] attempts to [motivate] the [populace] in a number of ways as they [thrash around] in response to the [decaying economic situation]. This [motivation] will take many forms, including trying to [resurrect] the [new deal] thinking from the previous depression. It will not work for a variety of reasons, but a long lasting 'side effect' will be the unanticipated nurturing of [new ways of thought/organization] within the [populace]. This is indicated to express itself in September of 2009 as the first of the [success stories] of [bogslife groups] will emerge within [controlled media] and as the [government/officialdom] finally catches on (gets a clue) and decides to [promote alternative bogslife] as the only [way out]. The GlobalPop entity is indicating that there will be other areas around the planet where [bogslife] will gain a much more rapid acceptance and these will include the [former economic colonies] of the [usofa currency/global dollars] where the [collapse] happens [first] and [hardest].

The rising aspect/attribute sets for the Populace/USofA entity for the [summer 2009] include a primary descriptor set for [great/huge agitation/movement]. This descriptor set is very large and is also emotionally complex. It indicates that many emotional [currents] {ed note: pun intended} including the [rise of the new electrics], and the [break down of the social contract], and the [fleeing of the religious right], and the [beggaring (of the) shadow government] as well as the planetary impact of the [grand contact] meme are all applying emotional pressure to the [populace]. This [great/huge movement] is, in some ways, also an [echo] of the [social upheaval] meme which expressed itself within the USofA in the 1960's. Many [retro ideas] will resurface, as well as provide [platforms] for [new implementations] as the [bogslife] meme grows both in success and depth of acceptance. The [bogslife] success notwithstanding, the primary descriptor set of [great agitation] is also supported at its primary level by [disaster] which in its turn is supported by [social contract dissolution]. The net effect is to suggest that from many different levels the [populace/usfoa] will consider the [summer 2009] to be the [summer of hell] while it is on going.

As we are now processing the longer range data sets from this series, we can note that the [summer of hell] goes through [transformation] {ed note: THE central meme for the year, both concurrent to the passage of the time, and from a future history view point} to become the [fall of contention/strife]. This [contention/strife] is also indicated to [speed] or further [propel] the [loosening (of the) evangelicals/religious right's grip] on things throughout the planet. There are cross links to the GlobalPop which indicate that this effect is also noticeably seen within the [islamic] and [judean] cultures in late 2009.

As the modelspace is advanced through the Summer of Hell (here in the USofA), the data sets for the Populace/USofA entity indicate a [confluence] or [conjunction] of all sorts of themes at fractal like levels within the social order. The [confluence] is supported as a literal [confluence of rivers] which are indicated to provide [living space] for some of the [populace] as they are involved in [civil unrest], and [civil disobedience]. This reference is likely speaking to the [hoards of homeless] who will have yet to [cross the line] into active [civil disobedience] such as [defiantly squatting] in [empty buildings], and who are pictured in the imagery as [living (by the sides of) rivers] {ed note: again literal confluence within the data}. Then there are the [confluence/conjunctions] of Terra intrusions in the forms of [floods] which will also [affect thousands (of) homeless] such that yet more pressure is placed for masses to [cross the line] and begin to [participate] in the [destruction] of the [social contract] by [squatting] in [houses], and [strip malls] as the [social order] seems to [unravel] around them.

The data sets for the [summer 2009] accruing to the [populace/usofa] are now showing some levels of details, especially within the [personalities] sub set. We note that a [scholar] will emerge to [sudden social prominence] from within the [chaos] of the [social order] of [summer]. This [scholar] is indicated to be a [leader] of some significant [personal strength] during the [crowds shifting/moving/relocations]. There are also indications of a [woman/female personality] emerging as a [leader] of the [mobs] in the [eastern regions]. This [female personality] is shown as being associated with [boxes], and [documents], and [pavilions]. Further there is some support for the idea that she is [disabled] in some manner, though apparently still able to [stand] and make [speeches]. The primary support for this [female personality] is also derived from aspect/attribute sets containing references to [pavilions/halls] and to [joinings/bindings], both of which belong to the [pre-bogslife] life of this [female personality]. Further details are provided in the [visibility] sums for this sub set indicating that the [female personality] will emerge from the [street battles/confrontations], and also be deeply involved in [lawsuits/legal challenges] to some form of the [banksters]. It could also be that the [disability] will not arise until after her [confrontation], and then the wording could easily be interpreted as [providing/giving a speech (standing) with crutches (after the) wounding]. This [female personality] is described by the data sets as [brilliant/accomplished (academically/mentally)], and is [tall] in spite of the [disability/wounding].

Some of the descriptors for the [civil disobedience/unrest] of [summer 2009] could be interpreted to suggest the [mall] in Washington DC, with specific references to the [lakes] and [ponds] located nearby. Further references include a [blockade] of both [roads] and [sea-ways/channels] by the [protestors], and in spite of [government threats] the [brutality] of the [officialdom response] is [visible] within the global mediastream.

Conclusion: ALTA 909 - Part Four :- Artifacts, Clenching Sphincters, Omnihumanity Butt

Our apologies for not having additional charts in this part of the series, we will endeavor to rectify this in Part Five. Also we hope to have the greater GlobalPop interpretation in Part Five as there are a number of developments of interest in that entity's sub sets. However, the 'center of the storm' nature of Populace/USofA and the continuing global impact of the economic degradation here in the USofA have us slightly fixated at the moment.

We do note that within the SpaceGoatFarts entity there have been a number of developments of interest relative to the [liberated space/alien artifacts], and also some huge indications of pending [leaks] of [space/alien evidence], along with the soon-to-be-visible [personality] of a major [whistle blower] in this realm of [officially denied human history/space alien contact]. Events of the next few weeks may over take our ability to get back to this area for interpretation, and as immediacy data sets are involved, we are sort of 'racing time' with such interpretations. According to this entity, [winter] will be an exciting time just filled with [space goat farts] of all kinds. Hmmm. Gas masks at the ready.

Also within the SpaceGoatFarts entity are indications that some levels of [agitation (within) officialdom] around [unknown (previously)) or [undecipherable] activity in [planetary glaciers]. There are some hints that information coming out in December or perhaps in [winter] proper (post December solstice), will provide us with some clues as to the nature of the forecast [global coastal event] later in 2009.

We can also note in the larger accretion patterns affecting the ThePowersThatBe entity that the [ruling elite] of the planet is [demonstrating] greatly [increased stress] due to the [forces] that they [perceive] as [threatening to overwhelm them]. These [stressors] are significant, and by way of the cross links, many are [unexpected], with some being even [unknown] to TPTB. Further patterns of aspect/attribute accrual are indicating that a major [fear] point within TPTB is currently focused on the [minion layer] between them and the 'great masses' of omnihumanity. ThePowersThatBe are rapidly moving into a micro-management situation with the [minion classes], and many within that class have never had such an experience. This will increase the already [intense] and [un-nerving pressures] on the [minions/civil service class] as well as bring [visibility] of [problem spots/areas] to the aware observer. Wait for rising [visibility] over December, and watch for just where the [first cracks] will [appear] in the [civil service structure] in late [winter]. We suspect that linguistics in mid to late January will provide guidance as to just where the [system is most acutely failing]. I am favoring [retirement systems], while Igor thinks [military pay systems].

Noting that the [transformation] meta data layer is in 'active' mode at this time, we expect 2009 to just 'kick human ass' from the very first to last days. The [transformation] process is likely NOT calm and stable, nor probably very pleasant. This is coming year is a year we will all likely be glad we experienced after we are looking back at it from 2010. It may just be that 2009 will be the year to have kept a personal diary as it may provide future historians with personal perspective of epically transformative times. Cool, huh?!

We expect Part Five to be posted by late on Saturday, December 6th.
