Markets - RealPolitik

The immediacy data sets are indicating that the next shift in language will be towards [expressions/meanings] of [real value]. The accruing value sets are indicating that at least part of the [month (of) economic degradation] will be centered around the [discovery process] for [determining real value]. However, this is not another regurgitation of market-speak, but rather is tied via internal cross links over to the concept of [extra/beyond paper currency markets]. Further support indicates that the [concept] of [mass deceit/fraud] will be [cited/referenced] in a [visible] manner within the global media stream as the [reason] for the [use/employ] of [actual goods trading/barter] as a [method of determining value]. This idea is also very well supported within the data sets for [default]. These data sets include both [mass popular repudiation/default], as well as [specific (paper) markets defaults]. In the former case the data seems to be indicating that the [credit card banksters/cabal] will [ratchet down] the [flow] of their [paper debt creation], and the [unforeseen consequence] is that the [flow] ceases. This [flow] referenced is the [creation of currency/digi-dollars] which have allowed the 'consumer' economy to continue in spite of recent credit crisis at the inter bank level. Well, the data sets are now providing clues that the [trickle down] of the [shit storm within bankster land/paper instrument system] will now be [covering] the [daily credit business]. The impacts here are being described as bespoke [huge], and [gigantic] and [planet girdling]. As we are dealing with both the immediacy values { 3/three days out through 3/three weeks } and the shorter term values { 4/fourth week on through 3/three months } here, the range of activity for these linguistic sub sets extends out at least through 3/three months.

There are many accruing value sets in other entities which are cross linked over to this sub section of the Markets entity. The side effects of the [credit card system lock up] will include both the predictable such as impacts immediately on daily shopping patterns, as well as the unexpected, such as the [return of the children] {see Populace/USofA} as well as [starvation riots] {see GlobalPop}. Some of the more mundane ripples include the [collapse/crash] of the [restaurant trades]. Other, rather unforeseen consequences include the [firing] [thousands of lobbyists] in the USofA as their various [cabals of power] begin to [collapse inward]. The [shrinkage] of the [credit cards flow] is also indicated to [negatively affect] the [flow] of [tens of millions] of [daily transactions] within/between the [populace/usofa]. These impacts will reach all the way out to [currency exchanges] and all the way down to [convenience stores/fuel stations]. As the [credit card business cabal] begins to [seize up/lock down], the data sets indicate that [rejection rage riots] will occur spontaneously as [crowds turn into mobs].

At the other end of the spectrum of [crowds], there are numerous rumors of a new [global currency] that will probably be backed by gold. {ed note: support at least in part by the pressures on gold price, and the inability to obtain it in physical form, just as though someone is buying every ounce available via back channels while using the paper markets for gold futures to suppress the price} Our data does show something along these lines, though it will be much more successful in 2011 than in 2009. The data sets are pointing toward a [rejection] of the [new currency order/arrangement] by the [officialdom] of the [Bilderbergers (UK & USofA elitists/monarchists/bloodline_freaks)]. This [rejection] is due to factors at several different levels and includes bespoke [fears (of) arrest/seizure], as well as [fears of chaos/retribution], as well as the largest sub set which is [fear (of) loss of power structure]. This last is indicated by the newly accruing aspect/attribute sets from the immediacy data to [push] the [USofA/Bilderberger officialdom] to [oppose] the [new currency order]. This is indicated to also bring out [new alliances] {ed note: such as BRIC (Brasilia, Russia, India, China) with Venezuela, Mexico, Finland, Chile} that will be [suddenly powerful]. Bear in mind that the [power] descriptor here includes both [energy], as well as [population potentials]. Further these [new alliances] will have a [tightening bond] as the [usofa dollar] and the [derivatives monster] continue to [vomit toxins and die].

The data sets seemingly are indicating that a bifurcation in the [global economy] will [manifest] over late [november], grow in [visibility] over December and January, and then begin to [reorganize/re-arrange] the [alliance based on currency] at a global level in late January, and onward through 2009. The accretion patterns are very negative for the [usofa dollar], especially as the [last gasp of the Bushies] will be to [build walls] against [cooperation] in [economic recovery] at the [planetary] level. This [legacy of negative values] indicated to cause several forms of [economic problems] both internally to the [populace/usofa] and within the [greater bilderberger alliance].

Part of the issues confronting the [markets], especially those based on [usofa financial models] will be the [continuous rain] of [new] and mostly [bad/negative] events/news through out the rest of November and most of December. This [stream of crises] is set against a background of [rapidly developing needs] as the [dollar crumbles]. Some of the [global needs] sub set are in support of [planetary largess/charity], and the [rapid diminishment] of tl [ability] of the [officialdom/populace/usofa] to provide [aid] anywhere on tl planet. The impacts of the [bad news stream] of November/December will be significant and even [life/path altering] in [israel] and [mexico]. Further the data suggests that late January, and early February will bring to [visibility] the [social cracks/divisions] within [israel] as their [national income stream] withers radically. The [currency problems] sub sets within the Markets data all are indicating that the [officialdom of the USofA] will be [forced/compelled] to [perform] a [rapid reduction] in their [forces/armies] all across the planet beginning some time in February. This will contribute to [local currency/income collapses] as the [foreign funds flows cease]. The Markets entity has support for many other problems resulting from [usofa military base closings] including [pollution] and [damage claims], as well as [debris fields], and other [environmental destruction].

As an emotional offset to the [dollar death] meme, along with the attendant support from the [derivatives destruction] are indications that 2009 and the [bifurcation] in the [global economy] will be something of a fractal experience. Stated another way, we find that [splits] and [separate/opposite] and [bifurcation] are theme linguistics at many levels of both the Markets entity and the populace entities over 2009. In the Markets to Populace/USofA cross links as well as the Markets to GlobalPop entity cross links a certain bespoke [clarity] is the dominating aspect/attribute for the smaller sub set of the [bifurcations]. The smaller sub sets within the general [bifurcation] of the Markets entity both at the broader levels, and all the way down to the terminating supporting sets, are indicating that, in general, the [opting out/separation (from the) bilderberg economy] brings [substantial/tangible/real benefits/success] throughout all of 2009 and seemingly beyond. However it is worth noting that this [success] sub set is not [currency based/bilderberger economy based]. See GlobalPop below

SpaceGoatFarts - Misbehaving Toasters, Small Peas Please

The SpaceGoatFarts entity has been gaining supporting sets through out the current release (of emotional tension) language period. A number of inter-linked supporting areas are under the aspect/attribute set of [unknown energies (from) space]. This is a core component of the entity, and represents the [actual unknown] as opposed to the [officially denied] when it comes to [space phenomena]. The [officially denied] sub set does participate in support of the [unknown energies from space] sub set, but only as far as there will be some within [officialdom] who think they know. As the modelspace is progressed into 2009, and especially around both the vernal and autumnal equinox, it will become apparent to all that [officialdom] does not [know]. According to the data sets, 2009 will have at least 2/two instances of [mass perceptions/observation/experiences] in which [unknown energies from space] will participate. The effects of the [unknown energies from space] are apparently on the mundane level of [screwed up appliances/satellite reception/transmission], and [military thingeys going wonky]. There are also indications of [vehicle problems] and [intrusions (into) flying and planes].

The data sets growing in support of the SpaceGoatFarts entity threaten to make this into a middle level entity of the size of Markets, or Populace/USofA should the growth rates continue as they are now. These data sets are sliding in as support (in the main) for the primary definition areas of the SpaceGoatFarts entity, such as [unknown energies from space], [officially denied alien/not-from-here-beings contact], and [space based phenomena (unknown)]. Of course what is most intriguing to our tiny monkey based minds are the smaller areas of growth under aspect/attribute sets such as the [intrepid traveling thieves (of space alien/unknown artifact)], and [odd/unusual *(superlative challenging) space/inter-dimensional phenomena]. In several of these smaller growth areas the cross links over to other sets within SpaceGoatFarts entity or other entities exceed the size of the incoming supporting aspect/attributes. This form of growth where every new supporting aspect/attribute set brings with it multiple cross link connections suggests that our [epic] or [monumental] language will soon (early 2009 and onward) be manifesting on omni humanity consciousness all out of proportion to the actual event(s)/manifestations themselves. Stated yet another way (for clarity?), the data growth patterns alone (not taking into account the actual aspects, merely the meta data growth patterns) are suggesting that a series of 'reasonably' small [phenomena expressions] in 2009 will have very very very extensive, and wide-ranging impacts on the emotional perceptions of omni humanity (at least those here on Terra). This [out of proportion] component should not be minimized. What it implies from past experience with very extensive cross links is that a small event, say something like a minor fender-bender between a car and a UFO/inter dimensional craft could evolve into a [trans dimensional upset] of very large proportions. Yes, stated thus for humor, but what may actually happen could be as 'mundane' as yet-another-video of a UFO, that because of some very [small resonance point/particle of vibration], the whole incident goes [planetary] and thereafter the course of human affairs is forever altered.

There are a number of geographic references to the [middle east] at regional levels that suggest our [starting point of resonance] may well be located in the [hot spot] of the planet.

Along with the [contact] meme in support of the resonance point for a [small phenomena with very large emotional impact], the data sets are growing under the [2/two thieves/travelers] with their [liberated alien/pre-history artifacts]. These supporting layers are continuing to propel the idea that these [travelers] are [hiding out] and forced to be [very slow/methodical] in their [movements] due to [opposition] from a number of groups. The progress of the [travels] is still indicating a rise in [visibility] within the global mediastream over the course of 2009. The largest bulge of building tension values with summations for increased [visibility] begin in late May and stretch through summer into the end of November 2009. These values form a rough bell curve with its peak of accretion in late August 2009. Part of the data suggests that though there will be an increase in [visibility] it will be against a background of huge levels of activity across the planet, including large increases in the general [contact] meme so the first instances of the rise of the [visible components] of the [2/two liberating travelers] may be lost in the larger sea of chaotic news of those days. The aspect/attribute sets accruing under the descriptor for the [liberated device] are still mostly without meaning, but are growing in support of the descriptors for the [accidental use/igniting/firing/unleashing] of the [energetic nature] of 1/one of the devices. There is also support growing under the descriptors to suggest that at least 1/one device in the hands of the [travelers] is incredibly [ancient]. The descriptors for this [ancient hand-sweep/fine-ness device] suggest that the [officialdom] from which it was [liberated] had NO clue as to its actual age, and were mistaking it for a [manifestation] of an entirely different [nature]. The current [holders/hands-around] the device are also [ignorant] of both the [use], and [control] of the [device], but due to some circumstances encountered in the [mountains (of) caves], are now at least partially aware of the [huge age] of the [still potentially functioning device].

Populace/USofA - Smelly Papers, Roomies, Obo's

As the modelspace is progressed from the December solstice through January and into the last of the release language days in February, the Populace/USofA entity is indicating that the [suffering] of the [populace/usofa] will [increase dramatically/significantly]. The [suffering] is supported by both directly held values toward the [economic] realm, as well as extensive cross links over to both the Markets entity and the ThePowersThatBe entity. In all cases the supporting sets are for the [sudden], and [rapid] aspect/attributes to fade in importance, as the [crippling], and [hobbled/lame] sub sets rise in dominance.

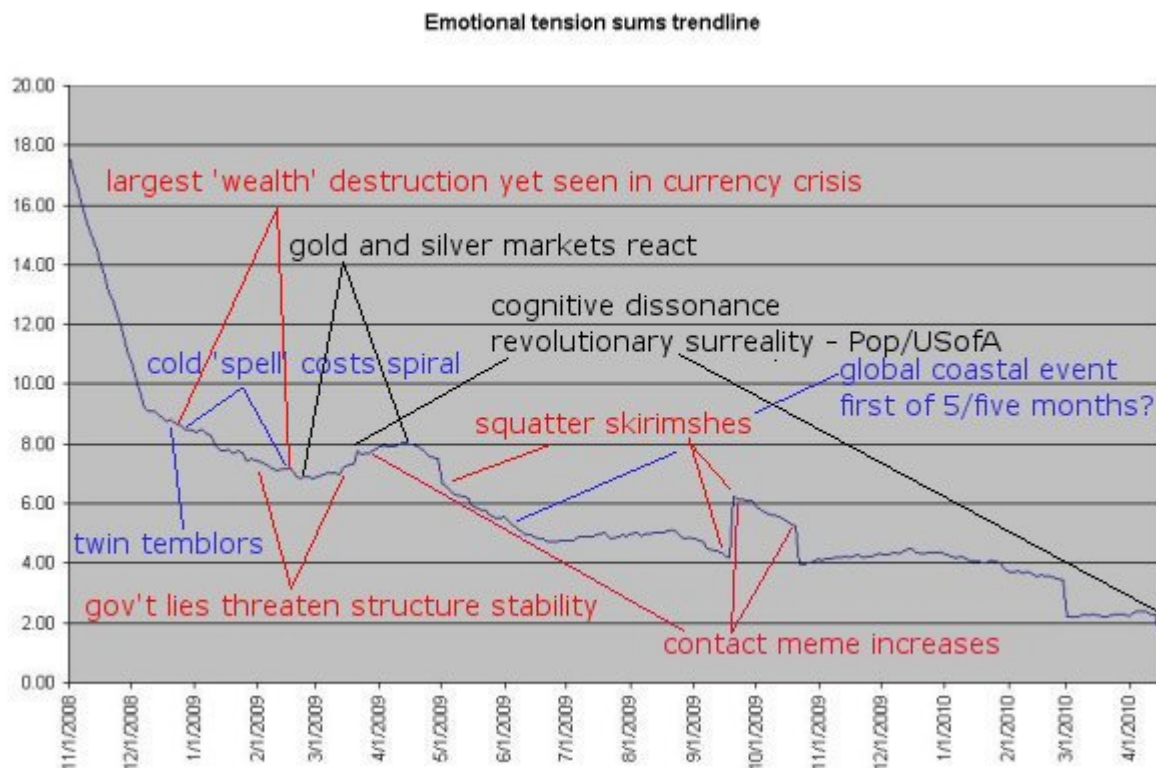

In reading the detail sets of aspect/attributes the impression is that sooooo much bad news is [appearing suddenly], that the [increase] of the [burdens daily] will be the dominant emotional flavor of the time, rather than the [shock (of the) new] as each of the [newest problems] becomes [revealed]. Said another way, when the [suffering] of the [populace] due to the [economic fraud/collapse] reaches a certain [threshold], the [rapidity] of new problems loses a certain amount of [shock value]. Again, stated yet another way, the [populace] is indicated to be [shell shocked/traumatized] to such a level by early January, that additional [sudden/rapid developments] will have less of an impact due to the [numbness] of the [populace]. Please note that this is a descriptor for the emotional impact, not the economic as the data indicates that the [economic vomiting] of late December through January will still be [impacting] very late into 2009. The [deflation] of the [derivatives monster] over Winter is indicated to [crush] the [economy] of the [usofa] over all of 2009 such that a [decade] will be required just to [internalize] the [damage]. Further the [impacts] are still showing as [persisting (for over) 4/four generations (82/eighty-two years)]

Many of the pending [repercussions] of the [derivatives collapse] have been forecast in our ALTA series for several years. Among these will be a massive [diaspora] as [millions] of [children] will be [leaving schools/universities] of all kinds and [returning home]. This sub set of the [diaspora] meme has been specifically referenced and growing within the data over this last year of reports. Now the data is filling with immediacy and shorter term value sets accruing in support of this [diaspora] sub set while also participating in support for the [default/crash (of the) credit card system]. We have had this forecast under the alternative descriptor set of [(tens of) millions of small particles] which were indicated to [go bad/stink/rot/wither] over the Winter of 2008/2009. The data sets have added several new layers of support under the linguistic set in [(tens of) millions of small particles going bad]. These new sets are providing support under the idea/image of [tens of millions] of [unemployed/unpaid officials]. These new supporting sets arrive as modelspace and the Populace/USofA entity are progressed into February. Then the supporting layers under [unemployed government officials] rises dramatically all through March and April and into May when it peaks, and then rapidly drops off. There are indications for a second wave of [reductions in force] for the [civil service class] sub set of the [populace/usofa] and it arrives late in Summer and extends all through Fall and into Winter of 2009. However, due to the other emotional values in the entity at the time, the second wave of [officialdom firings/layoffs] does not generate the same level of emotional turmoil in the [populace] as does the first.

The accretion patterns form new sub sets for the Populace/USofA entity beginning early in 2009, but with some serious levels of growth appearing from May 2009 and into the summer. Not only are such Terra intrusions as [drought and [reservoir collapse] causing [diaspora] problems throughout the lower tier of states, but the [packing/stuffing] of the [households] due in large part to the [collapse of the university system], as well as the [massive unemployment waves] of Winter and Spring, are showing as putting [pressure] on the [mental state] of the [populace]. These [pressures] are in support of the broader level aspect/attribute set of [oppression] that is rising within the Populace/USofA entity.

There are several supporting sets within the [diaspora/relocation] linguistics that suggest that the [crushing] of the [university system] over 2009 will participate greatly in the [dissolution/contention] over the [social contract] here in the USofA. Some of the supporting sets are suggesting that the [long term presence] of the [former students] now [returned to parents] will [alter pattern] by merely the sudden shift in local demographics as large populations of young people relocate throughout the populace. Further impacts are indicated to arise from [new knowledge] pushing at the [parents/elders] to [adopt nulfie (see GlobalPop below)]. This is but a small sub set of the many pressures showing on the [populace/USofA internal social order], but it is nonetheless a very significant sub set in that it has the longest level of duration sums of all of the pressures. Stated another way, the collapse of the [retirement system] and the [old federal gov't system(s)] will not be as socially impacting as having a [forced co-habitation] of these particular [generations] of [parents and children]

As noted the [forced encampment] of [disenfranchised/discarded students] will create something of a [trend] in [new social phenomena] within the larger [populace/usofa] over the course of Winter, but the main bulk of the [social displacement] wave is indicated to arrive in Spring and through the remainder of 2009 such that by 2010, the [university system] is entirely altered from what has existed these last decades. As a part of the [alteration of social order patterns] detail layer within the Populace/USofA entity, there is an interesting set under the aspect/attribute of [obsolete organisms]. This is also further defined by a plethora of variants including [obsolete old people], [obsolete obstruction(ists)], and others of similar nature. This area is cross linked internally to the [discarded student] sub set. While it may appear that this is yet another example of inter-generational conflict, the depths of the supporting layers argue for a different interpretation. This alternate view enfolds the many cross links over to the SpaceGoatFarts entity where the [unknown energies from space] sub set is the termination point. The interpretation of the whole of the aspect/attribute set including cross links is that the [cognitive dissonance] meme will resurface as [tens of millions] of the [populace/usofa] will face a [surprisingly/shockingly rapid adjustment] to the [new realities] facing the planet post [dollar death]. This will create a sub set of perhaps [millions] of [older humans] who will be unable to [adapt], or at least will [suffer delays] in getting their heads oriented to the [new life] being created around them as the [populace social order] first comes [undone/loose/fluid], before becoming [re-created]. The expectation is for the [obo's (obsolete organisms)] meme to grow over all of 2009, and well into 2010.

GlobalPop - Contention, Dead Pool, Bogs Life

As the [economic sins] of the [TPTB/Bilderbergers] become increasingly [visible] over the course of [winter 2008/2009], the accretion patterns are indicating that [new war] may, that is, just may have a chance to develop late in January, or early February 2009. The [economic sins] will be [significantly increased (in) visibility] within the global mediastream as a direct, though not causal, link from the [crash (of the) millions of small particles (credit card defaults)]. Within modelspace this [crash of millions of small particles (credit card borrowers)] progresses along with the [collapse (of the) student loan system (USofA populace)]. The [collapse of the paid university system (aka student loans)] has been forecast for over a year within our ALTA series reports. Further this is a key element in the up coming [social contract revolution] within the [USofA populace] as well as being a very good temporal marker for the [contention] that will develop [internationally] in late January. This [tension] is the direct result of the [cascading] nature of the [economic sins] traveling around the planet. The detail aspect/attributes suggest that [conditions] of [extreme poverty], and the [local collapse (of the) goods distribution system] will [precipitate] a [lawsuit/confrontation] that involves the [seizure] of [maritime assets]. Please note that the detail layers of aspect/attribute sets are very broad, quite deep, but also very diverse. This indicates at the very least that [confusion] about just what is happening on t ground locally during the [seizure of maritime assets] will [fog up/obscure] th [global perceptions] for a number of days, perhaps as long as a [week]. This is also a key element, that is to say, the [days of obscurity], as the [not knowledge], and [rumor] will [allow misconceptions] and [bad planning] to [t created]. The data sets are indicating that [hunger] is the prime motivator, and likely what is being forecast is a [raid] on some form of [shipping] which is [idled] due to the [economic sins], but which is [loaded/burdened] with [food supplies] in an area where the local populace is [suddenly] at the [brink of starvation]. The detail aspect/attributes suggest that many [interpretations] wil be [visible] about the [situation/contention] within the [maritime seizure], and that most will be [incorrect/inaccurate]. This will necessarily cause several [nations/powers] to [assume stances] that are [not appropriate]. As the modelspace is progressed through the end of January and into February, the [contention] over the [assets seizure (with maritime associations)] is indicated to [cause skirmishes]. It is at this point that [new war] becomes a [probability]

Following the [economic], then the [military] [collapse] of the [American/Bilderberger Empire] in the first half of 2009, a situation arises in which the [the powers that be (bilderberger/illuminati)] will be [targets] of [revenge] at a [global level]. The [TPTB/Bilderberger/illuminati] are indicated to lose [children] in [attacks] that are [targeting] the [elites/super wealthy] as the [planetary population] is [plunged] into a [flood of starvation] and [suffering]. The data sets are indicating that what starts off as [random acts] of [insane reaction] to [mass] and [personal suffering] will lead to the [killing] of some of the [TPTB/illuminati/bilderbergers]. These [killings] are indicated to be [visible] at very [extreme levels] within the global media stream. The [deaths/assassinations/killings] will be [characterized] within the global media stream in many different, and [misleading] terms, but the data is also indicatin that [internet discussions] of the [killings] will [appropriately] place the [death into [perspective] as [warfare] between the [uber rich exploiters] and the [already dead/suffering unto death]. There are several small detail sets of note including some indicating that the [killings] will begin in earnest in a [haven] fi the [super wealthy]. Initially the [killings] will seem to be, and probably are, [unconnected] to each other. The data indicates that a [few tortured minds] wi be [acting independently] in the first few of the [revenge killings]. The data suggests that the MSM (main stream media) will be [flavoring/spinning] the [stories] to attempt to [engender/build sympathy] for the [TPTB/elitists]. This shown as being only successful with the already [brainwashed]. As a [reaction to the [press stories] of the [various deaths/killings], the accretion patterns suggest that [meetings] will be [enjoined] at the [highest] and the [lowest] of [levels of the social order]. The [visibility] of these [meetings of the elitists/monarchists/bloodline freaks] are indicated to actually [trigger/produce just that which is most [feared] by TPTB, a [coordination] of [efforts] on the part of the [killers]. Apparently the [impact] on the [elitists] of the [deaths] will be [visible] enough to [incite] the [masses] of the [suffering] and a sort of [coordinated chaos] develops in which [individual assassins] and [groups for global change] will be working against a [list of TPTB/bloodline freaks]. This is indicated to cause the [formation/creation] of a [dead pool] at a global level in which [speculation] about [who is next (for assassination)], and the [how of it] will be expressed. Expectedly (perhaps), the [dead pool] itself is shown as being a [target] by ThePowersThatBe such that [participation] may earn [retribution] on those who [type words] within this [internet structure]. The data is less than clear, but what apparently happens is that [aids] and [assistance] is provided by [tens of thousands] of [internet conversations] as [people] who [favor] the [changes/removal of the elites] will [provide information] about [movements] and [whereabouts]. This is indicated to [prompt/produce] a [huge effort] by the [minions (of the) TPTB] to [stem/slow/reduce] the [volume of information]. The data shows that some [monarchies] will actually go to the lengths of making it a [crime] to [report any information] about the [monarchists/elitists/bloodline freaks] in any [format] in any [venue].

These data sets indicate that the [lines of division] are [clearly enforced] as a result of the [dead elites period] such that the [feudal system] of [real officialdom] becomes [starkly visible] over the [summer] of 2009. This is indicated to not only remove the [favored activities (public relations jobs)] of the [monarchists], but to also create the first of the [large groups of bodyguard] which will be seen prior to the [disappearances] becoming [visible]. The data indicates that both the [public] and the [elitists/bloodline freaks] will have [difficulties] in [establishing/ascertaining] just what is going on relative to individual [elites] who go [missing]. There are data sets in support of several [mega yacht disasters/disappearances] in which it will be impossible for the [public] to [discover] the [details] of the [disasters (how they will be reported to the press)]. There are indications that [whole vessels] will [disappear] along with the [elite] and the [private armies] hired to [protect them].

The data sets are showing that other issues will also surface over the first half of 2009 which will [pressure] the [past relationship] of the [public] and the [monarchists (globally)] such that an [egalitarian] or [anti-bloodline freak] movement gains such large levels of support that it provides the segue into the [emergence] of the [planetary populace movement]. Much of this data is hinged on the twin supporting sets of the [suffering] sub set. These very large twin supporting sets are headed by [starvation], and [mass graves]. The details are painting a picture of the impacts of the [collapse of the dollar] and the [bilderberger/illuminati] response as creating such huge [waves of suffering] that very very very few places on the planet become [safe] for the TPTB/monarchists. These data sets are rising in support of the [street riots] and [food riots] in the EU zone in late 2009 which themselves are filling in support for the [raid on the vatican] and the [unleashing] of the [deeply buried secrets]

The data sets are indicating that [battles] and [skirmishes] will be [fought] between [rival groups] of [sorcerers] and [wizards] and [magicians] during 2009. These are referring directly to the [public relations] cadres at the employ of TPTB who will be [tasked] with [presenting/reinforcing] the [crumbling view/perception] of the [global elites] as well as the many attempts to [repair] the [economic systems/frauds] which kept the [elites] at the [top of the heap].

Beginning in early 2009, around January 13th or so, but really gathering strength just prior to the Spring equinox, the data sets are indicating that a [parallel (but not equal)] track or [economy] will be forming within the [global populace]. This [bifurcated economy] meme shows, via cross links to the Pres entity, that ThePowersThatBe will be employing all forms of [control language] that they can possibly muster against this [bifurcation (by) opting out economy]. It will be a [tacit/silent] form of [tax protest] and will be declared [illegal] in many regions, but will nonetheless begin to grow substantially as Winter fades. The many [pejorative words] employed will include [illegal/underground/criminal/grey_market/black_market] and other terms in attempts to [dissuade] the [middle class] from [dropping into (this) alternate form of living]. This is a very serious issue to TPTB, as is indicated by the extensive cross links over to TPTB entity, and the number of directly held values in TPTB entity which go toward [economic contention/combat] and which terminate in a support layer for the [opt(ional) economy].

We need to note at this point that the poets amongst us will be going in [fierce frenzies] in 2009 from within this newly emerging [life method] at the planetary populace level. We have indications for all forms of new words coming from the base of [opt'ing] {i.e. = choosing the option of participation}. We have indications for [opt(ion)] being a very key phrase even within the MSM (main stream media). Further elaboration will include the [opting], as verb; the [opts] as descriptor for 'those who have opt'ed out (of the system)'. Other developing slang will go toward [v'opts] or [virgin/first time (in the new life/nulife)]. There are the contractions and conjunctions such as [optbogs] = those who have opt'ed (beyond organization/government shit).

And other linguistic groups that will include [boglife] = 'life' after opt'ing out of the bilderberger system (Beyond Organized Gov't Systems). And the [econo-me] = the 'new me/nu-me' after having opt'ed out of the old economy, and started to econo-right-size until I end up with the 'econo-me' version of me'. Make sense? Hard to characterize new slang as it is developing. These examples are an attempt to provide the flavor of the language changes showing in the data sets now.

That the newly processed data sets are pointing toward a [success] for those who have [dropped out] of the old paradigm, and have begun to [opt'in] to the [bog life] of the [post dollar/post currency planet], is not surprising given the large level of growth in the conscious expressions of the [green movement] toward this new life method on the internet. Many of these conscious expressions of this meme will be centered around the language of 'sustainability' and other 'green words'. But do not be deceived by the control language coming across from the MainStream Media (especially here in the USofA and greater Britain) as they attempt to [subsume] the [revolution] men by trying to [seize] some of the [language of revolution]. The data sets are indicating that the [bilderberger view] of [planetary control systems] in which they [manipulate] the [currencies] and [debt] of the [planet] is coming to an end. The data sets indicate that many [battles] yet remain until this [end of the control systems] is complete, but the beginning is well underway, and 2009 will be showcasing a very large increase in global activity as the [control systems] crash, and are replaced by [new inventions].

The above discussion of [success] must be taken as a relative measure. This is to say that we are no longer speaking of [mega rich] as a viable form of thinking. Yes, there are to be [planetary sensations] in terms of [personalities] but the data is quite specifically clear {ed note: even with an example of bespoke [clarity] in the supporting aspect layers} that the [new ethos/new values] will [enforce/demand] via [planetary peer pressure] the [rejection of wealth] as we understand it in last centuries context. These new [mega personalities] will not be [celebrities] as we think of them in past association with that term. There will be a number of years, very likely, of overlap as the [new method/nulife] social parameters solidify, but we can expect examples of [revolutionary personalities] to emerge over 2009, each expressing some form of [defining characteristic] and all seemingly bound by [personal poverty/resource_responsibility]. The data sets are indicating that these new [mega/planetary personalities] will be presenting some real [challenges] for both ThePowersThatBe, and their minions within the [press]. This will be especially true, and much more [visible] within the [controlled media] here in the USofA.

Conclusion: ALTA 909 - Part Two:- Escape Claws, Obvious Truth

As we are all aware, the [grand poobah's (of) officialdom], aka the G20 are all meeting in Washington DC. They will undoubtedly follow previous examples of the same sort of screwy ass thinking which produced the current set of problems. The greatest example of the 'thinking that got us here', is typified by Bush proclaiming that we "don't want to reinvent the system, just fix the parts that are broke" (or words to that effect). That they do not yet recognize that the current crisis is a pan-system crisis, or, stated another way, a cascading system crash leading to systemic network failure, is obvious. The best descriptor that we have for the current 'financial crisis' goes to the idea that 'the debt will never be repaid', and since officialdom never even considered a planet in which meg debt would not or could not be repaid, there is no in-built 'escape clause'. Rather, as there are hundreds upon hundreds of un-accounted for BILLIONS of digi-dollars out-and-about in the world with no leash on them whatsoever, the only way out of this particular form of systemic fiscal crisis, is to allow the system to crash.

Complex systems burdened with overbuilt layers of abstraction behave in unexpected, almost organic ways. From our work with complex systems in predictive linguistics, and especially the early years up to 1997, we have learned a thing or 2/two about how complexity and systemic failure can bite the unsuspecting butt. When complex systems fail, they are most likely to follow reasonably predictable patterns right up to the devastating point known as "McBride's hurdle". This is also known as the 'first is last hurdle hypothesis' in complex system testing theory. Bearing in mind that complex computer systems require a very specific protocol for testing, it should not be surprising that systems testing has become just as high an art as has complex software design. McBride's contribution to the art was the 'discovery' through research on operational failures (very large computer systems which ran, but failed to meet any of the performance standards), that every 'hurdle' or 'junction of control' in a complex system can become the 'last hurdle' if it fails in an unexpected manner. The analogy she (McBride) worked out was that unexpected (to the designers) some systems will fail in such a manner as to abrogate their own input to the overall complexity of the network, but also to continue to allow other systems to continue to operate. Thus a node is knocked out of production by the collapse of its own system, but it fails to notify any other part of the larger complex system that it had reached the BLOOEY state. So other, dependent nodes continue to operate, and here is the rub...with input values NOT being fed by the now defunct component, the operating parameters of the dependent parts of the system are both unknown, and unreliable. McBride determined that the "very first hurdle failure" in a complex network of systems needs to also be the "last hurdle" and in essence, trigger the whole of the system into "error state" until a restart or other fix can be made. We can tell from the actions of the politicians that NO human who recognizes the actual error state of our current, complex global 'financial' system is involved in this process. ALL the politicians, and so far ALL the officialdom gathered [sorcerers] and [wizards] are ALL still running their systems as the various hurdles fall.

So, since we have reached a point in the [dollar death] process where various levels of systemic rot have begun to express, and the humans involved in 'managing' the system are all too attached to their individual parts of the system or their view of the overall functioning and future of the complexity of the global financial network to see the whole for their part, what is to be done? Well, probably nothing with the exception of stepping as far out of the way of the collapse as is possible under the circumstances.

That it will take a while for the dollar to finally die, and the American empire crumble is the gap in the claws of global fiscal and social order collapse that will allow the small and swiftly moving to deftly step through to whatever 'safety' may lie on the other side. Once there, life will be very different indeed but again, there is a small grace, in that there are not yet any formulas, or restrictions on what this [nulife] needs to be other than the very basic requirements of food, shelter, et al. So we small and fleet of foot critters have the freedom to design our future as we choose...

..within the limits imposed by universe, of course. And some of those limits are still pending in a very serious way for 2009. We will examine the Terra entity in more detail later in the series, but just a note that the [global coastal event] continues to build linguistically, and it still is gaining support for the idea that this 'event' will take over 5/five months to complete. Further, at this point, the indications are for a [tidal] form of [activity]. It could be that the planet will decide to have a new ice age, and thus suck vast quantities of water from the oceans into the air to come down as cold precipitation on the various glaciers to start the whole process off, and thus have the actual volumes of the oceans reduced. Such a scenario would produce high tides which were potentially way out beyond the points of the previous lowest of tides. While such a planetary condition would have all kinds of ramifications including the reduction in habitable land due to glaciers walking all over, the would be predictable impacts on every port on the planet as their facilities would become landlocked.

Or alternatively, a glacier may decide to go walk-about off some land (perhaps Greenland) and take perhaps as many as 5/five months to do so. This then creates a sloooow increase in tidal activity which grows by the day, and with each passing high tide, creeps further into human coastal activity zones from which the low tides do not retreat. This is the pattern, with whatever as its cause, some 12,000+ years ago that was what Graham Hancock detailed in his book Underworld.

As most humans live near or in coastal zones, the impacts of either scenario could/will be socially and economically catastrophic. THAT part is very clear.

within the data sets we have growing in support of the global coastal event. This is to say, that of all of the more dire predictions/forecasts made within these reports thus far, the global coastal event is by far the largest in its summation of impacts on the planetary human social order.

And now for a rather torturous test of will power and mental stamina. Below you will find a link for the promo video of the new movie "2012 - The End of the World". It is a very interesting piece of video, with good visuals, and compelling imagery. Further it asks and answers a very key question for these times, to wit "how would the governments of the world prepare us for the end of the world?". The answer is the obvious truth. BUT, and here is the test, do not go and see this link, as you will run the risk of viewing this in the context of the global coastal event, and we have no data describing it in these terms....so far...
