Meta Arts - Life here on Terra, Usual Suspects

While the originating galaxy for the small bit of rock that omni humanity currently calls home can be debated, as in the Sagittarius B (Dwarf) galaxy, or the Milky Way galaxy, to life here on Terra, the issue is likely moot. This is due to the 2012 'alignment' with the ecliptic plane of the Milky Way galaxy. It matters not to us crawling bits out-and-about on the planet whether this is the first such alignment ever, and there after we (the planet and solar system) are forever captured, part of the Milky Way ever after; or whether the we are some strange solar system on walk about such that we periodically pass through the ecliptic of the Milky Way galaxy. Either way, on December 21, 2012, and presumably at 11:11 am, the center of our 3.5/three-point-five astronomic degree wide solar system, including all of the orbit of the 'home world', will pass into alignment with the ecliptic plane of the Milky Way galaxy. Further, at that time, the planet will be on the side of the sun such that we will have a 'face' toward the center of the Milky Way galaxy. This 'galactic center' has all those suns in direct (more or less) alignment at the ecliptic level, and thus the planet will be 'facing', for half our orbit, direct exposure to a much more energetic form of space than we have ever experienced as life, here on Terra.

The as yet to be experienced (directly) [unknown energies from space] have had a noticeable impact on the sun. Perhaps even to the recent absence of sun spots. We also now have 'scientific' validation that 'flux tube exchanges' are occurring between the sun and all the planets within the solar system. Thus it is not so far fetched to postulate an analog at the galaxy-to-sun level.

There are further indications that "it ain't your father's sun any more". The recent changes include very high levels of x-ray output without the usual suspects, sunspots as the 'cause'. There are several conclusions that can be drawn from the recent increase in x-ray and other energies from the sun, and one obvious conclusion is that humans don't know as much as we used to think we did. The appearance of the flux transfer tubes and the 'right angle' patterns on the sun are connected intimately...too bad we haven't a clue as to the how and why of these phenomena. We also can conclude that our sun is not behaving as it was forecast by the 'scientists' as recently as 8/eight years ago. The model for the sun's activity, based on hundreds of years of sunspot recordings, and hundreds of years of daily solar observation, is now in a phase of activity that has never before been observed. To further complicate the picture, all forms of solar radiation are in a state of change not before observed. We have reductions in high energy particles and other energy forms. These are coincident with the reduction in sun spots, and the reduction in the solar system surround of the heliosphere. Also coincidentally the ozone hole over Antarctica has never been larger.

The strange right angle patterns seen on the surface of the sun have included a number of platonic solid 2/two dimensional forms including squares, triangles and now more complex joining of 'right angle' patterns. We note that these are appearing at hyper dimensionally significant latitudes such as 19.5 and 33.3. Recent demonstrations of such patterns are now spanning the solar equatorial bulge from 19.5 degrees 'north' latitude to 19.5 degrees 'south' latitude. Such complex structures have never been discussed in any of the hundreds of years existent sun spot records, nor do they show up in an admittedly brief search of mythological descriptions of solar activity. Of course this latter is hardly exhausted, so such descriptions may yet be located, however it may be that the current solar anomalies are indicative symptoms of the 2012 reaching of the end of the 26000/twenty-six thousand (more or less) years precessional cycle. And we note that for the last 13000/thirteen thousand years, the solar system has been in the 'night' period of the precessional cycle if this 26000/twenty-six thousand (more or less) years is thought of as a single very long "day". At 11: am on December 21, 2012, the 'night' ends, and the 'dawn' of the new time occurs as the solar system swings into the first half of the next precessional cycle, which is to say, the 'daylight' of the Long Day, which then continues for the next 13000/thirteen thousand years.

Or so we used to think. It may be that this particular precessional cycle is different, in that in this cycle, just at the point of completion, the solar system will align with the center of the Milky Way galaxy, and may be actually captured by this galaxy. Previous precessional cycles, if we accept the idea that Terra is part of the Sagittarius constellation being subsumed into the Milky Way, would not have had quite the same form of alignment with the galactic center of the Milky Way. In previous cycles our solar system could consider to have been 'above' the ecliptic plane of the Milky Way galaxy, and as such the alignments between our sun, the earth, and galactic center would have been at an angle to the disc of the ecliptic. Not so this time as our solar system is now dropping 'down' into the ecliptic plane while also completing a precessional cycle.

It is curious that the length of our precession of the equinox is 26,000 years, which is also our approximate distance from the center of the Milky Way galaxy at 26,000 light years. It is also curious that our solar system has been described as being 'in motion' relative to the spiral arms of the Milky Way galaxy. The idea being that on a periodic basis our solar system traverses the dark bands between the spiral arms, and then aligns with a spiral arm. The mythological records including meso-American glyphs seem to indicate that these spiral arm jaunts are also coincident with precessional movements.

There are the arguments to be made that transiting the spiral arms implies that our solar system is not a part of the fixed group of the Milky Way galaxy, whether or not we are part of the disintegrating Sagittarius B (dwarf) system. The implication is that if we were part of the Milky Way, that our position would be perpetually within one of the spiral arms, though it can also be argue that we are merely shifting into a spiral arm for the first time. Either way, to b forever fixed within that spiral arm thereafter. Of course what humans do not know about galactic formation would fill, well, a whole galaxy of volumes, so the arguments either way may be worth less over these coming 4/four years as we actually observe what occurs.

Meta Data - Emotional Tension Trend Description

We will not have an opportunity to update the charts this week. We anticipate being able to have the new charts included in Part Two. However, the data set are in a great deal of flux which shifts around the date ranges from previous charting activity. We are providing a crude building tension versus release of tension language date range list below. Remember that we are in a release language period at this time. The language experienced around the global economic crises as well as the election here in the USofA are both types of release language. In the [economic] realm, the release has been of a 'negative' form with the words and phrases producing imagery filled with [active fear] a [anxiety], and [angst], as well as being of a [deep emotional content]. Noting that the language coming out around the presidential election also was of a [deep emotional content], it can nonetheless be seen that in this instance, the release was of positive nature (for the greater part of the populace globally), a which is bifurcated into central contexts of [hope], and the [redress (of) very long cycle injustices]. In both of these forms, the language also carries with it expressions of what the [politicians] call [political capital]. This idea is that th emotions of the moment, expressed within the release language, will have a carry-forward emotional component that will affect both the [behavior] in the future, as well as the [willingness] to [personally sacrifice]. Without getting in a detailed analysis of the nature of the [group emotive pressure], we note that the values showing within the language now are very similar in emotive tone t similar language found in previous generations of [global crisis], at least withi the [populace/usofa]. While the [populace] has not got a cogent clue about jus how bad things will get, there is a 'cushion' of national emotive pressure whicl will sustain the group cohesion for a number of months of true adversity. To return to the point of this bit of discussion, recall the language of these days, versus the emotional tone of September when examining the 'calendar' below.

Broad release period: now through to February 13th. (Large change, used to extend into March.)

Next release bubble (greater intensity) : November 13th through to December 19th

Following release plateau (excepting the Officialdom who have their own emotive stream going): December 19th through to January 22, 2009.

NOTE that these are merely fluctuations of intensity in the general pattern through to February 13th with the following exceptions: January 22 - sudden release increase. January 23 building tension (choppy, and in the midst of release language), January 24th (more emotional chop), January 25 (building tension), January 26, return to release language that continues unabated until February 13th.

From February 13th through to April 20th (Hitler's birthday?) is a fluctuating stew of building tension and release language. The building tension language within this period does NOT ever have a sustained period to gain significant increases before being reduced by the following release language. So the net effect on the emotional trend line is very very slowly increasing emotional tension. May be best characterized as 8/eight steps up in building tension language, and 5/five steps back in release language.

From April 20th through to June 17th, the dominance clearly shifts back to release language. The drops are precipitous, as well as continuous.

From June 17th through to July 5th the emotive tone is at a release language plateau.

From July 5th through to August 28th, the trend lines are choppy, but favoring building tensions.

From August 29th through to November 1, 2009, the planet returns to dominating release language.

Markets - Vomiting Nasties

It is becoming increasingly difficult to separate the [markets] data from the [economy] sub sets of the populace entities. In past years, the artificial nature the [financial markets] was growing as were the [delusions] about the ideas of [perpetual growth capitalism], and [wealth creation (without effort/energy)]. Under the [growing delusional mind set (money for nothing)] it was easier to separate out the various data sets. In the current processing, the [economy] sub sets within the Populace/USofA entity and the GlobalPop entity are clearly intertwined with the [death of the delusions] about the [paper debt/currency/dollar] markets.

The last 4/four decades have seen the largest transfer of wealth ever in recorded history. At a planetary level, the [paper debt] markets have allowed those who created and manage these [markets] to gain control of over 74/seventy-four percent of all planetary financial 'assets'. This has concentrated financial power into less than 1000/one-thousand individuals in a planet of over 6/six billion humans. Hmmm. Something seems out of balance there some how...

The Markets entity is indicating that Winter 2008/2009 will be exceptional not only in emergent [weather patterns] and [strange climate related phenomena], but also in the continuing of the [death of the dollar]. About 6/six years back to language that we had appearing for the [dollar/usofa paper debt instrument] we headed by the aspect/attribute set of [rejected by all]. It has taken the intervening years for us to reach this point, but we are here, now. The [dollar] indicated to take a very large [blow (against) credibility] in late November. The [blow off (of) value] is described as [stemming/emerging] from the [collapse (of the) global food/grains markets]. The [blow off] of the [values/debt] within the [dollar/usofa] is supported at many different levels by aspect/attributes which indicate that a [realization] is coming that the [mountains (of) debt cannot/will_not (be) repaid]. This [understanding] produces some of the [dollar debasement] activities in November which are further magnified by [stupid moves] on the part of [officialdom].

The [dollar degradation] over late November and into December is indicated as [good] for [gold/silver] and other [desired commodities]. HOWEVER please note that this is but a prelude to the [rise in prestige/desirability] of [gold/silver] in Winter. After the December solstice, 2008, the data indicates that [gold/silver] will be [breaking the bounds] of the [duality] which has been in place as a dominant influence for these last 19/nineteen months. These sub sets are seemingly indicating that the [delusions] and [illusions] which are [painted (on the) metals markets] by the [paper debt trades] will be [lifting]. Further, as we advance modelspace into 2009, the [gold/silver/pm's markets] sub sets are indicating that the [delusions] of [paper debt] will [cease] to have any [meaning] or [effect] relative to [gold/silver].

The sub sets of the Markets entity headed by [gold/silver] and other [precious metals] have supporting sets accrue under [gratifying (behavior)] which [follows cathartic retching]. Further there are aspect/attributes supporting [satisfaction], [passing (the) test], [freedom from restraint], bespoke [support (from) events], [good omen/signs (in the) daily news], and [accumulation (of) millions (of) small particles]. Please note that this last aspect/attribute set of [accumulation (of) millions (of) small particles] is also extensively found in the [repudiation] of the [dollar/debts] where it is primarily focused on a huge [wave of defaults] which will include [credit cards] and other [signature debts].

The sub set of the Markets entity headed by [economy] which contains the [global economy] supporting sets gains rising aspect/attribute sets of [danger] and [desist (in the) illusion]. As the Markets entity is progressed into 2009 along with modelspace, the data sets are explicitly referencing a coming time where the [comfortable circumstances] of the [hundreds of millions] will be [reduced to bitter misfortune]. This sub set is further reinforced with explicit aspect/attributes for [endless/diverse suffering], and [loss of income], as well : repeated levels of support for [loss of the currency].

There are several aspect/attribute sets under [transportation] which indicate the [wheels (stop) rolling] as a result of the [taking] of the [currencies] from the [market]. This last is likely indicating that the [repudiation] of the [dollar] will impact the [energy bourses] of the [planet]. The language around this aspect/attribute set starts to appear about January 23rd. These grow in mass as modelspace is progressed through Winter, and into Spring. A part of the sub sets which accrue in Winter derive their emotional strength from cross links over to the Terra entity where they terminate in [climate phenomena]. These continue to acquire supporting sub sets all through both Winter and Spring. The idea coming across is that not only are their [dollar death/currency disruption] issues relative to the [purchase of energies (to push the) wheels of transport], but that [weather oddities/unusual occupancies] will also be impacting the [movement/progress of transportation]. These trends are indicated to also have temporal echoes {ed note: where we revisit a large sub set of the same sorts of language} later in Summer. As a side note, there are distinct cross links from this area over to the [chemtrails] sub set of the SpaceGoatFarts entity, and also over to the [unknown energies from space] sub set. These are both termination points indicating that the [loss of the currency] will directly impact the ability of the [shadow/hidden government/officialdom of the usofa/bilderberger] to [maintain] the [illusions] of [no activity] relative to [chemtrails spraying].

Please Note: as a strange sort of temporal marker for further problems with the [usofa dollar/debt based paper] in early 2009, we have an aspect/attribute set indicating that [make-up/cosmetics] and [drugs] will appear which will be [proffered] for the [treatment] of the [skin response] to [chemtrails poisoning]. Note that these will not likely be marketed/sold under the specific language of 'anti-chemtrail', yet the data suggests that somewhere within their advertisements the language

There are several supporting sets under the descriptor of [danger], and these are going toward [favorable] as support for the modifier of [aware]. The idea is coming across that for those very very very few individuals, who are [aware of persistent/growing danger], these next few months of Winter, and Spring of 2009 will provide the [stairway] to [prominence/influence] as a result of [prescient understandings]. The data sets are indicating that some [new individuals] will be [visible] and perhaps even momentarily [lauded] for [astu understanding].

There are aspect/attributes which include [gold] specifically referenced within the Markets entity as being [subsumed] in the [backwash] of the [currency woes]. These data sets include support for [wild] and [erratic]. There are data sets for [investigation] and [personnel] which indicate that the [stressors] on [government agencies] due to the [confidence collapse], which results from the late January (26th) increase in release language, will create a situation of [power vacuum] from which [physical transfer] of [precious metals] becomes [the market]. This area begins to appear in December, around the 9th, and continues to grow through all of December and January, reaching its peak just after January 29th. There after the meme gains steady levels of support. An easy interpretation is for the [collapse of confidence in the paper trading of precious metals] which follows [erratic] and [wild] swings of extremes in the [paper dollar debt based trading arenas]. This then creates a situation in which [specialists] are required to [obtain] or [trade] in [precious metals]. The image growing in late Winter 2009 is of a total [reorganization] of the [metals trading]. These sub sets are rising against a background of [loss of the currency] as the [dollar death] meme progresses.

Other side effects of the [loss of the currency], especially the [petrodollars] aspect of the currency include a [dearth/drought] of [usofa aid] to [foreign nations] and [corporations]. The data indicates that some [rough attacks] will be [leveled] on [congress] when the [lobbyists] attempt to [push largess] through the [system]. These [attacks] are indicated to be [physical], and to include [assaults] on [vehicles] in [frustrated rage].

Part of the data sets in the Markets entity are clearly pointing toward the idea of [conversion] of [assets] to [gold]. These sub sets continue to grow with the weekly processing such that the indications are for a 'continuing trend'. The whole issue of [confidence (in) paper currency] goes [global] in early 2009, as the data suggests that the [markets] do NOT recover. The 2009 [loss of the currency] meme gets a very large emotional boost in late November, or early December (2008) which provides an [emotive base] for the [response to decay] that occurs in January/February 2009. This response is forecast to be diverse and deep, and to [forever alter/change] the [relationship] between the [populace] and the [(bloodline freaks/illuminati) elites]. It is from this point forward that the [bodyguards en masse] start to appear as a direct result of the ['radical' (from the point of view of the self-described elites) actions] taken by the [suffering populace].

Populace/USofA - Enron Redux, Small World after all, Cof

As the Winter settles in after the December 21 solstice, what had been a state of [unfinished/not yet complete understanding] about the [abysmal] condition of the US and planetary [economy] becomes [sure and certain knowledge]. This [change of mental state] comes after the [terrible (shopping) holidays]. The [personal perceptions] of the [economy] as well as the [visceral reactions (bad digestions)] created by the [lies from officialdom] in late December set up conditions for the rising aspect/attribute set of [decay] in January and through the rest of Winter. In large part the [lies] of [government] are [recognized (as) delusional propaganda]. This [recognition] of [lies from officialdom] will find some very [high levels] of [visibility] as some [televised propagandists] are [taken/shaken] from their [routine] by [on-air confrontation] with [raging citizens]. The descriptors in support of this lexical set are indicating that more than a single instance of [confrontations] will be [visible] as several such [incendiary incidents] occur over the course of about [6/six days]. During these [incidents of visible rage/frustration], the [secrets revealed] meme will become very [active] as an [on video personality] lets loose with [uncommon/unknown truth] in the midst of a [storm of epithets/curses]. Along with the [raging propagandists], there is also some indication that [theft (by) stealth] will [bring out/make public] some [hidden (operational) commands] from the [core of the propagandists]. This last is indicated to [create fires] of [rage] within both the [deceived], as well as the [gatekeepers (of the) secrets]. The descriptor sets suggest that what becomes available is perhaps a video or audio with a hint of the [enron style] conversations in which the [cruelty (of the) guilty] came out [callous words].

The [winter (2008/2009)] includes the transition to the [new administration]. The data suggests that the first few weeks of [winter] will be [producing the headache] which [seizes the new administration] as it [grabs hold of power]. The conditions for the [global economy] are indicated to [pressure] the [bushies] during their [last weeks] at such [large levels] that [internal enforcers] will [become visible] as they [attempt to stem] the [visible degradation] of the [global financial schemes]. These [enforcers] will be [word police] and their [visibility] can be used as a temporal marker for [behind the scenes/sub tabula actions/negotiations]. Most of these [contacts] will be related to [floating] the [usofa dollar] against the [new world currency system]. This [system/basket] will be [crafted] a whole lot faster than most will [imagine] and once the [agreements] are [complete], the [transition] to [new global currency basket] will bring a [shocking loss of prestige] to the [usofa dollar] so [rapidly] as to actually cause [deaths] and [debilitating strokes] in people who are [caught unawares]. The data sets indicate that the [son-of-a-dollar] will first hit global media stream [visibility] on or near the 14th of November. Though its life is [short], the [son-of-a-dollar] will have [tremendous] and [long term impacts (16/sixteen years)].

The supporting sets for the [economy] sub set of the Populace/USofA entity indicate that from November 14 {ed note: maybe as late as the morning of the 16th}, onward the previously forecast [month (lunar) of woe/continuous piling on] will set up the [winter (2008/2009)]. There are explicit, bespoke supportin sets for [bad], [terrible], [(perceived as) sudden suffering], and [long (and) dangerous storm].

On our small rock rotating in space, the affairs of humans will take some decidedly quirky turns in the Summer of 2009 and beyond. Some of these are entirely predictable, such as the 'dawning realization' on the part of the planetary populace that they have been [taken/deceived] by the [banksters]. TI [deceptions] put over by these [(self proclaimed) elite] will produce, at first, a period of [reaction to befuddlement/confusion]. This will be followed by [rage at the [induced suffering]. That in turn will be followed by [many appeals] to the [officialdom] of the [usofa-bilderberger], and the [elite/illuminati] to [turn over the guilty] for [trial]. These [demands] for [extradition] of the [financial criminals] are indicated to cause several, conflicting levels of emotional response here in the USofA.

The data indicates that a [schism] will [rend] the [social order] as the [guilty] and their [friends/clients/attendants] will be [insisting] that [no extradition] is their [banner/slogan]. This sub set of the [populace] which [desires] to [protect the [guilty banksters] from [extradition] will also include [politicians] who themselves [fear] that they are next on the list. This [group] is indicated to proceed far enough along the train of thought as to declare a [new confederation] within the North American continent. As this linguistic area is all wrapped up in the [revolution] meme, as well as the [secrets revealed] meta: data layers it provides some challenges to interpretation. It seems, at the moment, that the data is suggesting that the [confederation] goes no where, as an [education campaign] about the [crimes] effectively [chops (support) off down low]. This linguistic set is indicating that the [conditions (around) extradition] are such that the [formerly opposed] become [new converts] and are themselves a [social problem] later as they [doggedly pursue (old) criminals].

Further issues will rise with a [need] caused by [dollar defaults] for a [redesign/re crafting] of the [transportation system/infrastructure] here in the USofA. The indications are that this [new vision] for [transcontinental transportation] will be a [spring] under the [new electrics] sub set that is indicated to [lead the planet] after 2018. The beginning of the [effort/task/plan] is showing as being [visible] in late Spring of 2009, but it will be [lost/overwhelmed] in the [melee] which results from the [dollar death].

GlobalPop - Sync'ity, Default, Confusion, Shots in the Dar

The GlobalPop entity has added several new linguistic sets which are either cross linked over to, or also directly held by the SpaceGoatFarts entity. This view of the GlobalPop entity contains the Populace/USofA entity as a sub set. The largest of these new linguistic sets is headed by the aspect/attribute set of [juxtaposition/same place]. This aspect set has extremely high [observed] values. This value set is a sub set of the [visibility] value, and is indicative of the [ability to observe (the phenomena) in own settings/regular habitat]. The [juxtaposition/same place/same way] sub set is further defined with supporting sets for [synchronicity], and [in like mind/kind]. These are in their turn supported by sets going to the idea of [general increase], [large expansion], [pressures now], [responses to], [altered by], and [affected (thereafter)]. All of these, when interpreted within the framework of only the GlobalPop entity could be pointing toward [observe-able behavior changes in (self and) others around (self)] with the [behavior changes] being interpreted as a [result/response] to the [perceived exponential increase in local synchronicities]. The supporting sets have directly held, bespoke language for [exponential], which contains several layers of support for [multiple/many] th we are interpreting as being [many orders of magnitude increase in personal perception of synchronicities]. We also note that not [all (of the) populace] wi [perceive] their [increasing encounters with synchronicity] as [pleasant/beneficial]. There are many sub sets indicating that some individuals will perceive these as [good/beneficial] in their lives. Many of t individuals within this latter group will self-identify with the concept that they are personally on a [path]. This concept can be used as [separating/discerning language] by the aware observer. The building aspect/attributes in support are indicating that [conscious] and [deliberate efforts/attempts] will be made by members of this set of humans to [harmonize/blend] with the [synchronicities] being [perceived].

The [synchronistically inclined (sync'ity)] sub set does indicate that their [presence/attempts/perceptions] does not go unnoticed, and the [visibility] of the [sync'ity] set rises in early [spring 2009] after some rather striking [group synchronicity (experiments/experiences)] become [known]. The SpaceGoatFarts entity is cross linked to this sub set and through that entity, th links extend over to ThePowersThatBe entity. Further there are very clear, though sparse, cords of cross links from this sub set of the [sync'ity sensitive] through SpaceGoatFarts entity over to the FuturePop entity {ed note: seeming replaces both GlobalPop and Populace/USofA by 2018}.

As the [global economic crises] deepen over Winter, the [environmental] crise stream takes a slight hiatus in the minds of the GlobalPop entity, but by Spring of 2009, it is back, more robust than ever, and pushing against the [social fabric] with nearly as much intensity as does the [crumbling/decaying markets/economy]. There will be the predictable calls for a [global response], but this will be set against a background of the largest wave of [unemployment (globally)] yet seen, and the [crushing burden] of [sudden poverty], and [rampant starvation] (due in part to failure of [crops] due to [altering planetary conditions]). These [background issues] for the [biospheric alterations] are indicated to [place obstacles] to all [populace responses] to the [environmental degradation]. The [transportation], and [food supplies] issues, as well as the [reduction (in) perceived/experienced status] will be of the level as to [threaten governments].

The dominant aspect/attribute set for the [officialdom] within GlobalPop is for [confusion]. This [confusion] is expressly concerned with the [economic uncoupling (of paper debt based 'assets')] which is being described as [separating] the [capital] from [reality], as well as [separating] the [(former) economic engine (derivative)] from the [economy]. This area within the data sets appears to be forecasting a [spring] of a [global default] of the [derivatives]. This fits in several of the other threads by way of cross links in that it supports the [loss of the currency] and the [collapse] of several [american government agencies (due to bad numbers)]. It further is in a direct line to both the [crushing poverty] sub sets within GlobalPop, as well as later in Summer [cries for revenge/extradition].

As the GlobalPop entity is progressed through Winter and Spring, and into the Summer, there are some small, but dense sub sets which appear that indicate a [nascent/early_beginnings] of the [new electrics] inventions stream, as well as the [initiation (of the) planetary populace movement]. This last has some distinctly Buckminster Fuller-esque qualities to it as the data suggests an effort will be made for a [planetary electrical system]. This last has many descriptors for bespoke [unknown components] which likely are referring to inventions not yet made.

It is also in very late Spring that the GlobalPop entity is suggesting that [visible] (within the televised global mediastream) and [severe/shocking/significant] changes will be viewed here on Terra within the [planetary climate complex]. This area in the linguistic set is directly related to the [global coastal event] that has been previously forecast to be a 5/five months duration 'event' within 2009. The supporting sets continue to build under the [global coastal event] and as of this point, the beginning of the [5/five months] appears to come at the cusp Summer and Fall such that the [event] stretches into 2010. The anticipated arrival of the 'event' may change as the data continues to build. The data sets may also be indicating that the [global coastal event] might get underway some time before humans become aware of it. Hmmm. A stealth global coastal event....?

The cross linked sets between the GlobalPop entity and the Terra entity continue to describe the [global coastal event] in terms for which we have no recent historical analog. Thus we cannot be sure as to broader image being presented, but it is clearly not a giant tsunami affecting the planet, although just as clearly it is indicated to [affect/impact all coastal regions]. Further the GlobalPop entity suggests that it will [induce diaspora] of very large proportions, and further that the [movements] of the [peoples] will be such that [nation states] are themselves in [disarray]. This last includes descriptors for [refugees] en masse. Within these descriptor sets are also indicators that the [core peoples] that form our FuturePop entity will be [emerging] from the [diaspora] and its impacts on the global social order.

Problem areas within the GlobalPop include specific references to the [resistance] by the [old world order/monarchist states] to the emerging [planetary populace movement]. The data sets indicate that the [monarchist statist apparatus] will be using [terror words] and [labels] such as [despicable anarchists] to describe some of the personalities within the [planetary populace movement]. The data sets also indicate that the [anarchist] label will be [seized by] the [movement] and [redefined] within their [language factories]. This last is a sub set of very diverse descriptors, but within the general theme of a [sophisticated education system] based in [millions] of [active educators] who [self select] to [counter monarchist/bloodline freaks propaganda campaigns]. This area of the data cross links over to ThePowersThatBe entity with termination points in bespoke [chaos] and [confusion] as the [tools of manipulation] are [seized from] the [elites].

As the GlobalPop entity is progressed from late Spring into Summer, the [contact (with aliens/NotFromHereBeings)] sub set, as well as the [disappearances] sub sets take on very large blocks of supporting aspect/attribute sets. These supporting layers continue within the main context toward a forecast which includes not only the [sudden disappearance * (unexplainable, though officially either denied or re-labeled)] of some of the [elites], but also the previously forecast [fear of the night] syndrome in which [encounters with space aliens/NFH_beings] produces [fears] and [armed response] in rural areas throughout the planet. We have a number of clusters of geographic references for the [night terrors] that include [siberia, russia, mongolia, scotland, texas, arizona, chile, brazil, indonesia, myanmar, india] and others of lesser accretion levels. The [contact] meme itself is very complex, containing a whole range of emotional qualifiers, as well as very diverse descriptors. A meaningful interpretation of the detail layers seems unobtainable at this point due to the very wide range of descriptors as well as the numerous instances of conflicting and mutually exclusive sub sets. An impression of very large increase in [contact evidence] as well as the [breakthrough/emergence] and [corrections to the historical record] are indicated within the broader layers of support for the [contact] context. The increase in [contact] meme awareness is highlighted sub set in that it is gaining the largest amount of [visibility] within the sub set suggesting that [breakdowns] of the [barriers] to [secrets within government] begun in the [economic collapse] of Winter, will produce a dividend in the form of [masses of secrets revealed] by the previously noted [whistle blowers/disgruntled employees] who [suffer severe hardships and loss of prestige] due to the [economic woes]. This area is very extensively linked over to the NASA sub set of the Populace/USofA as well as through that area, cross linked over to TPTB. Termination points in both entities suggest that [NASA employees] will [flood] the [internet] with [revealed secrets] as they find themselves [caught/adrift] in the [unemployment wave] that rolls over the planet starting on or about December 15th. A sub set of the [secrets revealed] meta data layer within the NASA linked sub set in GlobalPop is indicating that some [secrets] exposed in Spring or early Summer, and which relate to [planetary environment changes] will emerge and actually are described as [sparking] the [night terrors] and [armed responses] of the [rural populace].

Conclusion - ALTA 909 - Part One :- New Speak, Killer Delusions

The majority of the release language period lies ahead of us. That it is now (within modelspace) tightening up to an abrupt end on or about February 13th probably not a good sign.

As the modelspace is progressed through the last of the release language in mid February, the largest accrual of supporting sets is within the Populace/USofA and within the [officialdom] sub set. These supporting sets seem to be indicating a radical shift in the language coming from [officialdom/political elites] in the direction of [candor] about the [smell/rot/stink] and just how [bad] and [how high] the [stench rises]. These sub sets are a supporting group that arrives in support of the [widening gap (between reality and government numbers)] which triggers the [shut down of the lying agencies]. This is shown to be an [international crisis] as the [lying of the government agencies] will be perceived as THE central [component] which allowed the [greenspan swindle] to occur. These areas are directly tied to the [defeat of the monarchists/illuminati/bloodline freaks] later in 2010 as the [cracks] in the [facade] allow tens of millions of people to become [educated] about these [conflicting forces] within the [social order]. There will be very [severe] repercussions for all sorts of [lower level functionaries] and [organizations] including the more social-club like [masons] and others.

Without regard to the change in the government-number reporting agencies, the new administration of the USofA social order is being forecast to hit a [wall o disasters] that so [rapidly transform (them)] that their response is to [speak truth] to the [deluded]. This, as may be expected, does not go over well. At least initially. It is always very difficult to alter a personal view of universe, and the data is indicating that the [initial cracks (in the) delusional system] are but the [necessary beginning] of what many will perceive later in 2009 as an [overwhelming wave/flood] of [past sins], and [lies] which will take [years] to [digest/internalize].

Nonetheless, the [new speak] is indicated to be the way to go as the difficulties that omnihumanity faces over these next, ever so close, and ever so short year are such that [delusions] will kill.

So, get your pies baked, plates ready, and settle in for a loooong Winter (at least it will feel that way) and the transition into the Year of Transformation (2009). It promises to be a very trying/exciting/challenging year, and the welcome to this new reality lies through these last few days of (the) Fall.
