Meta Arts - Graphemes, "Tori, Tori, Tori", Fruit & Fillings Guild

The grapheme meme has seriously expanded across all of the entity sets. We are also noticing the manifestation of the [grapheme/symbology] meme as bespoke values within the data sets concurrently with its appearance out-and-about in the world. The [grapheme/symbology] meme is a large super set of the various linguistic sub sets which house the context of [symbols (as) effective manipulators (of) reality]. This context includes the very crude representations of this idea from the past including [magic/majick], and [kabala/cabalistic rituals], and [religious rituals], and [sacraments/rites]. All of these are specialized sub sets of the larger [grapheme/symbology] meme which itself is a sub set of the [mystical/metaphysical/hyperspatial] sub set. This last includes several forms of sub sets around the idea of [Hopf's Fibration], a descriptor of some note for the broader context of [torsion fields], which have been around for a long time under a great many names as each 'discoverer' of the concept is ignorant of all of other such discoveries...and so the egg must be hatched again anew, each time. We can all thank the [illuminati/secret societies] for this particular perversion of our planetary progress.

Our data sets are indicating that the [grapheme/symbology] meme is about to [explode] into the [public consciousness] via independent media over the course of these next 8/eight months. The data sets are describing a general rising trend toward [study/collegiate examination] of [symbology] as a sub set of [participatory (new) materials science]. This particular use of the [symbols science] is in a set which has references to [developing/manifesting occurrences] of something that we have seen within the SpaceGoatFarts entity that *seems* to be a descriptor set detailing actual/material/visual [clifford tor

{ed note: no, not named after me} that will begin [interacting] with the [human social order] next year (2009).

The issue(s) surrounding the [grapheme/symbology] meme, and the appearance of the [clifford tori] are but hints as to the developing trend of [awareness (as shield)] and [anti-symbology] manifestation(s) within the GlobalPop. The [planetary populace movement], indicated to be actually forming in the [now] and to be [emergent] over these next 9/nine months, will owe its [initial power] to an [anti-illuminati ritual] which will involve [symbology] that will be [world girdling] in mere [days]. This [anti-illuminati ritual] is/will be specifically [condemned] by the [churches/religious organizations] which are [illuminati tools]. The actual [act] of [condemnation] will have a [viral backlash] as many [videographers] will [catch] the [priest] as he/they [invoke (via) symbology] a [underlying ritual majick]. This [careless secrets revealed] will be seen as both [stupid] and [arrogant]. In this case, at least 1/one of the [priests/sorcerers] involved will be [discovered dead] under [mysterious circumstances] within a [lunar month] of the [invocation (of the) ritual (of) oppression]. Again, these descriptors are but some of the many indicating that a [flush/rush/quickening] of the [effective use of symbology] will be emerging as a [new science/art] over these next months. The data seems to suggest that the [symbology as practical material world manipulator tool] meme will be with us in a very active form for decades. We have the longer term data sets bringing in language that goes to [beyond 5/five generations], or to a [saeculum] which is defined archetypically as being [about the time of a very long human life span; or 100/one hundred to 120/one hundred and twenty years].

Much of the supporting language (especially within the SpaceGoatFarts entity for the [new science of active symbology] is centered around [frequency control (of) conscious energies]. The data indicates that within the next 6/six or so months, that a [visible] example of the [frequency control (of) material universe] will be [leaked] out of [fringe science].

In our line of craziness as prognosticators, we tend to get messages from universe frequently. Unfortunately, we are usually too buried, heads down in our own focus on minutia to recognize when universe speaks...so occasionally we get the kind of message that parents usually deliver with a slap upside the head. Such a message has been coming across clearly these last months, and now the developing circumstances are starting to 'fill in' the picture (developing pun here). When universe does speak, it recognizes that humans are dumb cluckers and so has to be *really plain* about it just so that we can catch the drift. A universal theme, in which we have been unwitting participants, is about to take off globally. This theme is epitomized here with the announcement of the formation of the olympia pie bakers guild which has their first meeting as this report is being posted. This [pie guild] will not be the last (see GlobalPop.

sub set BritPop), and probably will not be as pivotal to our collective future as some of the other manifestations of this coming [centering/focal activity], but how cool. A local pie bakers guild....Igor is thrilled, and plans on volunteering in the 'quality control' area.....

GlobalPop - Splitters and sets

It has become necessary to split out some of the sub sets of the GlobalPop entity for specific analysis. We will try to maintain this against the continuing work load as we progress in these reports.

FrancoPop - Raspy Bastard's Rule(s)

We have data sets which are timed from the immediacy values, but that are dominated by the longer term value sets. These are pointing toward the first manifestations of the [planetary populace movement] becoming [visible] with the global mediastream over these next 2/two months or so, and arising from [france]. The [planetary populace movement] has taken as its anchoring data set, some sub sets within the [france populace] sub set. These are indicating the [visible] rise of a [personality] *OR* the [thoughts/writings/musings] of this [personality]. We cannot yet say if this is a case of the [resurrection] of the thoughts of a deceased [philosopher], or if it is the case of a [living person] being [brought into visible light] by developing events. In either case, the [philosophy] is the key component, as the [words/thoughts] are specifically supported as being a [viral meme] for the [planet]. This [personality] has some supporting details. These include being somewhat 'locally famous' for his 'beard and moustache', as well as [imposing presence] and [eyes] that [affect the soul]. This [personality] is indicated to be connected to the [colored/painted bridge], and is further both [unschooled] but [greatly educated]. Further this person has [suffered] in [prisons], and has [crimes] in his past that have [led to shedding blood]. This fellow is further supported by aspect/attribute sets which describe the [impact] of the [press] at the time that they [first encounter] this [personality]. The [press] will *not* like these [encounters] and is indicated to do everything in its limited power to [denigrate] and [belittle] the [bombastic bastard]. It will serve only to [edify] the [person] within the [francophone cultures] and from there, spread rapidly to the [global mediastream]. The data sets are suggesting that the [who] of this [personality] is much less important than the [what thoughts have arisen/been written], and what the [impacts] will be on [regular humans globally]. This last component has the TPTB *all* over this [personality] in 2009 in what is perhaps to be the [grandest attempt] at [smearing] that has yet been seen. Again, the data indicates that all this effort does is to actually provide the [emotional energy] needed to [focus] the [planetary populace] on this [personality] which leads to the very rapid spread of the [message] within the [suffering]. It does not bode well for TPTB. Their best bet will be to ignore the soon-to-be-manifest circumstances, but even that has risks, and TPTB are *sooo* paranoid these days that they cannot tolerate [inaction]. Further it must be noted that parts of the process of universe concerned with the accumulation and destruction of [karma] are involved here. It is our judgment, that within the upcoming [french bastard/freed slave drama] the [consumption] of the [karmic burden] which the [personality] carries, requires the participation of TPTB, *just* as their [karmic accumulation] trends are [fulfilled] in the exchange. Screwy, we realize, but nonetheless, the karmic dance of [duality] will be hugely expressed in these developing circumstances of late Winter 2008/2009 that will culminate with very high [visibility] at the [other end] of 2009.

BritPop - PC (planet changing) Pies

As noted in the Meta Arts discussion, a globally manifesting meme is emerging centered around [pies/pie baking]. The data sets for the [british populace] indicate that some of the more [radical craft baking] will occur in that country. There are indicators that the [northern counties/provinces], and those which [share language] with the [scots] will be the center of an emergent [political scandal] of serious consequence to the [collective popular agenda/social contract] in [greater britain]. At the center of the [controversy], the data sets are describing a [guild/collective] which will be [in (secret) conflict] with the [authorities/monarchy/corporatocracy]. The data sets are growing in support of a [food resistance(?) movement] which will somehow become a [cultural icon] within [greater britain] as a result of a person described as [stubborn unto death] who has a [backbone/spine (built/made/composed of) principle]. Usually these kinds of things do not bode well for the parties involved, however the growing supporting sets are presenting a [favorable (to the guild)] outcome of the [confrontation (over/involving) food items]. In the supporting sets all the way down at the detail level, this [radical craft guild] is indicated to [restore/bring/reconnect] the [ruling class] to [shame]. Further cross links over to ThePowersThatBe entity are terminating in sets suggesting that this [hated group *(by TPTB)] will [succeed] far beyond their [wildest speculation], and that they will become [global cultural heroes]. Again, part of the terminating sets of cross links are focusing on the aspect of [viral], and referencing the [shock] that TPTB get at how [rapidly] the [radical craft guild] becomes a [protectorate] of the [global populace]. This episode, or series of incidents, are temporally tied to the Winter of 2008/2009, with the largest of the growing sets appearing in late January. From that point on, the [radical guild craft] seeming goes [viral] almost [overnight]. The [shock] to TPTB comes on a particular Monday in early February when they discover that *they* are being held hostage for the [continued good health] of the [loud voices] of the [radical cra guild]. Hmmm. Probably they are making some serious, planet changing pies here. Recipes **will** be requested when they make their appearance.

The larger GlobalPop entity is also providing a focus on the BritPop sub set through the aspect/attribute sets growing in support of a [broken relationship]. This [relationship] is between the now [bed-ridden populace] and the [too ambitious man]. The GlobalPop entity has large sub sets for the [visibility] of the [guild] that is [responsible] for [bad gossip] that is then circulating. The data would suggest that both Asia, and Europe will be [entranced] as the [dramatic events] of [confrontation] and [alteration of authority] play out, again, seemingly in a [viral] manner. This last is likely pointing toward the 'stage' for these manifesting circumstances to be the internet, and its global video stream

An area of real concern is growing within the GlobalPop entity under the descriptor set of [people/tribes/groups (who) are unable to live together]. This will become a meme that will define 2009 in many peoples minds. The [unable to live together] sub set is very diverse, and actually supports the twin ideas of xenophobia, and cultural homogeny. There probably will be very large, at least very [visible] 'movements', some real, and some put-up-jobs-by-TPTB, for 'ethnic cleansing'. This will undoubtedly also split various populaces along [religious lines]. A curious note is that this area is heavily cross linked to the [unknown energies from space] sub set within the SpaceGoatFarts entity. Again a curious note, this area within SpaceGoatFarts in conjunction with GlobalPop **could** easily be interpreted as implying that the [impetus] for the rising xenophobia **does** come from rising energies from space. Hmmm. Could gurdijef have been correct about the 'energies from space' that he labeled the 'solunious' as a cycle wherein the collective human mind was 'tested' by external radiations from the sun? In his view, certain giant social upheavals existed **only** because the mass of humans just did not get the concept that their personal behavior, especially as it was summed into the giant collective behavior of the species, was directly impacted by 'energies from space'. Further he noted that those 'enlightened beings' walking around in human skin who seemingly were immune to the chaos and energies swirling all around them, had merely come to recognize the patterns, which allowed them to 'step out of the way of the forces of reality'. Thus not all succumb to the madness that solunio brings, and so there are always 'seed humans' for the next go round of karma.

The data sets are indicating that the Hell Summer of 2009 will bring out the very worst in collective behavior, and also the very best in the creative thinking of those unaffected by the swirling stew of events. These creative thinkers will be getting, somehow, and as yet not apparent, aid from the [reformed/transformed criminal frenchman], and the [radical bakers guild] from greater Britain. So while the very small minded people become wrapped up in their own reactions to increasing [unknown energies from space], there will be counter trend that the data indicates will produce some of the basic underpinnings of the [new electrics] and [reformed social contract] that will dominate the next decade and beyond.

Markets - Unwelcome Guests, Tight Words, Jumpy Critters, Dour Chins

The current state, which is to say, the current rate of increase in [visible] release language within the global mediastream as it relates to the [global financial meltdown, aka 'death of the dollar'], is indicated as continuing *at its current rates* until late in the day on October 22. This will be very late indeed, but at that point a certain 'plateau' effect is reached when the [media/press] will have used all but the most [dreaded] of language, and will be [stuck/glued] to certain by-now-cliche's. The [emotional release language plateau] is really (see chart below) more of a slightly slower slide, and it is indicated to continue within the gradient, or restriction in language until after mid November. However, to get to the [restrictions in language] period of October 23rd through November 20th (or thereabouts), we must first transit the very rough rate of increase of release language which arrives on October 10th, and continues through to the 19th. Within this area, several sets of cross links highlight the potential for Terra intrusion, most likely on the 10th. However, there are several disconcerting 'bumps' in the immediacy values which suggest that some [unexpected guest] who is not particularly welcome, will be making an appearance within the [global meltdown/death of the dollar] this coming weekend. This is to say, on October 11th and 12th. We have linguistics to support a combination of 3/three kinds of [unexpected guests] this weekend, and they are the following aspect/attribute sets: [weather related incident involving a rescue], an [assault/attack] which causes [communications (to) shred (internationally)], and last, but not least, an ['accident' (real or claimed)] which causes a [derailing]. This last may be in the political realm. However, please note that all 3/three of these [unwelcome guests] will be having their most impact at the [dying dollar party] currently involving the global 'financial system', and further that each in their own way, will contribute to the circumstances which manifest in very late November, and into/through December.

Within the immediacy value sets {ed note: 3/three days out through 3/three weeks}, the aspect/attributes for a [lock down] have [escalated]. These language sets come into their own rate of increase, separate from the [banking holiday], starting on October 13th, and increasing to a sudden break off, on October 18th. This may be the period (prior to late November) when we will experience the highest probability of some [officialdom sponsored/initiated] and [controlled] [financial system lock down].

As the [language] is put under [constraints] by TPTB, the [press/media] aspect sub sets, both within the Markets and Populace/USofA entities, and as the Pre entity, are indicating that [conscious leaks/betrays] of [secrets] will [ramp up to [visibility] within the [independent media]. Apparently what is being described is a [capturing adventure] where the inhabitants of the [video fora] are competing with each other to post snips which illustrate the [press actively betraying their masters].

Much of the [rebellion within the press] meme rising is concurrent with the [depths] of the [depression] *just* starting to be [actually/truly viewed/understood] in early to mid December. After the [relaxation] of the [volatility] between October 22 (more or less) through to about November 20th due to the [restrictions applied], the [markets/paper debt] *and* [equity/credit swaps/linked_ownership] will hit new [high levels] of [volatility] from the last week in November through the first 3/three weeks of December.

Please NOTE: The November 20th date is distinctly *soft* and may well be advancing in the next round of immediacy and shorter term values interpretations. The indications are that it *may* move forward to about mid November, which is to say the 14/fourteenth or so, but there are reasons to suspect it will not be any earlier than that.

We need to note that the [usofa-Bilderberger] which is our proxy for the [usof as controlled by TPTB/Bilderberger group] will be deep, at the [officialdom] level, in a state of [paralyzation] and [frustrations (over/from) restraints]. The [paralysis] on the [officialdom] with a specific focus on the [federal reserve criminal organization], *and* the [treasury], will manifest in *huge* impacts on both the [populace] and the [markets] over December and through to early March. The data sets seem to be indicating that the [volatility] will peak around December 15th, but from that point forward, the general mood will be [transformed] by the [realities] of just how impacting the [depression] will become.

However, noting the above, we also must report that the data sets are indicating a [daily shock level] which will continue to grow with each new manifesting circumstance from October 17th through to about February 19th. These [daily shocks] *will* take their toll on both the [emotional stability] of persons involved in [money flows], as well as the [minions/officialdom], however, as expected the larger impact will be felt by the [unaware populace].

PLEASE NOTE: Sorry for shouting, but please note that what we will/have encountered thus far within the [dollar death] meme is but the [\[amuse boche\]](#) of a long, and tiring meal of [karmic manifestation]. *Most* of the real [emotional turmoil] and [social contract destruction], both in the [populace/usofa], and the [global populace], will not begin to manifest until November 20th and beyond. Also note that once the manifesting circumstance of the [dollar death] meal begin arriving, it will seem like an [infinite courses of misery] banquet with the diners chained to their seats, unable to leave the table and hurried in their consumption by ferocious waiters anxious to lay down the next plate. Thus is [collective karma] to unfold. The data sets are indicating that something of a [contest of superlatives] will arise within the global mediastream to find *the* most fitting of descriptors for these times. Many will suggest a [financial tsunami], but that leaves out sooo much of the core of the [human suffering], and [shock to consciousness], as well as the [changes within the greater planetary social body] which will be very [visible] from late November onward. Repeating that: we have hardly begun the emotional testing by manifesting circumstances within the financial meltdown/crash. The worst of begins in late November and builds through December and January.

SpaceGoatFarts - Companions?, Bored?, Repealed

Our SpaceGoatFarts entity continues to build data in support of the [2/two travelers] who are basically on the run with [liberated/freed space-alien artifacts]. The data sets continue to suggest a rise in global media stream [visibility] for this [trek/journey] into the [contact] meme by late in 2009; perhaps as late as December, we can't tell yet, as the granularity is still growing. However we can now note that our [2/two travelers] have now gained the mor and physical support of [3/three companions] in their [journey to the west] {ec note: yes we are aware of what is implied by that particular choice of a label for the trek}. There are also now more data sets under the [alteration of extreme (negative) circumstances] which have been facing our [intrepid thieves-on-behalf-of-omnihumanity]. Apparently there are some within [officialdom] who are very much [aware/clued-in] and [tracking] the [obstacles] being placed in the path of the [journey to the west]. These [internal persons] are [feeling discomfort] about the [omni humanity betrayal] that is occurring and have [taken steps] to [provide nudges] in aid of the [contact meme]. This is specifically *not* a case of whistle blowers. The data is quiet clear that the [officialdom] persons providing [aid/succor/relief] are placing their lives at risk and are making their moves with very great [care] and bespoke [subtle gestures/slight movements].

Our screwy little 'plot' extracted from SpaceGoatFarts goes further in providing some descriptors for the [3/three companions], which we will *not* detail due to an abundance of caution, but we note that [3/three] in our use is relative and covers the [irrational sets]. Further the [companions] are to the [travelers] as the [back-up vocals] are to the [band]. These particular [vocalists] also come with their own, rather large [roadie crew]. We await further developments, and we will provide additional details as the [travelers] pass the times and actions revealed by our advance knowledge. Also the data is explicitly saying that the [companions] are always [bitching at each other], and are [generally disagreeable] to be near, but nonetheless, are positively motivated.

The descriptor sets in support of the [devices/artifacts] themselves are now revealing a [shade] of [difference] in the accruing aspect/attribute sets. These include a descriptor for [reflections] and for [pools]. Further the idea of a [strange capacity] which involves the [irrational *not* reduced to duality]. These [artifacts] are also shown to be [much more intelligent] than [officialdom] would credit, and a [strange attractor] was [initiated] as they were taken by a particular [facility]. The [strange attractor] is now also [active] according to the data, and this [natural expression (of) original nature] will be making itself known later in Winter.

The image conjured up by the descriptor set is that the [holder of the artifact] also is [grasping] the [mountain sinking slowly into the plain]. This must be way cool to handle. The details further go on to encapsulate the mood of the task with a description of the central character [first thief/liberator] as being [extremely smart] and [extremely bored]. He/she is described (way in the future) as [admitting] that [no prior thought] was [involved] in [setting the object/device free (from officialdom)] and rather [just likes to do interesting thing, and nothing could possibly be more interesting than this device/artifact]. This will become the tag-line on the [visibility] indices when the whole of the [journey to the west] meets up with the [contact] meme further in the future...that is then, not now.

The data sets are clearly indicating that the [conclusion] of the [trek against odds with the artifact] will be [mature] in late 2009, but the [visibility] sub set indicate that we will begin to see some [leaks] or [hints] of these [developing circumstances] emerging from [officialdom] and [thePowersThatBe] over late [winter] at a time of [extreme international stress].

Further growth in the SpaceGoatFarts entity occurs in large amounts under the [unknown energies from space] sub set. Most of this begins following the December solstice and continues all across Winter, and into the first few days of Spring (2009). The growth in supporting sets is within aspect/attributes for [energetic displays], and [continuance (of) flows (of) electric thunders/winds]. Other areas of growth include sub sets for [disruptions] and [discontinuity] of [experiences] within the [space industrie(s)]. The imagery coming from this la is that of [things going wrong]. The further layers of supporting sets are seemingly indicating that [things are going wrong] because the [rules have been changed/repealed].

Populace/USofA - Restrictions, Encounters, Secrets, Foo Bucks

The accretion patterns for the Populace/USofA entity take very large jumps in support of very primal/core linguistics as Fall progresses. The supporting sets are filling in around several meta data layers, but primarily the [restrictions on movement] {ed note: including the movement of money/wealth}, and the [encounters with scarcity]. Further growth occurs under [duality], from which [rebellion/revolution/insurrection] takes most of its current strength.

We note that the [restrictions on movements] *and* the [encounters with scarcity] are rising in emotional summation values very rapidly from mid October and continue through the rest of Fall. These [restrictions on movement] are very broadly supported and include [shipments], and [transportation] of all kinds of [goods], including [money]. Further the data goes to the idea of [officialdom imposed restrictions on movement] that will be [blanketing] part of the [populace]. This area is internally cross linked over to the [elections] sub set where many of the links terminate in support of the [confusion] aspect/attribute set.

There *are* several sets of aspect/attributes which *do* go to [imposition of legal restrictions] on both [populace movement] and [money flows]. These sets are not specifically focused on [martial law], but they both do include that aspect/attribute set. Further the [money flows] sub set are also indicating that the Fall will have even more problems arise from [core components] of the [economic health] for the [nation]. These are also [tainted] with links to the [Bilderberger group]. Further the Populace/USofA entity is also clearly forecasting [hyperinflation], and we must note that we have had this linguistic set in this entity for nearly a year at this point. The [hyperinflation] linguistics are supported by data suggesting that the [impacts] will be [selective] in that such things as [houses] will likely *not* be impacted, and rather the data seem to indicate a [devaluation] trend will continue to affect 'assets' which are 'fixed'. The details indicate that [food], and other select types of items will be hit very hard by [hyperinflation], *but* mercifully, the trend line is short and seems to fade somewhat in Spring. This trend reappears later in 2009, but due to different circumstances existent at that time.

An aspect/attribute set with a very rapidly growing base of supporting aspect/attribute sets, which we have labeled as [local coins/currencies/scripts], is taking a very large jump up in [visibility] values as the [winter] winds down. In the last pre-Spring days of March, the [local coins] meme grows to nearly double its current size within the Populace/USofA entity, as well as nearly the same much within the GlobalPop entity. The [local coins] meme is going to the idea of [selectively circulated local currencies] which will be [town/region] imprinted]. Some of these will be [backed/supported] by [claimable assets] including the [food bucks] that will be issued in some [regions] that will be 'denominated' in [meals/foodstuffs]. In some cases the language is pointing to very [successful] future through 2009, and 2010 as some of the early [adopter communities] of the [asset scripts] develop very sophisticated [coping mechanisms] to the [dying of the dollar-as-reserve-currency].

Conclusion(s): ALTA 709 - Part Five :- 3/Three Treasures, Bad Bread

In these times of troubles, it pays to know where to find your SOC's (self organizing collectives). The issue for all to consider is that by their nature SOC's are composed of humans, and humans are strange critters. The very core of our being is emotional reaction to manifesting circumstances, and it is this core (reputedly) that the space-aliens/NotFromHereBeings seek to control. Well, best of luck to them, as we humans know ourselves just how difficult it is to control our emotions. It is also quite apparent that most humans do not realize the [power] that is inherent in emotion. It is the *primary* source of all human energies at all (including hyperdimensional) levels. The historical evidence provides that humans who do learn to control their emotional energy such as sifu John Chang convert themselves into what is best described as a [penultimate human]. That is to say, the ethical risks taken by such humans as John Chang, themselves are part of the transformative process. But it all begins and ends in the power of human emotion. This is to say, emotion, as a manifesting wave in universe, capable of altering the continuous creation process that is its own well spring. And helping the aware fellow to drive a chopstick through a table, or shoot chi-electricity into people....

Most humans are in pretty much constant denial about their emotional state(s) and those who are examining/self-analytical will fall into one of 2/two broad categories; either they are suffering through the emotions, which is to say that they have their daily lives repeatedly affected by emotions experienced in the past; or they are in the infinitely smaller sub set that actively seeks to 'process' through their emotional luggage. In this latter group, the vast majority of its members are also 'stuck' at some point in their processing of emotional luggage. And this is but one of the plethora of challenges which confront our SOC's each day. We need to note that throughout history many SOC's are also [self destroying] as they end up with a toxic mix of personalities. And we note that frequently the humans with the most toxic potential are those with the strongest response to emotional stimuli. Soooo.... may be appropriate to consider that most SOC's will require a sifu/teacher capable of providing instruction to the powerful, yet un-disciplined, un-trained emotively active human [resources] within the SOC. Personally, I favor the idea of my SOC being self disciplining at the component level. So to aid SOC's everywhere, please note the following criteria for a good sifu/sensei....it comes from one of the best:

These 3/three treasures I guard, [love], [contentment], and [humility].
As Lao Tzu notes, only the loving can be courageous, only those who are content can be magnanimous, and only the humble have the authority from universe to lead.

Decades ago, at the beginning of the last half of the mini-political/social cycle of the 60/70's which is echoing now in many of the themes/memes of the time I had a thought to master bread making. A simple task, or so my uneducated mind thought, composed mostly of making a whole lot of bad bread, until the 'skill' should somehow transfer itself to my hands/brain, and good bread would result. Well, needless to say, it did not work that way. Oh, yes, vast quantities of bad bread were indeed produced, and sampled, then given away to any unwary species passing the door, but rarely did good bread result. At some point in the process of 'mastery', it occurred to my naive mind that perhaps producing, and tasting lots of bad bread was not enough, and that I needed to become a 'conscious bread baker' where the whole of the process was first within the mind, then within the materials, and finally within the bad bread. That led to the process of analysis of *what* made the bread bad. This approach worked, and over time, the good bread began to supplant the bad bread, until one day it became obvious that I would have to work at it to produce bad bread again. Then I moved onto pies, and specifically pie crusts. The point of it all is that when one sets out to produce bad bread, one ultimately adopts the proper attitude about the bad bread, and thereafter good bread results. Failure to cultivate the proper mental bread(s) will always continue to produce yet more bad bread.

Our current problem, that is to say, the whole global economic fizzle-out or implosion, is not that we have bad bread, but rather that the nature of the badness of the bread is unexamined, at a social collective level. Even worse, v (most humans) are not consciously participating in the examination of the bad bread, and are merely being asked to eat it. This explains the sour looks on everyone face as a whole planet of bad bread is produced for consumption. No a good time to be an eater. This brings us to the point of it all, how to find you own good bread to eat, while avoiding all the bad bread out and about.

To avoid eating bad bread, the first step is to examine the baker...not their appearance, nor even their words, but the qualities of their consciousness as bread bakers which **will** be exhibited within the totality of their life. Amazingly, it seems that all around are fractals. Not only at the meta life level of time, but also within our own lives, within the patterns which populate our hours, and either are masters of our destiny, or tools of our character development (bread baking). Sooooo... the point of it all is to note that **none** of the bread bakers out there dealing with the whole bad bread/dead dollar problem have the conscious soul of a good bread baker, and as a result, all tha we will get from this crowd will be yet more and more bad bread.

Or as many have observed much more succinctly, "the thinking that got us into this mess, will **not** be the thinking that gets us out".

Or as they say in the south, "you just can't dig your way out of a hole".

Oh, and please note, as long as the politicians keep digging, they won't discover that they are in the hole.
